SONNET 136.

From the Portuguese. Os olhos onde o casto Amor ardia Those eyes, whence love diffused his purest light, Proud in such beaming orbs his reign to show; That face, with tints of mingling lustre bright, Where the rose mantled o'er the living snow;

The rich redundance of that golden hair, Brighter than sunbeams of meridian day; That form so graceful, and that hand so fair, Where now those treasures ? -- mouldering into cla

Thus like some blossom prematurely torn, Hath young Per ection wither'd in its morn, Touched by the hand that gathers but to blight, Oh! how could love survive his better tears, Shed, not for her who mounts to happier spheres, But for his own sad fate, thus wrapt in starless

SONNET 108.

Brandas agnas do Tejo que passando. Fair Tago I thou, whose calmly flowing tide Bathes the fresh verdure of those plains, Enlivening all where'er thy waves may glide, Flowers, herbage, flock, and sylvan nymphs and swains:

Sweet stream! I know not when my steps again Shall tread thy shores; and while to part I mouth, A have no hope to meliorate my pain, No dream that whispers - I may yet return;

My frowning destiny, whose watchful care Forbids me blassing, and ordains dispair, Commands me thus to leave thee, and repine : And I must vainly mourn the scenes I fly, And breathe on other gales my plaintive sigh. And blend my tears with other waves than thine

LOVE AND ITS EFFECTS.

Selected from a dramatic entertainment called Fariety, got in Europe, in which all the characters were personated by Mr. Maywood.

Love is like honesty, much talked of and little understood; like common sence, valuable and scarce. The miser calls it a bad considerably increased when he gave the mortgage - the stock jobber, a sinking fund -the doctor a hyopochondria -the lay wer, a suit in chancery -a soldier, his parole of no longer preserve their gravity, and an

An Englishman in leve, amuses himself of the Chapel. with---the blue devils; ask him a question, I'll hold a thousand pounds to a ducat you feel insulted by his answer; for instance-" Fine Morning Mr. Bull ?"

B. I've seen thousands finer! " How are you to day, sir ?"

B. Don't know-can't tell? " What ails you, friend John?"

with my ailings?

tike him?) gets merry with Innishowen. them not; whatever employment you follow then exclaims, " Och! Sheelah! Sheelah! with perseverance and assiduity, will be my box of diamonds! my essence of cruel found fit for you; it will be your support in ty my pearl of pearls, and my flower of all youth, and comfort in age. In learning the ference of her first and second fail; Con flowers except the potatoe flower! Arrab, useful part of every profession, very modedear, why will you shut your one eye against rate abilities will suffice ; great abilities are little Terrence M'Gladdery? Havn't I generally obnoxious to the pussessors. got a gentale, commodious, lofry, nate little has been compared to a race, but the allusion mud edifice? Havn't I got a cow, and a still improves by observing; that the most furf stack to feed her with? Hav'nt I got swift are ever the most apt to stray from the an empty flower garden, full of potatoes? course. To know one profession only, is Och-an-ev I Och-an-ey! ever since you enough for one man, and this, whatever the stole my heart, I feel it banging against my professors may tell you to the contrary, is sibs, just like the pendulum of a cuckoo soon learned. Be contented, therefore, clock! Sheelah, dear, without you be mine, with one good employment; for if you unpoor Terrence, will be after dying an old derstand two at a time, people will give you maid! By the powers of buttermilk, he'll business in reither Goldsmith. just go off like the snuff of a rush lightso he will!

ber siller!

A Welchman in love, looks as silly as duty. the goals on his mountains -- refuses leak por-go pit-a pat all day !

Hurcannot work! Hur cannot play! Hur cannot sleeep ! can't pe gay !

fectioner's ice house, and a Spaniard as hot into tears, without being able to speak a I am what I am! Let us pray!" -- Episas a grill'd devil: a Lawyer in love pleads word. "What is the matter?" said the copal Magazine. away his soul, and a lovesick doctor phi-king; "what ails you?" " Ah! sire," sicks away his soul---by the bye, a doctor said the young man, throwing himself at his must be sick indeed, when he takes his own Majesty's feet, " somebody wishes to ruin physic; a musician in love, fiddles away his me, I know not how I came by this money soul, and a poet rhymes away his soul.

trade, nor married, who has not had the cow care of both her and you." pox or small pox. Such regulations have driven small-pox from the kingdom; AN EXTRACT. 1,200,000 were vaccinated in a few years. In Prussia, those who die of small-pox, are buried silently, unattended, without the tolling of bells. The discovery of vaccina- mies."-Lam. 1, 2. tion is celebrated by an annual festival. In Bavaria, all persons who neglect to be vaccinated are exposed to a fine.

Some time ago, the clerk of one of the Chapels in Birmingham, previous to the commencem at of the service, distied his hand with putting some coals on the fire, and unconsciously rubbing his face, besmeared it so as to resemble the son of Vulcan. H jurned into the reading desk, where he naturally auracted much attention, which was first line of the hymn, " Behold the brightness of my face." The congregation could honor-rand a sailor, the mariner's compass. involuntary laugh burst from every corner

IRRESOLUTION OF YOUTH

The most usual way among young men, "ho have no resolution of their own, is first to ask one friend's advice, and follow it for some time; then to ask advice of another, and turn to that; so of a third, still unsteady, a ways changing. However, every B. What the devil business have you change of this nature is for the worse; peo-An Irishman in love, (and who loves some peculiar occupations in life; but heed

A Scotchman in love, takes a pickle o' Prussia, having rung his bell one day, and longer able to read, an aged friend and bro sneeshin, frae his mull, an' whyles claws his nobody answering, opened the door, and ther in the ministry, new living, called on elbows when it disna yuk. " Hech, Do- found the page in watting asleep on a sofa. him to breakfast. Family prayer succeed nald, man! what i' the muckle deil's name's He was just going to awake him, when he ling, the portion of scripture for the day come ow'r ye noo? Fye, fye! dinna lei perceived the end of a paper out of his was read to him. It was taken out of Maggy M'Cree's pawky e'en thirl ye pocket, on which something was written; Bogatsky's Golden Treasury: " by the through ! Ruise ye !-- ruise ye, cheil!" O, his excited his curiosity; he pulled it out, grace of God, I am what I am." It was Sawney! Sawney! len' me ye'r lug a wet and found it to be a letter from the mother of the pious man's cus om on these occasions bit, my discreet frien" and keep a secret. the page, thanking him for having sent her to make a short familiar exposition on the Its no her twa gim'let ee'n, or her painted part of his wages, which had proved a very passage read. After the reading of this face, I'm courtin, it's her siller! her siller! timely assistance to her, and in conclusion, text, he paused for some moments, and then Esq. Mitamichi, J. A. Street, Fig. Westmore beseeching God to bless him for his filial attered the following flecting solil quy; power of the blind archer to be the same letter into the page's pocket. Returning to would cleave to what is good)!"...I am not power of the billion archer to be the same and so violently, that I hope to be !--- Soon, soon, I shall put Morgan ap Shones, pe very bad -hur heart the page awoke, opened the door, and enter- off mortality; and with mortality all sin and ed .- "You have been asleep," said the imperfection! Yet, though I am not what king. The page attemped to excuse him I ought to be, nor what I wish to be, nor self; and in his embarrassment, happening what I hope to be, I can truly say, I am O lufther, do, Winifred! lufther as your life, to put his hand into his pocket, felt with not what I once was - a slave to sin and And Shenkin and Winifred soon will be man and astonishment the rolleau. He drew it out. Satan; and I can hartily join with the apos-A Dutchman in love, is cold as a con- turned pale, and looking at the king, burst le, and acknowledge! By the grace of God in my pocket." " What God bestows," resumed the King, "He bestows in sleep; In Russia, no person can be admitted send the money to your mother; salute her into a school, be bound apprentice to any in my name, and assure her that I shall take male, adorned with beauty, and blest with . What difference, said the Duchess to innocence, walking forward in the path of to the Cardinal de Polignac, " is there beintegrity, which a virtuous education had early morked for her to take, rejoicing as she went with all around her. But in the midst of her happiness, unexpected calamity suddenly surprised, and precipitated her from prosperity into the deepest distress. In this trying period she enjoyed all the benefits, derived from early implanted virtue and religion. Taught by them, the lovely mourner turns not to the world for consolation --- No, she looks up to her Creator for comfort, whose supporting aid is particularly promised to afflicted worth. Cheer ed by them she is able to exert her talents; genius and taste, and draw upon industry for her futnre support. Her active virtue she thinks the bests proof of submission to the will of Heaven, which she can give. And in laudible exertions she finds a conscious peace, which the mere possession of fortune could not bestow. "While thus employed, a son of perfidy sees her, and marks her for his pray, because she is all once levely and helpless .- Her unsuspecied ling credulity lays her open to his arts, and ple may tell you of your being unfit for his blandishments, by degrees allure her heart. The snares which he has spread a last involve her; with the inconstancy of libertinism he soon deserts her, and again she is plunged in distress. But mark the dif scious integrity no longer lends its consoling this collection it is proper to aid to stem the tide of sorrow. Despair, mention, and that is, that the instead of hope, arises, without one friend to soothe the pangs of guilt - one pittying sou to whisper peace to her departing spirit-Insulted too, perhaps, by some unfeeling being, whom want of similar temptation alone has saved from similar imprudence coming character .- New-York she sinks an early victim to remorse and wretchedness," Anecdote of the late Kev John Newton. Two or three years before the death this eminent servant of Christ, when hi Anecdute. - Frederic, the late king of sight was become so dim, that he was no struck off at the shortest notice. "I am not what I ought to be! Ah! how The king stepped softly to his room, took imperfect and achieve it --- I am not what I ridge and toasted cheese-thus proving the a rolleau of ducats, and slipt them with the wish to be! I (abbor what is evil, and I

" She weepeth sore in the night - and her tears are on her checks; among her lovers she hath none to comfort her; all her friends have deal treacherously with her; they are become her ene-

In a conversation which a short time since took place upon the wonderful and various application of steam, an Irish gentleman present, who had just arrived in England, suddenly exclaimed, " It's quite entirely past all belaef; by the powers, I'll be no way surprised to find myself go. ing a hunting some morning in my own lay

COMPARISON NOT ODIOUS .--- At the house of Madame la Dunchesse de Main' he company were one day amusing them. lives by comparing and finding ingenious - "Methought I saw a young fe- listinctions between one objects and another. sween me and a watch P' -- " Madame," replied the Cardinal, " a watch marks the hours, and you make us forget them."

MAXIMS.

Live constantly in the unshaken belief of the overruling Providence of an infinitely wise and good, as well as Almighty Being and prize his favor above all things.

Accustom yourself to temperance, and be master of your passions,

Be not too much out of humor with the world; but remember, it is a world of God's creaing, and however sadly it is a marred by wickedness and folly, yet you have found in it more comfort than calamities, more civilities than affron's, more instances of kindness towards you than cruelty.

Try to spend your time useful both to whorself and others.

Never make an enemy or lose a friend unnecessarily.

We understand that about the sum of 8000 dollars, has been collected in this city towards the relief of our late President Jefferson. A fact connected with foreign merchants, particularly the French and Spanish, have to a man subscribed liberally, and with a grace of the most be-Gazette.

. The N. B. ROYAL GAZETTE, is publised e. we y TUESDAY, by GEO K LUGRIN, Printer to the King's Most Excellent Majesty, at his Office in Queen Street, over Mr Lour's Store Frederiction, where Blanks, Handbills, &c. can be

CONDITIONS

The price of this Paper is Sixteen Shillings per innum (exclusive of Postage) --- the whole to be paid in advance.

Advertisements not exceeding Fifteen Lines will be inserted for Four Shi lings and Six pence the first and One Shilling and Sixpence for each succeeding usertion. Advertisements must be accompanie with Cash and the insertions will be regulated according to the amount received.

Agents for the Gazette, -St. John, H. N. H. LUGRIN, Esq. St. Andrews, JAMES CAMPBILL land, E B CHANDLER, Esq. Sheffield, JAME TILLEY, E.q. Gage-Town, C. P. WETWORE sq. For Woodstock and Northampton, Tuo MAS PHILLIPS, Esq.

VOLUM

BY His 1 (L. S.) 1.

HOWAR

N purs by an Sixth Year Majesty, in Trade of 1 I have thou and consen appoint, and advice afore Stephen in of Entry for imported fro try, pursuan cordingly. Given Fre tho 14-1 By H

Act-of w

take due no

BY (L. S.) Lie man of N HOWARI

AP

N Pursua

by an A Sixth Year o Majesty inti: Trade of the I have though consent of Hi and I dohereb consent afores dericton and County of Y entry of Good ny adjoining the Provisions all Persons con and govern the

> Frede in the sand and i Maje By His

Given 1

BY H Sir I L. S.) Lieu mand New

HOWARD MT HE bli Province of passed by CARLETON Province, in