The Blunders of Science.—It is not strange that doctors should go in a round-about way to cure coughs, colds, and lung complaints, by loading the stomach with physic? The right plan would be to administer a remedy that goes direct to the diseased spot.

Memoranda.

Boston reports, 11 a. m., on Thursday, saw packet bark Halifax, hence for Boston, about half way across from Boston to Cape Sable, would probably arrive that night.

Capt. George Lewis, of P. E. Island, who came passenger in the America, reports having passed on the 19th inst., when three days out, a steamer which having no bowsprit and a straight stem, was supposed to be one of the Collins line. She was standing to the Eastward and appeared to be going slow. The distance between the two steamers when they passed each other was about thirteen miles. There is some difference of opinion as to whether the stranger did or did not show her colours, in the rigging. There was of course no apprehensions as to the safety of the Pacific in England, which fully explains why the latter did not alter her course; and ascertain the name of the steamer sighted on the 19th. We are happy to think that there can be no reasonable doubt, that the ship thus seen was the missing one making the best of her way back to a port in either Ireland or England. The next steamer at New York will solve the problem.

Spoken, 4th Jan., Br. schr Obi., from Charlottetown, P. E. I., for Barbados, under jury main mast. Lost main mast 12th Dec., wanted no assistance.

Disasters.

The schr Komp, Swain, master, from P. E. Island for Boston, with oats and barley, put into Yarmouth Sound, 19th inst., with five feet water in her hold and in a disabled condition. An attempt was made to run her ashore as far up the Sound as the wind would permit her to go. Owing to drift ice, she only got within hailing distance of the shore, and the vessel lies afloat in the ice. The crew got on shore over the ice, and they have a line from the vessel to the shore. This is but one of a series of disasters on her present voyage. She left P. E. Island, some eight or ten weeks ago, and has since been into both Halifax and Cape Negro for repairs.—Yarmouth Tribune, Feb. 20.

Schr Lima, O'Brien, hence for Philadelphia, returned from sea, on Tuesday. On Sunday last, while three men were stowing the flying jib, they were washed off, and two of them drowned.

The brig Canada, of Maitland, N. S., was lost on or about the 15th January, on Carrow Reef, near Gambia, West Coast of Africa. She sailed from New York for Gambia, and was then on her way from Gambia to Sierra Leone. The crew and part of the cargo was saved, and but little or nothing of the vessel.

DUBLIN, Feb. 13.—The Proteus, hence for Jamaica, was lost at Wexford on the 12th. Capt. Harding arrived at Kingston on the 13th. They saved nothing but what they stood in. The name of the man drowned was William Hogan, of Shelburne. They had been floating about on the House for about twenty-four hours previous to being rescued. The Proteus was a good vessel and owned at Shelburne, N. S.

CAMPBELTOWN, Feb. 13.—The brig J. G. Hall, of Yarmouth, Perry, from Ardrossan to Corfu, with coals, is totally wrecked at Carsky, about 12 miles south of this. Materials saved.
