THE NEW HALIFAX COUNTY COURT House, we learn from the British Colonist, is brary, Judges' and Barristers' Rooms, Halls, eral Trollope and his staff. Staircases, &c., &c. The basement,-Lock-up Cells, Housekeeper's Apartments, Fuel Stores, Clerk's Washrooms, &c.

The building is to be of brick, faced with cut stone, of the finest description of work, from the Albert Quarries Mary's Point, New Brunswick. The architectural features of the front will consist of a richly rusticated and vermiculated basement, of piers and arches, boldly recessed with a superstructure of moulded and rusticated attached columns, and pilasters of the Tuscan order, with bold console cornice, and pediment, the whole being surmounted by an elegant Bell tower and Dome, with attached columns, pilasters, &c. The amount proposed to be expended was £10,000. The contract for the whole of the works has been taken by Mr. Geo. Lang, manager of the Albert Quarries, for £8950-thus leaving a handsome margin for enclosures and incidental expenses.

ATTROCIOUS DESTRUCTION OF RAILWAY PROPERTY -On Tuesday evening a man named George Phillips, said to be under the influence Rev. I. MINISTERS AND LAYMEN, lately assembled in Halifax, waited on the Lieutenant Governor with a loval and complimentary Address of welcome, to his Excellency and the Countess. In reply, the Earl of Mulgrave thanked them for the attention to himself and family, and referred to the bright example of Her Majesty, whose virtues he truly remarked, had "deservedly gained for her the respect and esteem, not only of her own subjects, but he might almost say, of the ty. civilized world."

B. G. WIKE, Esqu.—In reference to the case of Mr. Wier in the Boston Police Court, briefly noticed last week, we learn from the Boston Herald that, "The Court decided that as Captain Winchester had the largest number of witnesses, and that they had not contradicted themselves, he should impose a fine of $5 and costs, which Mr. Wier paid and was discharged."

Assault.-On Satuaday last, about 1 o'clock, near at the time, came to the assistance of Mr. destroyed .- Liverpool Transcript Grant, and prevented further violence. Two policemen were soon on the spot, and found it somewhat difficult to disperse the crowd which had gathered around the angry suffering begrimmed disputants.

A letter appeared in the Sun on Monday from Mr. Wier, giving a copy of a note sent by him to Mr. Grant, demanding the name of the author of the paragraph in the Colonist, and adding his own account of the affair on Saturday. Mr. W.

"At 1 o'clock to-day I met Mr. Grant in the street, and asked civilly the following questions: 'Did you receive a note from me?

* Do you intend replying to it." . What do you want me to do?"

'Give me the name of the author of that vile attack made on me.'

"I cannot do it."

Will you apologize?

'Then I must thrash you'-which was done accordingly."

It is not likely this will end the case. Such a mode of dealing with the press Mr. Wier will probably find is not the most satisfactory, either to bimself or the public.

> FATAL ACCIDENT .- On Monday, the 25th inst., Capt Henry Flint sailed from Bridgewater, bound for Liverpool. Having proceeded about a mile and a half down the river, he found it impraticable to undertake the voyage on account of the weather. He accordingly, came to an anchor, and attempted, to return by the boat, taking with him his wife his mother in-law, a little boy and one seaman. Having gone only a few yards from the vessel a squall struck the boat and upset her, precipitating all on board into the water There were two men on board the vessel, who made a raft of some lumber and succeeded, after a good deal of difficulty, in saving them all alive, except the Capt in's wife, who unfortunately drowned before they could get her on the raft.
