being a dying state; Mr. J. Slason, jun. of this town, having understood that the attendance of Dr. Emerson, (who was at that time with the Attorney General) was much desired, instantly mounted his horse and started off at full gallop; when, unfortunately, he had not reached the head of the town, before his horse, suddenly slipping, threw him to the ground with a most violent concussion, by which his head was severely cut; and the horse rolling over him (the ground, too, being bare and hard frozen) it is believed he has sustained a serious internal injury. We understand he has not yet been able to articulate a word. This event is the more lamentable when the kind motives which induced such fatal speed are considered, and that the person in behalf of whose life it was so promptly undertaken, breathed her last, it is supposed, nearly at the same moment of the accident.

The proceedings of the St. Patrick's Society of Fredericton, came too late for insertion in this day's Gazette—They shall appear in our next.

His Majesty's Speech, at the opening of the Imperial Parliament on the 9th of January last, will be found in another column; and we should have had much pleasure in publishing it last week, had not unavoidable circumstances prevented it.

We are extremely happy to perceive the Address of the Rev. Dr. Somerville, published in the Royal Gazette of the 11th instant, is copied entire into the City Gazette, and the British Colonist. The Courier and Star, also, take the most favourable notice of that able production.

EXTRAORDINARY.

An Ox was killed on Tuesday last in the vicinity of Fredericton, belonging to W. F. Odell, Esq., the four quarters of which weighed 1015 lbs.; Rough tallow, 120; Hide, 104; total weight 1239. This Ox was bought in May, and performed a great part of the work on the Farm from that time until October, when he was turned off to grass, and in the beginning of November, he was put up to fatten; After which he received about a bushel of potatoes per day, with much hay as he could eat, and occasionally a little oats in the sheaf.

We have been gratified with a sight of the Panoramic view of St. John, and venture to pronounce it correct...the perspective in particular, is well managed. We understand the Public may have an opportunity of seeing the same at the Golden Ball at any time after Wednesday next.

We have been obliged to postpone our extracts from the Journals of the House of Assembly this week—They will be continued in our next.

From the City Gazette, March 19.

The following article, kindly furnished by a respectable Gentleman, will, we have no doubt, be read with interest. It has a favorable aspect towards our Agricultural Institutions, and is intended to foster and to increase that zeal in the cause of Agricultural operations, which has so happily been excited. It is truly pleasing and encouraging to find, that the Institutions formed in this Province, for the purpose of exciting our zeal, and promoting our improvement in that department of affairs, have so far been highly beneficial to the Country, and that they have attracted the affectionate and respectful notice of kindred institutions, under the management and direction of men of high rank and intelligence in the United Kingdom. And this circumstance may lead us to hope, that in future correspondence, the interchange of ideas, will enable us to derive essential benefit from their science, and the results of their experiments.

[ED. GAZ.]

We observe by an Edinburgh paper of the 6th December, that a great deal of interest had been excited by the Agricultural Meeting and Cattle Show of the Highland Society, which was attended by an
