

The first brigade of Sir H. Rose's force left Jhansi on the 26th of April for Calpee. A report has been received by electric telegraph that he met and defeated the rebels at Koucheh. Sir H. Rose will effect a junction with General White-lock before attacking Calpee.

On the 25th of April the father of the Ranees of Jhansi was executed at Jhansi.

The insurgent Bheels and Mearamees, after their defeat at Amba Panee on April 11, fled across the Nerbudda, and are being followed up by the Sutpoora field force.

The mutiny is now quite put down. Oude is taken, and the rebels have once more taken to flight. Poor wretches, and in their plight now, and awful the retribution which they have brought upon themselves. I do not suppose they will be able to make another stand, for, I should say, they have but few guns left them now. Yet until they are thoroughly scattered, they will be very troublesome and dangerous to travellers and small out-stations.

The Nena is not yet taken. A lakh of rupees is offered by Government, and a free pardon to any mutineer, for the miscreant. He cannot be safe long, once the offer is known to his friends; for I am sure, any Hindoo to save his life, and get a lakh, would betray his own brother.

Yeh is in Calcutta boasting of having killed 200,000 men! What is to be done with the old King of Delhi I don't know; but the impression is that he will be sent to drag out his few remaining days in a foreign land.

Jhansi has been taken by Sir Robert Hamilton; the Ranees fled, attended by a few followers. Kotah has fallen; and the rebels who fled to Gwalior from there have been routed, with the loss of six guns, by the Maharajah's troops.

General Whitlock has reached Saugor; the rebels have raised the siege of Dherkaree. Rohitund is still in the hands of the rebel Khan Bahadur Khan. Why Sir Colin is so slow in his movements no one can tell. Rumour says that Lord Canning is going to resign. Mr. Montgomery, from Punjab, is now Chief Commissioner of Oude. The whole of Oude declared confiscated. The Nena is said to be in Shajehanpore, as a prisoner in the hands of his attendants.

FRANCE.

The Paris Conference had another meeting on Wednesday, at the Foreign Office. A special diplomatic commission is to assemble at Constantinople on the 1st of June, for the settlement of the Montenegro difficulty.

CHINA.

The intelligence from China, the latest Hong Kong date being April 13, relates almost entirely to the movements of the diplomatists. We learn that the Russian envoy, Count Putiatin, arrived at Shanghai in the steamer America, on the 22nd of March, the United States commissioner, Mr. Reed, by the steam-ship Minnesota, on the 24th; the Earl of Elgin, in her Majesty's steam-ship Furious, on the 25th; and the French ambassador, Baron Gros, in his Imperial Majesty's steam-ship Audacious, on the 30th.

A casual letter from Shanghai of April 6 informs us that her Majesty's ship Furious, with Lord Elgin and suit, Fury, Pique, and gun-boat Slaney, were under orders to proceed northward immediately.

At Shanghai Lord Elgin received at the British consulate a body of mercantile men, who presented an address of congratulation, in which they expressed their hope that he might be able to subdue the hostile spirit so long exhibited by the Cantonese, develop the resources of China, and extend the blessings of a higher civilization.

DEATH OF A NEPHEW OF SIR H. HAVELOCK.

We regret much to record the death of Lieutenant C. W. Havelock, of the Ghoreka Regiment, nephew to the late Major General Havelock. He belonged to Sir E. Lugard's column, which marched to the support of Azinghur some short time ago. It appears that on marching out to Jaunpore, a large body of rebels were on the qui vive to attack Sir Edward in the rear on his approach to Azinghur. This caused the colonel to alter his plans, and compelled him before proceeding further to disperse this body. While hunting up these fellows poor Lieutenant Havelock was shot from a hut in an obscure village. Lieutenant Havelock was at Goruckpore and Azinghur at the time of the mutiny of the 12th Irregulars, of which he was adjutant. Subsequently he went up as a volunteer with his uncle, and has been before Lucknow ever since. His fate is deplored by all who knew him. His remains were brought into Jaunpore and buried there.

The following is an extract from a private letter, dated Adelaide, Feb. 11, 1858:—"We have had ten days and nights of the hottest weather remembered for several years past. The heat at noon in the shade was 136 degrees to 146 degrees, according to situation, and during the night it was never less than 94 degrees to 104 degrees in-doors. The hot wind never ceased blowing, and the immense deaths from coup de soleil have been appalling in the extreme. Mrs. — says she is now convinced about apples and other fruit being roasted on the trees, for they have ocular demonstration in their own garden.

An extraordinary prosecution is now going on in the Sheriff's Court, Edinburgh, in which a Scottish Presbyterian of the name of Cochran has brought an action of damages for an attempt to impose the rite of the Church of Rome on him at a period of serious illness, against an Irish priest of the name of Donahoe.

A curious scene has been presented during the last few days in the quadrangle of Somerset House, London. Cab-owners are renewing their licences, and receiving new plates, with numbers painted either upon a yellow or green ground to denote their plying for hire either on every day in the week or only on six and resting on the seventh. Henceforth the green colour will denote the cabman who observes the Sabbath by abstaining from plying on that day.

THE "LEVIATHAN'S" FIRST VOYAGE.—All doubt as to the destination of this gigantic vessel has been set at rest by an announcement of her owners, the Eastern Steam Navigation Company, that she will make regular trips between Holyhead and Portland, in connection with the Great Trunk Railway of Canada. The average speed of the Leviathan being estimated at sixteen knots an hour, she will, at that rate, accomplish the passage in seven days. The sum required to equip her for sea (£20,000) is to be raised by the issue of annuities, 20l. entitling the annuitant to 5l. yearly for eight years, thus doubling the sum paid.

THE GREAT BELL FOR THE TOWER OF THE HOUSES OF PARLIAMENT.—The newly-cast great bell, from the remains of the famous "Big Ben," was removed on Friday morning from Messrs. Mears' factory at Whitechapel (where it was cast) to the new Houses of Parliament. It was drawn on a truck by sixteen horses, and had a union-jack hoisted on the top of it. Its progress through the city attracted considerable notice, and a large crowd accompanied it to its destination. It is to be named "Victoria."

The judges of the Court of Common Pleas have decided that railway travellers are not bound to take care of any portion of their luggage. A passenger may hand all his luggage to the company's servants, who are legally responsible for its safety.

On Sunday afternoon upwards of 5,000 persons assembled in the Regent's park, to listen to the People's Subscription Band. Among the persons present were several members of Parliament.

United States.

UTAH.—Gen. Scott's dispatches from Utah state that the Mormons have deceived Gov. Cumming; that there is no disposition to make peace, and that after they had removed their women and children, the Mormons returned to Salt Lake City, strengthening their posts, and assumed a threatening attitude. This intelligence is considered by the Department as perfectly reliable. Capt. Marcy was within six days' march of Camp Scott. The forces under Gen. Johnston were under short allowance, and they were eating their candles, and every other oily substance they had, being unwilling to kill their cattle.

A CITY THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION.—St. Louis, June 14.—Dispatches from Cairo state that on Saturday afternoon, a crevasse opened on the Mississippi side of the town through which the water poured at a frightful rate, filling up the whole space between the levees, and it is now running over the embankment on the Ohio side about a thousand feet.

AWFUL STEAMBOAT CATASTROPHE.—The steamboat Pennsylvania, of Pittsburg, exploded her boilers on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock, at Ship Island, some seventy-five miles below this city, and was burned to the water's edge. There were four hundred and fifty passengers on board, and it is believed that two hundred of them were killed or are missing. The Diana Imperial and Kate Frisbee took all they could find in the water or on shore.

A terrible steamboat accident occurred at Memphis on Sunday last, involving the loss of about 100 lives.

Floods are doing great damage in various localities, causing loss of life and damage to property to a large extent. Several small towns are threatened with destruction.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—At the recent flood at Roscoe, on Rock river, the house of the Rev. Horatio Illsley was, in the darkness of the night, swept into the stream by the undermining of the banks, and his wife and eight children found a watery grave! Mr. Illsley was the Congregational pastor of that village, and formerly from Dixon. His wide circle of friends deeply sympathize with the pastor, the husband and father, in this great loss.

THE NATIONAL HOTEL SICKNESS.—No less than twenty-seven persons have died of sickness contracted last year at the National Hotel, Washington. Out of a total of three hundred sufferers, at least one half continue in a state of decrepitude.

We are glad to learn that Vice President Breckinridge has ordered the private drinking room attached to the Senate chamber to be closed during the evening sessions of that body. We should be still more glad to learn that the drinking room was abolished altogether.

There was a heavy frost in a portion of the State of Massachusetts on the 28 of May.

A number of gentlemen lately went down Boston harbor on an excursion, and one of them died in consequence of having taken chloroform as a cure for sea-sickness.

The English government is about to present to the French government the funeral car that bore the exile of St. Helena to his tomb. A portion of the carriage used by Napoleon in his solitary excursions in the island was taken to build the hearse that carried him when dead.
