

in its new location, and that the progress of the body in that province will be greatly accelerated by their having so efficient a representative in their weekly press.

The following remarks from an editorial on "The Associations" in Canada, have the ring of true metal in them:

"The marked feature of these annual gatherings was, if we mistake not, the feeling of union which pervaded them. May that feeling become universal and lasting! Long enough we have allowed every jealousy, mistrust, to deprive our body of anything like cohesion.

Much was spoken, and much felt, calculated to make us more holy and more earnest as private Christians. Let us not forget the emotions aroused."

Mrs. Crawley, (wife of the Rev. A. R. R. Crawley, missionary in Burmah) and her three children, arrived at Halifax in the steamer Arabia last week.

At a recent meeting of the Church of England Synod in Toronto, C. W., a petition to the Legislature, on Temperance, was agreed to. It asks for an asylum for Inebriates! and concludes with the following paragraph:

"And with a view to stamp with disapprobation so grievous a sin, we further pray that an act may be passed declaring persons known to be, or who may be proved to be, habitual drunkards, disqualified from holding any public appointment, and that inebriate persons shall, on conviction before some qualified court, be declared to be incapable of managing their own affairs, and their property be placed in trust for the benefit of their family or themselves, as is the case with those who labor under other forms of insanity."

On this the Abstinence remarks: "Instead of 'habitual drunkards,' we would say 'habitually intemperate.' Such an Act would be a great blessing to any country. Its faithful execution would effect an astonishing riddance of 'disqualified men'—from the magistrates' bench—from public offices—from the halls of legislation; it would save the country from many perils and prevent the perpetration of many wrongs.

But there are grievous shortcomings in this petition. Not a word about the traffic! Where would be the use of building inebriate asylums and establishing Temperance tests, if distilleries were to continue in unrestricted operation, and liquor to be sold as before? one hand would pull down what the other built up, and the attempt to suppress intemperance would be as successful as the efforts of those beings of whom we read in heathen mythology, who were doomed to draw water in buckets full of holes.

Whatever may have been the views of the late English Ministry, as regards the war in Europe, and whatever part they were inclined to take in it, there can be no doubt at present that the new cabinet under the auspices of Lord Palmerston, are of one mind with the nation at large, in an earnest desire and determination to maintain the strictest neutrality.

The outspoken and unanimous feeling of the people of England is in favor of Italian liberty, and their emancipation not only from the Papal but the Austrian yoke, for the two powers are identical in their efforts to perpetuate civil and spiritual despotism.

not more than 5 or 6 thousand at most. This tragedy of blood was enacted on the 24th of June, and lasted from ten in the morning until nightfall. How sad a picture of the un-governed passions of our fallen race.

The Austrians are now driven to their strong fortresses on the Mincio, of which Verona is the principal. Should the Allies succeed in attacking their rear, something decisive may soon occur, otherwise the investment of the Austrian strongholds may protract the war and possibly involve the German States in the quarrel.

NOTICES.

Rev. David Freeman desires to intimate that letters for him should be addressed to Berwick, Cornwallis.

We have received a letter from "A member of the church at Newport" which we should be quite willing to publish if we thought it would have any beneficial tendency, but as we believe it would only call forth other communications and expose before the world what should never have existed among brethren, we beg respectfully to decline it.

We observe by a letter from the Rev. A. B. Earle to the Visitor, that in consequence of Mrs. Earle's health, he has given up the intention of visiting these provinces just now. He wishes his correspondents to send for the present to Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He says:—"My heart is fixed on a four or six months tour in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, as soon as consistent."

We are much obliged to Rev. S. T. Rand, for his report of Dr. Clay's lecture on Anatomy Physiology &c. It will appear next week.

The Rev. Wm. Hall requests us to insert the following:

To the Brethren in Prince Edward Island:

I expect to visit the Island on the 1st of August, to labour in missionary work, as I have formerly done. As you are now very destitute of ministerial labour, I trust, that by God's blessing, I may do the cause of religion some service there.

ERRATA.—Since the first page of our present issue went to press, we have discovered some typographical errors, which escaped us before.

Column 2, line 20 from bottom, for "important" read "unimportant." Column 3, line 10 from top, for "arm" read "arms." Column 3, line 30 from bottom, for "1828" read "1829."

The Meeting-house at Diligent River, Parsonborough, is to be opened upon the 24th inst., D. V., and the ministering brethren and Christian friends are kindly invited to attend. Services commence at 10 o'clock, a. m., and 3, p. m.

Physicians who have become acquainted with the merits of G. W. Stone's Vegetable Liquid Cathartic, universally acknowledge that it surpasses all other remedies in those cases for which it is recommended.

PARK'S PRICKLY PLASTERS.

They soothe pain; protect the chest; they extract the coagulated impurities and soreness from the system, and impart strength. They are divided into sections, and yield to the motion of the body. Being porous, all impure excretions pass off, and they cannot become offensive, hence can be worn four times longer than any other plasters, and are cheaper at 25 cents than others at 10.

LITERARY NOTICE.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.—The publishers of this widely circulated and popular illustrated weekly journal of mechanics and science, announce that it will be enlarged on the first of July, and otherwise greatly improved, containing sixteen pages instead of eight, the present size, which will make it the largest and cheapest scientific journal in the world; it is the only journal of its class that has ever succeeded in this country, and maintains a character for authority in all matters of mechanics, science and the arts, which is not excelled by any other journal published in this country or in Europe.

The call for Perry Davis' Pain Killer is increasing so very rapidly that I fear I shall soon be unable to keep pace with it. My object in writing now is to beg that on receipt of this you will kindly despatch another shipment, as ordered in my letter of June last.

Mr. Perry Davis—Sir: I have used, in my family, your medicine called "Pain Killer," for many purposes, and have found it a very useful and valuable article. I therefore very cheerfully recommend it to the public regards.

Sometime in December last, my children were taken down with scarlet fever, or canker rash—my only medicine was Davis' Pain Killer and Castor Oil, the Pain Killer operating to a charm in cutting the canker, and throwing out the rash, so that in about five weeks my family were entirely recovered.

Having used Perry Davis' Vegetable Pain Killer in my family during the winter past, I would urge its general use for the purposes for which the inventor has recommended it. I think it invaluable, and would not like to be deprived of its advantages.
