said on former occasions on this subject, as a ever he may be, is not incorrigible, we hope be prepared to say again, if any attempt in perusal. future is made to introduce such a principle as Separate Schools into Nova Scotia. But as some of our readers might be misled by the Chronicle's statements, and our silence might be misunderstood, we must refresh his memory and theirs, as to what we have had to do with this subject, and also what the Morning Chronicle did, or rather failed to do, when there was an opportunity for really doing something; instead of now talking of what "may and probably will be done in Nova Scotia." Why, it has been "done in Nova Scotia," and nobody knows better the result of the attempt than the Editor of the Chronicle. Why is he so careful to say he has done his "bounden duty" only for " two years ?" Perhaps his conscience would not allow him to extend the time any further back. And now we will take the liberty of asking this forgetful Editor who were the parties that first raised their voice against Roman Catholic Separate Schools in Nova Scotia? Was it the Morning Chronicle? In 1856, when the Separate School Clauses were introduced into the Assembly, was the Editor of the Chronicle or any of his Essayists prepared to "venture any condemnation of such a gross attempt?" (we cannot say " on the part of the Catholic clergy," as above, for, we believe, they have been exonerated from taking any part in the preparation of those clauses.) Will it be believed, then, that in 1856, when that "gross attempt" was made, the Morning Chronicle was silent, but the Christian Messenger, before any other paper had given a word of warning, came out with a denunciation of the whole thing. We have also several times since reiterated the same sentiments. For the purpose of refreshing the memories of our readers as well as of showing the absurdity of the Chronicle's attack, we will quote from our issue of March 19, 1856. In an article on the Education Bill, then before the Legislature, we said-

We should much rather leave what we have ter of the said articles in the Chronicle, who-

The hall was by far too small for such an occasion, especially with the present demand for space made by the ladies. The birds belonging to Mr. Downs were very beautiful. The Fruits and Vegetables were in an open tent. There were but few specimens, but these were good, and creditable to the parties presenting them, and to the country capable of such productions.

After some delay, in consequence of the Indian high wind and occasional showers, the Rev. Bread Mr. Brewster commenced his Address. Not-Butte withstanding the frequent interruptions from the hurricane and rain, the Rev. gentleman Coffe spoke with much elcquence and appropriate-Tea. ness on the fine specimens of the skill of Agri-Sugar culturists, which were on exhibition and of Mola the bounties of Providence in suiting the Beef. productions of the earth to the wants of Pork. man. He considered the state of agriculture, horticulture, and pomonology as fair Codfi criteria of civilization in any country, and drew a striking contrast between several of our most beautiful flowers and their condition Mac in their native countries; shewing that in the latter state they bore no comparison with what we see after careful cultivation. In consequence of the storm the address was Hade brought to an abrupt conclusion. Later in Leat the afternoon we learn that the Rev. Dr. Hoor Forrester addressed the audience at the Hall. Great Tribute to the Memory of the Poet Burns.-The Sons and Daughters of Scotland may now possess themselves of the Burns' Centenary Poems, one volume, 8s. stg., with portrait, being a collection of fifty of the best out of many hundreds written on the occasion of the Centenary celebration, including the six recommended for publication by the Judges at the Crystal Palace competitionmany of the highly commended-and several prize Poems.

A London Keviewer says, "this is the noblest monument ever raised to the memory of Burns. It is a chaplet woven for his tomb by whatever there is of kindred genius in the kingdom. We will not take upon us to decide upon the respective merits of these beautiful offerings. There is not one of them that does not exhibit a high degree of poetic power, and some of them might be owned without derogation by the Bard of Ayr himself. It is a handsome memorial of the centenary, and shows in a very striking manner how wide-spread and enduring is the renown of Burns. * * * Messrs. Anderson & Finlay, (the Editors,) are entitled to the thanks of the public. for the loving reverence with which they have collected this brilliant bouquet of IMMORTELLES for the grave of their illustrious countryman."

On the 26th of March again, after the Clauses had been printed and circulated amongst the Members of the Assembly, we gave our readers an analysis of them and closed with the following paragraphs :

" If these Clauses have originated with the Roman Catholics themselves, we think they have made a great mistake, and instead of their being benefitted by the arrangement, they will Number of cloudless days, find that they are awakening a feeling such as we have lately seen existing, and causing popu-lar outbursts in the United States, and rendered that country so distasteful to them. The introduction of these clauses will, we fear, only be looked upon as the commencement of an endowment of the R. Catholic Church. The other denominations are to have a general School in which their peculiar views are not taught, but R. Catholics are to have separate Schools with Teachers examined and licensed only by the Roman Catholic Commissioners, and the conclusion is inevitable, that they are exclusively for the dissemination of their own peculiar views.

With these provisions the ostensible objects of the Bill will be entirely defeated so that instead of its becoming a measure for the improvement of Education, it will be but an engine of politi- of our common enemy? They sooth pain; protect the chest; they extract the coagulated impurities and soreness from the system, and impart strength. They are divided into sections, How STARTLING ARE THE RAVAGES OF DISEASE!— How small a proportion of mankind live in perpetual health and die of old age! Disease, the insidious destroyer of our race, ever steals upon the anchorage of life, to cut it from its moorings. Ceaselessly it gnaws at the vitals of existence, like a worm in the bud, which, undisturbed, must bring it to decay. To PERRY DAVIS & Son :- Dear Sirs-I feel happy to add one more testimonial of the value of your Pain Killer to the thousands sent you from nearly all parts of the world. On the 8th of this month I fell from a second story doorway to the pavement, striking on my feet, and bruising them severely; also straining the ligaments of the ankles. When carried home my feet were black and swollen, and the pain so intense as to cause fainting. I immediately applied your Pain Killer, and continued to do so at intervals of about ten minutes. The second day the appearance was a greenish yellow, with little or no pain, and to-day I can walk with ease to my store. Yours respectfully,

I. SUGGITT, High-st. Providence, May 12th, 1857.

The stain on linen from the use of the Pain Killer easily removed by washing it in alcohol.
