t, on e dis-

veek-

ental

acco.

aloud

king

joins

s the

AR.

e, the

been rtant

f the agasy

s out

and

Last

reply

pre-

my od, to that bulaabled

er to eople

may

e the

v. 5).

ip to ry in ssure

elp of

de-

t you

lada-

May

l you

you

s, the

nives.

ıluta-

How

SSILIZ

d be heir-

ty in alous

rerest

in a

ts all

Chris-

ience

suc-

from

m the

Some

ccuse

aying

iately

dand,

anger

more

their

at the

shall

good rty to char

1855.

, and

cold

ther-

zero

ision.

grees

al to great

st bit-

cold.

into

askerl

hem-

coffee

One

ings)

frost-

, but

or of care

The

pskin

et, on

.pack

At

whole of our men are well clothed and well fed, and are in capital health and spirits. Now there is snow on the ground it is dangerous to go through the camp, as you are almost certain to get a blow on the head from a snowball, which was aimed at some one else. It is a blessing that these are the only balls we are in danger from now. Really the difference between this winter and last is extraordinary. Instead of the sullen, despairing look of last year every man seems happy and contented.

RUSSIA

NEXT YEAR'S CAMPAIGN.

A letter from Moscow of the 20th ult. says :-The grand council of generals lately convoked at St. Petersburg under the personal presidency of the Emperor have settled the principles on which the forthcoming campaign shall be carried on. St. Petersburg and Moscow are to be fortified, and t gether with Warsaw, will form the three first-class fortresses of the empire. General Todtleben has arrived here, and, not withstanding the extreme rigour of the weather—the frost having set in here with all the proverbial violence of a Russian winter-may be seen every day, accompanied by his staff of engineers, all wrapped up in bears' skins, surveying the ground and fixing the poles to designate the line of circumvallation, which will be commenced on the breaking up of the frost.

Besides this, other fixed principles of strategy essentially a defensive war on the part of the Russians, all these plans may be completely upset, or at all events greatly modified, by any change Powers. It is fully expected in Russia that next year the principal seat of the war will be transferred to the no th, and the greatest exertions are making for an efficient defence. For the safety of Cronstadt and Helsingfors no fears are Vendome. entertained, as the experience of the last two years has shown that the enemy are not able to inflict much damage; nor is it feared that even if the fleets are increased by 200 steam gun-boats they could take either of these strongholds unless with the co-operation of a numerous and wellappointed army on shore. The system of tactics resolved on by the great council of war may be summed up as follows:-The fortification of St. Petersburg, Moscow, Kiev, Warsaw, and Nicholateff: secondly, the concentration of few but imposing armies; and, thirdly, the abandonment of all the minor places, so Liebau, Riga, and even Odessa, will be deprived of regular garrisons, and left to the fate and the tender mercy of the

The cold is so severe that several sentinels have been found frozen to death in their sentry boxes, although they are relieved every half-hour

THE EMPEROR OF RUSSIA.—The Times l'aris correspondent writes :-- "When the Emperor Alexander returned to Nicholaieff he was much more warlike than before. Whether it was the thought of the ruins of Sebastopol that awoke the spirit of vengeance within him, or that hope arose as he witnessed the vast preparations in his more secret arsenals, I know not; but I know for a fact that he was ready to fling defiance not only at France and England, but expressed himself about Germany in terms of the utmost indifference."

FRANCE.

RECEPTION OF THE IMPERIAL GUARD IN PARIS

The entrance of the Imperial Guard into Paris, on Saturday, on their return from the Crimea, was the occasion of an outburst of military en-

At the entrance of the Boulevard Beaumarchais, a lofty triumphal arch was exected. A shield, with an azure field bore in letters of gold the name of Sebastopol. On the summit were the Imperial arms, surrounded by a cluster of flags, and four golden eagles, with outspread wings, ing Victory, appeared on the right and left of -in vain; he challenged a trial, -in vain. A hil, the Malakoff, and Silistria.

taken in the campaign of the Crimea, and dwelt exile. brilliant staff entered the square.

mules, with 50 coats on each, and a great number round him, his Majesty delivered, in a firm and of the equipages militaires also full of coats. The strong voice, the following address to the troops

> "Soldiers,-I have come to meet you as in other times the Roman Senate went to the gates of Rome to meet her victorious legions. I have come to tell you that you have deserved well of your country.

> " My emotion is great, for with the happiness I feel at again seeing you are mingled painful regrets for those who are no more, and deep sorrow that I could not lead you on to battle.

> " Soldiers of the Guard and soldiers of the Line, I bid you welcome.

"You all represent that army of the East whose courage and whose perseverance have invested with new lustre our eagles, and won for France the rank which is her due.

" The country, alive to all that is accomplished in the East, receive you with all the greater pride, that she estimates your efforts by the obstinate resistance of the enemy.

"I have recalled you, though the war be not determined, because it is only just to relieve in their turn, the regiments that have suffered most. Each will thus be able to take his share in glory, and the country, which maintains 600,000 soldiers, has an interest in maintaining in France a numerous and experienced army ready to march wheresoever necessity may require. Preserve, then, carefully, the habits of war, and fortify teen vessels were constantly employed in taking acquired. Hold yourself in readiness to respond, week; and they made a very handsome business if need be, to my appeal; but yet on this day of it. forget the hardships of a soldier's life, return have been agreed on for the prosecution of the thanks to God for having spared you, and march Thirty lives lost -The ship Naples, Capt. Lovell, proudly in the midst of your brethren in arms and your fellow-citizens whose acclamations await

After this address, not one word of which was in the system of attack on the part of the Western lost by the troops, and which was received with the loudest acclamations, Marshal Magnan assumed the command of the Crimean corps, who formed into columns, and the cortege of the from New York on the 1st, for Havre, and on

> The whole of the troops were in heavy marching order, and were preceded by such of the wounded of each corps as were able to walk. As the regiments passed they were received with the loudest acclamations, and the ladies never ceased waving their handkerchiefs. The greeting that met General Canrobert, who rode at the head of the division, was, it is superfluous to say, of the heartiest kind. As the column passed along, several of the people rushed in between the ranks to grasp the hand of some old friend, and whisper a word of welcome. The Zouaves came in for a great share of the enthusiasm.

[From the Freeman.]

THE "STRONG" GOVERNMENT OF FRANCE.

A speaker at the Congregational Union, some time since, thanked GoD that he had given to fickle France a strong man to be its master. The sentiment and the tones in which it was uttered might have been those of Thomas Carlyle himself. Louis Napoleon is daily proving himself "a hero," after the very heart of this great but grim writer, and is giving new cause of "thankfulness" to that excellent brother in the Congregational Union. Take the following instance of the Imperial strength, as furnished to an admiring world but a few days since. A madman (as he was declared to be), Bellemarre, shot at Louis Napoleon, or rather at a carriage in which the Emperor might have been supposed to be. Short work was made of the "lunatic," he was sent at once to the Bicetre, but singularly enough the secret societies of Paris, and other parts of France, were thereupon diligently sought out,—in search of other madmen we suppose Several arrests were made, on various charges of conspiracy, chiefly of youths connected with the public schools, and among whom was a young man named Rane, "the eldest son of a gentleman of respectability and position; his father a magistrate, having formerly been juge de paix of the district of Poictiers." M. Rane, junr., was kept in custody for several months. He denied occupied the sides. Two gilt statues, represent- the charge, in vain; he demanded his accusers, the two facades of the monument, and held in council of the Imperial Ministers sat upon his their hands crowns of laurel. On the sides were case; decided without even examining him; and inscribed the names of the principal battles fought | the sentence went forth against him of deputation and won against the Russians-namely, Bomar- to Cayenne. From the living death, or premasund, Kertch, Kinburn, Sweaborg, Balaklava, ture grave, of that pestilential home of so many Kamiesch, the Alma, Inkermann, Traktir, Koug- of France's best and bravest, the young man recoiled. But it was in vain that he prayed a At twelve o'clock the troops, who have been mitigation of his doom, and that his father begged quartered for some days past in the environs of in his behalf banishment to Algeria or the United Paris, were massed in the Place de la Bastille, States. At last the Ministers relented, and where their arrival was hailed by the most en- through one of their number offered to M. Rane thusiastic acclamations. Nothing could prevent that his sentence should be commuted to banishthe crowds from approaching those weather beaten | ment to America, provided he would write and warriors, and the young and old gazed with some sign an abjuration of his republican opinions. interest on those worn uniforms, the flags torn to This he nobly refused to do; and the young ribands, the eagles here and there perforated man, only twenty-four years of age, who would with Russian bullets Each one detailed to his not write himself down an apostate, has been on the dangers they had braved, the privations It is not pleasant to have to tell such Christmas late western gales will drive from the coast sailthey had suffered, and the glory they had won. stories of a power with which as a people we are ing vessels, and for a few days, we may expect At once the drums beat to arms, and the distant in closest alliance. But Englishmen understand shout announced the approach of the Emperor, right well how to be faithful allies, without being thorities at the Custom House to get through the and in a few minutes his Majesty, followed by his unmanly flatterers. Louis Napoleon, too, knows this country well enough to be aware, that come He was received with deafening cries of "Vive what may, his acts will be criticised here very reights to Europe have fallen. I Empereur!" in which they were joined by the freely and independently. To the Lord Mayor At home, we are moving o immense multitude which covered the Place de of London, indeed, he frankly confessed his ad- money gradually becoming easier. The Secre- may be at all times obtained. la Bastille and the adjoining Boulevard. The miration for the political and social liberties tary of the Treasury says in his report: Emperor slowly rode before the lines of the guaranteed by the British Constitution. We are troops, returning to the centre, near the Pillar sorry that we can in no way return the compli- of gold, silver, and bank notes, has been a good ment. For that a government is "strong," we of July, 1830, and, the officers having drawn up confess to be of itself no title to our veneration. market for the sale of foreign productions and Strength is no doubt a noble thing, when wielded in the spirit of truth and justice. Apart from these it is not only unlovely but unsound. The power which acts by forcible repression merely, can be compared to nothing better than the policy of an engineer on the Mississippi steamboat, who secures his position in the race by na ling down the safety-valve. . The safety-valve of France is nailed down now by its imperial ruler. Strange mutterings already portend what may come, nay, what most assuredly will come, unless the Emperor resolve at last to face the difficulties of his position, with faith in the power of truth and in the principles of eternal justice.

Boston, January 17.

masons of Boston, is quite a business at the next day censured the "Imprudence" of Burns, mouth of the Merrimac river. Mr. Pettingell and in consequence the Northern students (exowning Plum Island, has been in the business cept a few who awaited directions from home,) from the first, and those barren sands which all left, and also some of the Southerners. were worthless when he purchased, yield more income than any farm in the country not worth more than $10,000.

During the past season some twelve or fouryourselves in the experience you have already the sand to Boston, averaging about two trips a which arrived at New York yesterday morning from Leghorn, reports that on the 7th inst., fell in with a long-boat from the ship St. Dennis, (bence for Havre,) and took from her the 1st mate, Mr. Tufts, 3d mate, Mr. Eardner, and 9 seamen, and brought them to this port. The Chief mate, makes the following report :- Sailed Emperor returned in the same order to the Place the 5th took a gale from S. E., during which the ship sprung aleak, and the decks full of water could not get to the pumps to work them. Cut away the main and mizen masts to ease the vessel; discovered her fast settling down forward, and at 12 M., 6th inst., left the ship when she immediately foundered, the captain, second mate, STATEMENT OF THE AFFAIRS OF THE HEALTH three cabin passengers, and the remainder of the crew remained on board, in all about thirty souls. Mr. Tufts also reports that he was 29 hours in the boat, which had the starboard side stove in, and it kept five of them continually bailing to keep her free. They had one barrel of bread and no water to subsist on during that time. Her cargo was as follows:

> 95 bales cotton, 12,346 bushels wheat, 4,704 bbls. flour, 3,113 feet maple, 61,314 lbs. copper, 137 tes. rice, 76 bbls potash, 18,040 lbs. bacon, 25 cases tobaceo, 394 bushels barley, 31 pkgs. tea, 53 bbls. ashes, 65 pkgs. sunderies valued at $10,000. The last that was seen of the captain, who refused to leave the ship, though begged so to do by all, he was standing on deck winding up his watch. She went down about ten minutes after the boat left. Capt. Follansbee had commanded the St. Dennis for nearly 12 years. He leaves a wife and large family. The St. Dennis was an A I ship 900 tons burthen. She was built by Wastervelt & Sons of N. York, and was valued at $65,000, and was insured for $28,000.

PLOUGHING UP STATE STREET.—The Superintendent of Streets, commenced this morning to plough in State Street, its appearance created quite a sensation among the money changers, who certainly never expected to look from their desks upon such an operation.

For several days past, between two and three hundred men have been engaged in removings certain sum annually by each member to be refunded and levelling snow in the streets. The plough, by an equivalent amount in the event of sickness, old it is estimated, does the work of fifty men.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE .- Mr. Foot's resolution to elect by plurality was called up on Monday, and a long debate ensued, and after year from date of Policy or the same party by the various counter propositions and amendments, all of which was rejected, the resolution was adopted, under the order for the previous question. The resolution declares that on Tuesday morning, immediately after the reading of the journal, the House shall proceed to vote three journal, the House shall proceed to vote three the like amount on the same contingency, occuring times for Speaker, and that the person receiving during the remainder of Life. the largest number of votes on the third ballot shall be the Speaker of the House.

We may hope, therefore, to give our readers an abstract of the Governor's Message next week. We cannot venture to delay the press for it this week. - N. Y. Ex., Jan. 17.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.—The extreme cold weather has affected all kinds of business, during the past week. Railroads, both in country and city, have been impeded, and a general stagnation has been produced. Steamers from neighbour the story of the part the battalion had sent away, untried, unconvicted, to his miserable Europe have had long and boisterous passages. The Canada being sixteen days to Halifax. The a sessation of foreign arrivals enabling the aulabour brought upon them by the great number of arrivals during the latter part of December.

At home, we are moving on prosperously,

" The United States, with its mixed currency manufactures; and, in the general, a bad market for the sale of our own -the foreign articles taking the gold and silver, the better part of our currency, with the increased price given by our bank note circulation, and raising our productions to such a price as not to allow of their exportation, unless in times of great foreign demand."-N. Y. Chronicle.

ATTACK UPON FREE SPEECH.—At the Disciples College at Bethany, Va., presided over by the Rev. Alexander Campbell, there was recently according to the Portage, Ohio, Democrat, quite a disturbance, on account of a discourse pronounced by one of the students, named Burns,, who in fulfilment of his appointment to preach on Sabbath evening in the College pulpit, undertook to speak on the subject of human rights, and in opposition to slavery, although in very mild terms. This so incensed the Southern students that they attempted personal violence, SAND .- The carrying of sand to supply the and Burns was obliged to flee. The faculty the # British American Friendly Society OF CANADA.

For the Assurance of Health and Lives.

Incorporated by Act of Parliament. CAPITAL STOCK, £100,000.

HEAD OFFICE, MONTREAL

LOCAL BOARD FOR NOVA SCOTIA. Hon. James W. Johnston, M. P. P. John Esson, Esq., M. P. P. W. B. Fairbanks, Esq. George Ritchie, Esq., Merchant. William J. Stairs, Esq., do. John Skerry, Esq., Barrister. Samuel Gray, Esq., Barrister.

MEDICAL OFFICER. Daniel McNiel Parker, Esq., M. D.

LOCAL MANAGER. James W. Johnston, Junr. Esq., Solicitor.

Office, No. 42 Hollis Street.

DEPARTMENT AS PRESENTED TO THE 2ND

W	hole No.	of policies	recieved to Oct. 1, 1855,	5,268
	do.	do.	accepted	4,792
	do.	do.	rejected	476
	do.	do.	forfeited by non pay-	2,747
	do.	do.	forfeited by fraud	5
	do.	do.	issued	2,045
	do.	weeks s	ickness experienced	627
	do.	death		10
A	erage ag	e of Memb	ers .	32
A	NUAL I	COME, Oct	. 1, 1855.	£3,000

FINANCIAL REPORT

Oct. 1, To total amount of cash received on account of Health Assurances, To agent's balances and amount due on application,

£6,111 12 8 PER CONTRA. Oct. 1, By agent's commissions and returned entrance £2,634 0 0 By contingent expenditture, 1,592 8 11 By sick claims, By balance in Bank, 1,358 13 4

£6,111 12 3

EXTRACT FROM DIRECTORS REPORT. "The experience of the past year has but confirmed and strengthened the confidence of its friends which has been growing during each year of its operations in the fidelity, economy and discretion with which its affairs have been managed."

"The plan of its (Realth Department) operation is based upon the idea of paying into a common fund a age infirmity and death." Example.—A person aged 20 next birth-day by the payment of £1, may secure one pound per week whenever incapacitated. Should such occur within one annual payment of £1 2 6, for five years may secure the like amount when ever incapacitated, should such occur within FIVE years from date of policy,

Or by the payment of £1 5 annually for seven years secure the same amount, should incapacity occur within Seven years from date of policy, Or by the annual payment of £1 7 6 for life, secure

ANNUAL RATES TO INSURE A WEEKLY

	В	EN	EFI	TO	)F (	ONE	PC	UN	ID.	100
Age.	1. 1 year.			5 years.			7 years.			for life.
et.	I.	8.	d. 0	I.	8.	d.	1.	δ,	d.	1.	8.	d
20	1	0	0	1	2	6	1	5	0	1	7	6
25	1 1	2	6		5	0	1	-7	-6	1	10	0
30	1	5	0	1	7	6	1	10	0	1	15	0
35	1	7	6	1	10	0	1	12	6	2	2	6

ENTRANCE FEES, 10s. Other amounts (not exceeding £2, nor less than 10s per week) may be assured in proportion. The rates of premium have been carefully prepared with reference to fluctuations from the "experience of Friendly Societies," and the Carlisle, Sweden, North-ampton, and other stables of mortality.

The profits remaining after the prompt payment of losses as they occur—are added to the policy, or PAID IN CASH ON DEMAND.

Local agents will be appointed throughout the Province, on application to the Subscriber, by letter, ost paid-to whom a handsome commission will be

Applications for membership received by the Subseriber from whom prospectuses and every information JAMES W. JOHNSTON, JUNE., Solicitor, Local Manager.

42 Hollis Street.

January 23, 1866