

have endeavoured to qualify myself to execute, to the best of my powers, the duties with which I am intrusted, I find, at every step, much reason to remark, (notwithstanding the great calamity and depression of recent times,) how favoured the Land, how fortunate the People, who, with constituents of prosperity such as these, are called to improve them under circumstances so greatly to their own advantage! and I am sure that, first, with devout sentiments of thankfulness to the Almighty Dispenser of all Good, you fully appreciate those blessings, and are grateful for the other advantages you enjoy.

In a position one of the least remote from the parent State; and remarkably favoured, in productions as well as in localities, for constant and mutually advantageous intercourse with her, and with other of her Colonies.—Protected by her power, and free to participate in the benefits of her extended commerce, which she adapts with special regard to the interests of these Possessions.—With a rich and fertile soil, over which cultivation and its attendant benefits, are gradually extending their comforts and their blessings; or, where still in a virgin state, abounding with valuable productions which will long enable this Province to contribute to the commercial and maritime greatness of the Empire, and, at the same time, if properly managed, improve her own condition and enrich herself.—Intersected with Rivers, and other water-communications, extending, from near the center where this Capital is fast rising in consideration and importance, to every part of the Seaboard, where, at the Estuaries of noble Rivers, a flourishing and populous City, thriving Towns, and dense Communities, about to become such, have already arisen.—Surrounded by Seas, teeming with sources of future wealth and power; and not deficient, in the more unexplored recesses of her Soil, of other inherent resources, which, at a suitable season, it will become prudent and productive to develop.—Enjoying all the rights and privileges of British Subjects, under the Paternal Government of our Most Gracious Sovereign, and a wise system of Laws, framed by yourselves, administered at the charge of your generous and affectionate Parent.—With capabilities of high statistical value, such as these, in the possession of a hardy, loyal, industrious and well disposed population, I hold not too high the advantages which you may secure to yourselves, and transmit to your descendants; nor indulge too freely in the hope and expectation, that New-Brunswick shall flourish in no common degree, if her inhabitants continue to show that they know how to estimate the blessings, and improve the advantages they possess; and if proper measures be taken, by all on whom it may depend, to promote and secure them.

EXTRACTS FROM THE JOURNALS.

Wednesday, December 10.

Whereas Mr. Speaker has announced to the House his acceptance of the Office of Treasurer of the Province, and conceiving that the situation is incompatible with that of a Member of this House, requests that his seat should be vacated; and the House concurring in Mr. Speaker's opinion on this subject, do comply with his request.

Resolved thereupon, that an humble Address be presented to His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that he will be pleased to direct the House to choose another Speaker.

Thursday, December 11.

A Message from His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Secretary Odell delivered the following Message.

NEW-BRUNSWICK.

MESSAGE to the House of ASSEMBLY.

11th December, 1828.

HOWARD DOUGLAS.

"The Lieutenant-Governor, in answer to the Address of the House of the 10th instant, gives leave to the House to proceed to the choice of a new Speaker; and directs the House to present the person so to be elected, to the Lieutenant-Governor in the Council Chamber, forthwith for his approbation."

"H. D." Mr. Allen, a Member for York County, then addressing himself to the Clerk, said—

"Mr. Wetmore, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor having been pleased, by Message to this House, to direct that they proceed to the choice of a Speaker, I now rise to nominate Charles Simonds, Esquire, as a fit person to be elected to that important situation."

That Gentleman's long experience as a Member of this House, connected with his acknowledged acquaintance with the usages and the proceedings of the British Parliament, I think justifies an opinion, that, if elected, he will conduct the duties of the Chair with dignity, ability and independence; and at all times maintain the privileges of the House in the most ample manner."

And the motion being seconded by Mr. Hayward, a Member for the County of Sunbury, and the House appearing to be unanimous, Mr. Simonds was taken from his Seat, and conducted to the Chair; and when on the Steps, said—

"I beg leave to express my grateful acknowledgments to the House, for this most flattering proof of your confidence, in electing me to one of the most important and honorable situations in the Country."

"In the hope that my deficiencies may be viewed with indulgence, I cheerfully submit to the wishes of the House; confidently relying, that in the discharge of my duty, I shall have your constant aid and support."

Mr. Simonds then took the Chair, nem. con.

A Message from His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, requiring the immediate attendance of the House in the Council Chamber: whereupon Mr. Speaker elect, with the House, attended—

And being returned—

Mr. Speaker informed the House that he had addressed His Excellency as follows:—

"May it please your Excellency,

"The House of Assembly, in pursuance of leave granted by your Excellency, and in the exercise of an undoubted right, have elected a Speaker, and now present me to your Excellency as the person chosen. But aware of my inability to discharge the duties of that highly important situation; I trust that your Excellency will be pleased to disapprove of me, and command the House to elect a more fit person to be their Speaker."

That the Honorable Mr. Chief Justice Saunders, then said—

"Charles Simonds, Esquire.

"I am commanded by His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor, to acquaint you, that he hath so good an opinion of your integrity, diligence and sufficiency, for executing the important office into which you are elected, that His Excellency is perfectly satisfied with the choice which the House of Assembly have made, and doth allow and confirm you to be their Speaker."
