

DR. TUPPER'S LECTURE AT THE INSTITUTE.
 —The Hon. Dr. Tupper's Lecture on "The Union of the Colonies" at the Institute on Monday evening attracted a very large and expectant audience—who, we are sure, were not disappointed. The Hon. Gentleman acquitted himself in a very able, lucid and dignified style, and his Lecture was a masterly expose of our political difficulties.—Christian Visitor.

The Colonial Presbyterian gives the following summary of the lecture:—The first portion of the lecture consisted of statistics of the population and commerce of the colonies. Dr. Tupper then referred to the attention that had been drawn to these Provinces in consequence of the visit of the Prince of Wales, and the distinguished gentlemen who accompanied him and stated that the present was the proper time for the discussion of the subject of his lecture. He thought Responsible government had not worked well, and that a change in the system of government was necessary. He thought that in the appointment of Colonial Governors "special fitness" had not been regarded by the Imperial authorities as of primary importance. He spoke of the opposing tariffs of the different Provinces and the manner in which the Imperial government had sacrificed Colonial rights—instancing the repeal of the Navigation Laws, the Reciprocity Treaty with the U. S., and the encroachment of France upon the Newfoundland Fisheries (which he believed would be sanctioned by England), as among the disadvantages resulting from a want of union among the Colonies. The unsuccessful visit of Delegates from Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, to London, relative to the Intercolonial Railway, and the manner in which this subject of the union of the colonies had been treated by successive Cabinets, were also cited as proofs of the weakness of our present position. The results of union, he considered, would be many and great; it would give a broader field to our statesmen, elevate the tone of our politics, make us respected abroad, would be attended by less expense than under the present system, tariffs could be equalized, and postal and other arrangements be made more satisfactory.

The attendance at the Hall was large, and the lecture was well received. Dr. Tupper's style of reading is pleasing; at times somewhat rapid, but on the whole, very distinct.

Canada.

Sir Allan McNab was solicited to become a candidate to serve in the Canadian Legislative Council, and has been returned by a large majority.

The Quebec Chronicle says that near six hundred young men have lately left that city for the Southern States—Savannah, New Orleans, Mobile, Pensacola, &c.

STREET RAILWAY:—"Some few of our fellow citizens having secured the privilege of running street railways through Montreal, are about to organize a company for carrying out this object. Being, for the most part persons interested in the Montreal and Lake Champlain Company, they have determined on the liberal course of offering a participation in the right obtained by them as individuals to the proprietary of that company.—Montreal Herald."

European News.

There is a rumour in literary circles that the Poet Laureate is engaged upon a new poem; subject, Boadicea.

AUSTRALIAN TESTIMONIAL TO GARIBALDI.
 —The admiration of Garibaldi, and of his glorious exploits in the liberation of Italy, has almost reached enthusiasm. It has been decided that a sword, with a hilt of Victorian gold, be subscribed for and presented to the illustrious hero.—Australian and New Zealand Gazette.

We have to notice a new feature in connexion with the Hull Rifle Corps. A singing class has been formed by members of Captain White's company, so that while on the march the battalion may now be enlivened with vocal as well as instrumental music. Several songs and choruses, and especially the chorus in Il Trovatore, are at present in course of rehearsal.—Eastern Counties Herald.

ATTEMPT ON THE LIFE OF THE QUEEN OF SPAIN.—An attempt was made upon the life of the Queen of Spain on the 17th ult. It appears that her Majesty was entering Madrid, when a young man presented a pistol at her sacred person. The pistol, however, missed fire. The young man is believed to be insane, a supposition which may charitably be extended to all persons under such circumstances.

UNPUBLISHED WORK OF JOHN BUNYAN.—An interesting memorial of the great John Bunyan is about to be published by Mr. Hutton, of Piccadilly. It is a reprint of a hitherto unknown poem written by the poet for the support of his wife and family, while he was confined in Bedford jail. Mr. Offor will edit it and supply an introduction, giving many new facts about Bunyan's prison life.—Athenaeum.

CIVILITY REWARDED.—Two young women, who about eight years since were assistants in the shop of Mr. Fletcher, hosier of Winestreet, Bristol, last week received the agreeable information that they were legatees for 100l. each, free of legacy duty, under the will of an eccentric old lady of Crewkerne, lately deceased, for "civilities received" from them on visiting the shop in which they were engaged. A clerk in one of the branches of Shackey's Banking Company is also remembered to the extent of 500l. for his "politeness" in picking up and handing the old lady a bundle of notes which she accidentally dropped in the bank.

LONGEVITY OF LORD BROUGHAM'S FAMILY.
 —In the family of Lord Brougham several instances of remarkable longevity occur. The most singular is that of one of his collateral ancestors, who, born in 1683 and dying in 1789, when Lord Brougham was eleven years old, connected in two individuals the reigns of Charles the Second and Victoria. Lord Brougham's grandmother lived to the age of ninety-three, and his mother to eighty-nine.

AN AERIAL RAILWAY OVER LONDON.—Mr. Barlow, C. E., has put forward a suggestion in a pamphlet for relieving the traffic in the streets of London by constructing aerial railways over the houses, as well as tunnels underneath. The author contends that the plan, adopting the suspension girder principle, with spans of 1,000 feet, can be carried out with less interference with house property than by either of the other schemes, and that such a viaduct of ample strength will not exceed in cost 150,000l. per mile. He proposes two main communications, the first from south to north, commencing at the Elephant and Castle, and terminating near the Shoreditch station of the Eastern Counties Railway; and the second from west to east, commencing at the junction of Oxford-street and Tottenham-court-road, and terminating at Whitechapel.

THE "BOTTOM OF LOUIS NAPOLEON'S HEART."—At a meeting of the Liverpool Social Science Association on Friday last, Baron Gudin, the celebrated French marine painter, was present and delivered a speech in English, deprecating any idea of war between France and England, and arguing that the Emperor was most anxious to keep up the entente cordiale. He also mentioned that he (Baron Gudin) had invented an apparatus, in connection with gas and water, which would, he hoped, be of great benefit to the public. "The Emperor," he said, "is my friend, and I know the very bottom of his heart." At these words Lord Brougham, who was in the chair, smiled and shook his head, and at the conclusion of the Baron's remarks, he highly eulogised his talents as an artist, and added, "but with reference to his great discovery—I don't mean that of the bottom of the Emperor's heart, but of the gas and water apparatus—I hope we shall soon hear more." These words, delivered in the noble lord's driest manner, excited roars of laughter, which seemed to puzzle Baron Gudin immensely.

LORD BROUGHAM AT HUDDERSFIELD.—At the annual soiree of the Huddersfield Mechanics' Institute, held on October 20th, Lord Brougham, who really seems to be ubiquitous, presided. There was a large attendance, and four members of Parliament, among other notabilities, were present. A most affecting incident occurred at the commencement of the meeting. The whole audience rose to receive the venerable and noble chairman, and after the enthusiasm of the applause had subsided, the students in the gallery led off the old Scotch song, "Auld lang syne," while the whole audience joined in the chorus. Lord Brougham was powerfully and visibly affected, and the incident was of that touching nature which will not readily be forgotten by any who were present. In the course of his speech Lord Brougham made some good practical suggestions with regard to the management of mechanics' institutions. He particularly urged that the committees of these institutions should, for the most part, be composed of working men. His lordship renewed his oft-repeated testimony against the evils of intemperance; and concluded by expatiating on the value to mankind of such benefactions as the one which Mr. Brown has just conferred upon the people of Liverpool.
