

6, AND

Highness... of her... her unfa... cians that... The... sired that... erem. ny... I should... was men... y agreed... nd put on... composed... ation, and... eremou... responses... or the sick... ggestion of... hishop was... pronounc... Sophia... ur the try... from agi... kissed his... ately his... nking us... Highness... and went... he appear... s that the... d borne up... e, whether... m, he real... his situ... than it had... uthorized... e observed... on hope, or... g, he was... ither I had... as he felt... en for two... acts be in... who found... t and nine... eared weak... eily in pain... ed, but the... aid wait for... g to bed at... e had anti... attendants... gainst which... eed that he... n attack of... ff suddenly... his Royal... nt, appeared... ent, and his... on after ten... ation, but... eared very... unreserved... me, as it to... ge my pos... eared not... ation for an... ot business... lly became... l to any... d came, he... King's inten... nd his Royal... hich he had... day... e of the legs... Royal High... quarter-Mas... with them as... aid an hour... sty thought... on the 27th... n, his Majes... nted his anx...

increasing danger. His Royal Highness...
He sent for me at half-past ten, and I...
I was extremely shocked at the...
ordinary change which had taken place...
night, or rather since the preceding... same hour He appeared extremely feeble... under great uneasiness from pain, but...
composed, and although suffering as much...
tered no complaint He asked me when I... come: and I told him I had...
did not seem surprized, or...
concluded he was considered...
Mr Macgregor had been three times... the night But that he felt...
I therefore brought forward a few... received his very clear instructions, which...
voice had become so feeble that I could...
cultly hear him
His Royal Highness saw the Duke of...
and Sussex, and Sir William Knighton, who... going to Windsor, and through whom he...
affectionate message to the King... of Clarence and Sussex he...
state of Portugal and other matters of...
rest The Princess Sophia was also with him...
a considerable time Between nine and ten he expressed a wish... see Colonel Stephenson and me, and we went...
him, but he said little, and...
He passed a restless night...
weaker on the following morning...
but continued perfectly...
rishment when offered to him...
clination to speak, unless...
attendants apprehended from...
ness, the rapid approach of...
to him by desire of the ph...
and two He took my hand...
kindly He said, "Here...
not worse, and I do not...
his lips occasionally but I...
what he said; he appeared...
composed, and twice lea...
seriously, the second time...
cheerful smile, and I came...
ed that his mind was free...
siness The Princess Soph...
manner in which he rous...
announced was very strik...
ness staid with him about...
continued very quiet thro...
and at half-past seven...
was going to Windsor, to g...
to the King, and to tel...
table
On the 1st of January I...
Highness had passed a very...
hours' good sleep, and...
had taken place in his...
perfectly sensible, took...
and spoke whenever rous...
a worse state; on the...
had become more favourab...
Upon the whole, the...
might linger on longer...
such was the extraordina...
constitution opposed to...
The Dukes of Clarence...
and he received them aff...
speak, and they left him...
said "GOD bless you, m... row, to-morrow," and she...
ed in the same quiet and...
out the day, and occasio...
tendants that he felt no... table I did not see him...
The report on the follo...
January, was, that the n...
that he continued free fr...
sible, though he seldom...
he had a shivering attack...
and his pulse was hardl...
ed He had been moved...
was quite himself, and...
not a frost, which was...
slightly delirious at 20...
symptoms had become...
was quite sensible at...
Sophia was with him...
knew her.
The Dukes of Clarence...
and Sussex, who came...
see him His Royal...
in the same state, ex... gradually...
very short, and...
that I and other...
ed not to take off...
wing morning...
his Royal Highness...
rallied, and appeared...
ment, that he had...
that it was...
s would...
re steady...
Highness's...
and...
Princess Sophia...
this day, the Duke...
at twelve, and...
er brother...
ing come from...
Royal Highness, he... night inquired after...

King, and requested him to assure his Majesty of...
Towards the evening his Royal Highness showed... reported to his Majesty, that he continued in the...
state, without appearance of immediate dis...
tion, but without hope. Between ten and twelve... he was very quiet and inclined to sleep
The breathing of people in Aslington-street... was the same as on the preceding day, there was the...
same propriety of conduct, the same manifestation... of affectionate interest, free from curiosity
His Royal Highness passed a very restless night... with occasional attacks of faintness and spasm. His...
breathing had become more difficult, his pulse more...
and irregular, but yet there were no symptoms... of approaching dissolution. Sir Astley Coop... and Mr. Macgregor, and...
the latter went to his Royal Highness, he... thanked him, and said he was very...
Nearly after he saw some one near him, and Mr...
Macgregor told him it was Mr Simpson, and his...
Royal Highness said Mr. Simpson is a good man...
He took some slight nourishment occasionally... and towards ten o'clock he had a serious attack of...
faintness, during which his pulse was hardly per... ceptible, but he rallied again. Sir William Knight... saw his Royal Highness, but he did not speak...
Between one and two, Mr Macgregor came to...
tell me that his Royal Highness had named me... testimony, and at last made them understand that he... wanted to see me. I immediately went to him...
I found him dreadfully changed, very feeble, much...
oppressed, and evidently unable to distinguish ob... jects clearly. Bachelor named me to him, and...
I sat down close by his right side. He looked at... me with a kind smile, took me by the hand, and...
I told him I had not left the house since I had... last seen him. He asked me with difficulty, and...
in a low, though steady voice, whether Colonel...
Stephenson was in the house. I said he was, and...
asked whether he wished to see him; he nodded... assent, and I immediately sent for him. Colonel...
Stephenson went to his left side; but as his Royal...
Highness could not see him, I beckoned to him...
to come to the right side, and I moved back, so as...
to enable him to come close up, while I supported... his Royal Highness, by placing my hand against the... back of his chair. He then gave his hand to...
Colonel Stephenson. After some interval, during which...
his Royal Highness breathed with great difficulty... and was very faint, and during which, Bachelor...
bathed his temples with Cologne water; he col... lected his strength, and said in a steady, firm... tone of voice, but so low as to be hardly audible...
to Colonel Stephenson, whose head was further re... moved than mine, "I am now dying." After this...
he dropped his head, and his lips moved for about... a minute, as if in prayer. He then looked at us... again, and appeared to wish to speak, but an...
attack of faintness came on, and his respiration... was very feeble, and he seemed so weak and exhausted... that I thought he was dying, and expressed that...
opinion to Colonel Stephenson, who partook... of Bachelor bathed his temples again, and he...
rallied, after which he again took Colonel Ste... phenson's hand and nodded to Bachelor, who...
said as he meant we should leave him.
The scene was most affecting and trying...
but yet in some respects satisfactory, as it... showed that he was perfectly aware of his...
situation, and we concluded that he had seen...
us together, as being his executors, and meant... to take leave of us. I heard afterwards... that he had appeared much exhausted by the...
effort, but subsequently took some chicken... breath and became composed, without having... any return of faintness. Towards the even... ing, he rallied again, had some sound and...
comfortable sleep, and his attendants sepa... rated under the impression that his Royal...
Highness's life would be prolonged at least...
another night.
In the course of that night he had so serious...
an attack of faintness that Mr. Macgregor... thought he would not have recovered from...
it; but he rallied again towards the morning...
of the 5th, and had taken some nourishment.
The breathing had, however, become ex... tremely difficult. About 11 Mr. Simpson... came to me to say that the symptoms of app... proaching death had come on, and that the...
medical attendants wished me to be in the...
room adjoining to that in which his Royal...
Highness lay. I brought in the Dukes of...
Clarence and Sussex, and Colonel Stephe... son, and we continued in the room, expect... ing every moment to be called in by the...
medical attendants (who were all with his...
Royal Highness) to witness his death. Sir...
Henry Halford came to us occasionally and...
stated that his Royal Highness's pulse was...
hardly perceptible, his extremities were cold...
he was speechless, and had with difficulty... swallowed a little milk and rum, but never...

ness appeared to retain his senses. O...
this, indeed, he gave proof at twelve, for...
Mr. Macgregor came in to say that his...
Royal Highness had insisted on having his... legs dressed (which they naturally wished... void at such a period) for he had looked...
him several times, and pointed at the clock...
men at his legs, and had pushed off the...
covering, thus showing his determination, to...
bring all that was required to the last mo... ment. When he found that he was unde... stood, and that Mr. Macgregor was pre... paring for the dressing, he signified his...
thanks to him with a kind smile, threw back...
his head, and hardly noticed anything after... wards.
The pulse became more feeble, the attack...
of faintness more frequent, but his Royal High... ness struggled on, and between eight and...
nine this state appeared so likely to last for...
some hours, the Duke of Clarence was per... suaded to go home, and I returned to my...
room to answer some inquiries. At twenty... minutes past nine, Col. Stephenson called... me out, and told me that he was in the la... st agonies. I hastened down, but my dea... master had expired before I could reach his...
room, and I had the comfort of learning that...
he had expired without any struggle or... parent pain. His countenance indeed con... firmed this; it was as calm as possible, and...
quite free from any distortion, indeed it...
most looked as if he had died with a smile...
upon it.
The medical attendants, the Duke of...
Sussex, Bachelor, and another servant, were...
in the room, looking at him in silence, and...
with countenances strongly expressive of...
their feelings.
Such was the end of this amiable, kind...
and excellent man, after a long and painful... struggle, borne with exemplary resolution...
and resignation, and I am confident, that...
the details into which I have entered of the...
last circumstances of that struggle, will not...
prove uninteresting to those who were sin... cerely attached to him.
MELCHIZEDEK.
After Abraham returned from the con... quest of the Kings mentioned Gen. 14. V...
15, and recovering Lot his Brother's...
Son, with his substance, out of their hands...
and gaining a complete Victory over them...
--There met him Melchizedek, King of...
Salem, Priest of the Most High God... and blessed Abraham. Likewise he brought... with him Bread and Wine; doubtless for...
Abraham and his little Army, for their...
refreshment after so great a Victory.
But, who was this Melchizedek? I an... swer; by the interpretation of his name...
King of Righteousness; By the significa... tion of the Place where he reigned, Salem...
(Peace); that is Zion his Church, men... tioned Psal. 76. V. 2; or King of Peace... by the Appellations and Titles the Apost... gives him, with his Office in Heb. 7. V...
2; or rather is at a loss to give him;...
He can be no less a person than the Son of...
God himself; for it is utterly impossible... that those Characters that are given to Mel... chizedek in Heb. 7. V. 3. should belong... to any created Being; and they can never...
appear excellent in any other being, but in...
Him who is Antegenial. Though this idea... may appear new, and foreign to the Judg... ment of our Modern and Ancient Exposit... tors; yet it appears evidently to be the...
Truth; as may be seen in a little Treatise... entitled "Melchizedek no Type of Christ... but really the Son of God Himself, appear... ing to Abraham and blessing him."--Chris... tians Grand Treasure.
The N. B. ROYAL GAZETTE, is published... every TUESDAY, by GEO. K. LUGRIN, Printer... to the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty, at his Of... fice in Queen's Street, over Mr. SLOOT'S Store...
Frederick, where Blanks, Handbills, &c. can be...
struck off at the shortest notice.