

been mutually communicated as aforesaid, shall without any addition, subtraction, or alteration whatsoever, be jointly and simultaneously delivered in to the arbitrating Sovereign or State, within two years after the exchange of ratifications of this Convention, unless the arbiter should not, within that time, have consented to act as such; in which case all the said statements, papers, and maps, and documents, shall be laid before him within six months after the time when he shall have consented so to act. No other statements, papers, maps, or documents, shall ever be laid before the arbiter, except as hereinafter provided.

Art. VI. In order to facilitate the attainment of a just and sound decision on the part of the arbiter, it is agreed that, in case the said arbiter should desire further elucidation or evidence, in regard to any specific point contained in any of the said statements submitted to him, the requisition for such elucidation or evidence, shall be simultaneously made to both parties, who shall thereupon be permitted to bring further evidence if required, and to make, each, a written reply to the specific questions submitted by the said arbiter, but no farther; and such evidence and replies shall be immediately communicated by each party to the other.

And in case the arbiter should find topographical evidence, laid, as aforesaid before him, insufficient for the purpose of a sound and just decision, he shall have the power of ordering additional surveys to be made of any portions of the disputed boundary line, or territory, as he may think fit; which surveys shall be made at the joint expense of the contracting parties, and be considered as conclusive by them.

Art. VII. The decision of the arbiter, when given, shall be taken as final and conclusive, and it shall be carried, without reserve, into immediate effect, by Commissioners appointed for that purpose by the contracting parties.

Art. VIII. This convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications shall be exchanged in nine months from the date thereof or sooner, if possible.

In witness whereof, we, the respective Plenipotentiaries, have signed the same, and have affixed thereto the seals of our Arms.

Done at London, the twenty-ninth day of September, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven.

CHARLES GBANT, [L. S.]
HENRY UNWIN ADDINGTON, [L. S.]
ALBERT GALLATIN, [L. S.]

And whereas the said Convention has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications of the same were exchanged at London on the second day of April, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight, by Wm. Beach Lawrence, Charge d'Affairs of the United States at the Court of his Britannic Majesty, and the Rt. Hon. Charles Grant, and Henry Unwin Addington, Esq., on the part of their respective Governments:

Now, therefore, be it known, that I, John Quincy Adams, President of the United States of America, have caused the said Convention to be made public, to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled, with good faith, by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, this fifteenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and twenty-eight, and of the Independence of the United States, the fifty-second.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS.

By the President, H. CLAY, Secretary of State.

LONDON, April 27.

We regret to hear, that the opposition offered by the Earl of Eldon to the Corporation and Test Acts' Repeal Bill, was agreeably entertained in an illustrious quarter, and that the Duke of Wellington, after having in vain attempted, upon grounds of expediency and policy, to remove the conscientious scruples of the great personage alluded to, was under the necessity of convening a Cabinet Council, at which it was resolved, that the opposition offered by the Venerable Ex-Chancellor, was totally uncalled for by circumstances, and that His Lordship should have no support from the Cabinet. We are informed, that, after the Council had broken up, the Lord Chancellor waited on the King for the purpose of assuring

His Majesty that it was the unanimous opinion of his advisers, that there was nothing in the bill, to which they had given their support, which could render the amendments of the Earl of Eldon at all necessary, but, on the contrary, that they were calculated to keep up a spirit of excitement, which it was on every account prudent to avoid.—Sphinx.

THE subscriber begs leave to inform the public that it is his intention to bring his business to a close: he therefore requests all persons indebted to him, and particularly those whose accounts are of long standing, to call and settle without delay; and those to whom he is indebted to send in their accounts for adjustment.

WILLIAM MILLER.
