Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to disarrangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC. From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans. 'Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess.'

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS. From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City. 'Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed.'

DYSPEPSIA—INDIGESTION. From Dr. Henry J. Knox, of St. Louis. 'The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine.'

DYSENTERY—DIARRHŒA—RELAX. From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago. 'Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found.'

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION. From Mrs. E. Stuart, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston. 'I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed.'

CONSTIPATION—COSTIVENESS. From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada. 'Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint.'

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD—SCROFULA—ERY-SIPÉLAS—SALT RHEUM—TETTER—TUMORS—RHEUMATISM—GOUT—NEURALGIA. From Dr. Ezekiel Hall, Philadelphia. 'You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy.'

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c. From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore. 'DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine.'

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. 'As long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration.'

'The Cherry Pectoral is a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them.'

'I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly.'

'Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.'

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, PRACTICAL AND ANALYTICAL CHEMIST, LOWELL, MASS., AND SOLD BY MORTON & COGSWELL, HALIFAX.

THE FINE ARTS.

The Works of the European Great Masters reproduced for every one.

"STUDIES FROM THE GREAT MASTERS."

In all the beauties of Oil Colour and Shading of the original Paintings, with Illustrative descriptions. Imperial Quarto. By WILLIAM DICKES, London.

The Works of Carracci, Hess, Correggio, Murillo, Guercino, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Titian, Rubens, Rembrandt, De Vinci, Raffaele, Michael Angelo, Perugino, Massaccio, and Giotto will, as this work progresses, be reproduced.

As each part is complete in itself, no fear of diminishment of interest need be entertained from its serial appearance once a month.

The work before us is an attempt, and a successful one, to produce coloured copies of works by the great painters, which shall be worthy to lie on the drawing-room table of the amateur, and yet be cheap enough to find a place in the cottage of the mechanic.

The plates before us are copies of oil-paintings, and by a kind of glazing of the shadows something of the depth as well as transparency of oil is given. The process by which they are produced must necessarily be a simple one, and admit of rapid working, to allow pictures of so much excellence to be sold at so low a price.

The first plate is from the 'Ecce Homo' (or, as it is here called, the 'Christ crowned with Thorns'), of Guido, which was bequeathed to the National Gallery by the poet Rogers. The force of the expression, the depth and vigour of the colour, and the broad sketchy treatment, are very fairly rendered.

The second plate is the 'Infant Samuel' of Sir Joshua Reynolds, a work the homely simplicity of which will always make it a popular favourite, whatever be its fate with the professors of aesthetics. Quite in a different style, and more elaborate, is the plate after the 'Christ Blessing Little Children' of Hess. Here we have one of the leading works of the modern German school; a composition of seventeen figures on a gold background.

Instead of the depth of tone of the former plates, we have in this the dry severity of the modern fresco. The next plate is a reproduction of Correggio's well-known 'Holy Family' (the 'Vierge au Panier'), one of the gems of our National Gallery. Hardly would Doë's engraving we fancy if hung on the cottage-wall, so vividly revive the recollection of a visit to the National Gallery, so effectually appeal to the imagination and the sympathy of the great class to whom even the occasional sight of a painting of a high order is a luxury.

'We know of nothing that would so glorify the room' (to borrow one of Sydney Smith's happy expressions) as to hang up a good copy—as nearly as might be colour for colour, tint for tint, light, shadow, expression, each and all as in the original,—of one or other of the best works of Correggio or Raffaele, of Titian or Cornelius, of Perugino or Reynolds, of Tintoretto or of Turner, of Reubens or of Landseer, of Murillo or of Scheffer, according as the owner's taste should lead him to prefer form or colour, divine expression or homely truth, poetic grandeur, or prosaic accuracy.

In the parts before us all the subjects selected are scriptural. A fair sprinkling of secular subjects will be given in future numbers.

The prints are not only surprisingly cheap, and at the price surprisingly good; but they would be, even at a much higher price, very creditable performances. Both the artist (Mr. Dickes) and the publishers deserve every praise for the style in which they are produced, and we heartily wish their speculation good speed.

Each part contains two of these rare pictures, with description, in a handsome wrapper. Price 3s. cur., or four copies of the same number for 10s. The first three Nos. have arrived.

Only a few spare copies have been as yet imported. 'CHRISTIAN MESSENGER' Office, No. 49 Granville Street, Halifax.
