

The Philadelphia Press says that within the last six weeks not less than 15,000, and perhaps 20,000 persons in that city have been thrown out of employment.

At Wilmington, (Del.) 100 guns were fired in honor of the South Carolina act of secession, whereupon the American flag was immediately hoisted by every vessel in the harbor.

Major Anderson, who commands the small but gallant force now in Fort Sumpter, served with Mr. LINCOLN, in the Black Hawk war. He was Assistant Inspector of the Illinois Volunteers, in whose ranks Mr. Lincoln was a full private.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says the propriety of removing Mr. Buchanan from office, in case he recalls Major Anderson, and creating Gen. Scott Provisional President until the 4th of March next, is freely discussed in Washington.

The Secession plot thickens, and before long the administration must find itself forced to arouse from its sluggish inactivity and criminal indifference. At Charleston all the officers of the Customs had entered the service of the State. The Revenue Cutter which was lying in Charleston has been seized by the citizens; the Capt. who belonged to that city, resigned.

EVACUATION OF FORT MOULTRIE.—Major Anderson commenced the evacuation of Fort Moultrie at sundown on Wednesday. The men were ordered to be in readiness with knapsacks packed, and after parade and review were ordered to embark on two schooners, taking all the necessary stores &c. Under the cover of night a great portion of the provisions and camp furniture were transported to Fort Sumter, Major Anderson had strengthened the citadel of Fort Moultrie in every way with loopholes and other effectual modes, so that if attacked he could retire to it and blow up other portions of the fort, the mines having already been sprung and trains laid ready for the match. The barracks and other indefensible parts of the fort would have gone at a touch. Nine eight inch Columbiads on the ramparts facing Fort Sumpter were spiked, and their carriages burnt as soon as the fort was abandoned. All the other guns were also spiked. The ammunition guns had been broken up to form ramparts, and the entire place was littered with fragments.

The Courier says the spiked guns will soon be in a condition to respond to any hostile demonstration against Charleston.

The Charleston Courier says that Major Anderson has opened a civil war by his act, which was a gross breach of faith, and violating a solemn pledge given by his chief and accepted by South Carolina; and in the face of assurances from South Carolina that his honor, position and duty would be respected until an open declaration of war.

The South Carolina troops took possession of U. S. Arsenal on 30th.

AMUSING INCIDENT.—A few weeks ago a stout elderly gentleman got into a railway carriage to go to St. Germain; four officers in uniform were already seated. They were smoking. The elderly gentleman found a corner empty, and took it. Not liking the smoke, he lowered the window next him. The officer opposite drew it up. A few minutes elapsed, the civilian let down the window a second time; a second time the amiable son of Mars drew it up.—“Don't like the smoke, eh?” said another of these worthies in a jeering tone; “Well, you run some risk of being smoked like a ham.” The elderly gentleman looked at them steadily, and then, doubling his fist, took a deliberate aim at the window glass and shattered it. The four officers were aflame. “Monsieur,” blustered the former spokesman, “it is a duel you seek; here is my card!”—“And mine!”—“And mine!”—“And mine!”—burst from the other three. “Volunteers,” was the reply of the stout party in the corner, taking out his own card in turn—“and here is mine.” The four smokers bent forward to read their adversary's name. Oh! horror and consternation! it was M. Delangle, Minister of Justice. All the bluster was gone, all the swagger had deserted the “heroes,” and they were noisily eager in tendering their excuses; and the burden of all was—“If we could have guessed!” M. Delangle, however, gave these “gentlemen” a sharp reprimand, bringing to their knowledge the fact that, not having behaved decently to a fellow-traveller whom they did not know, he meant to report them to the War Office. This he did, and the poor offenders came in for a fortnight's arrest.—Literary Gazette.

Among the thousand rumours afloat in Venetia, there is one to the effect that the crown of Hungary has been offered to Prince Napoleon by Kossuth and the Hungarian committee at Milan.

Lord Brougham's new and long-expected Treatise on the British Constitution is promised shortly.

At a small town, not a hundred miles from the town-crier was heard the other day shouting forth the following rather equivocal proclamation:—“A public meeting of the inhabitants will be held to-night, to take into consideration the propriety of raising a corps,”—pronounced corpse!—Aberdeen Herald.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

40 Years JOHNSON'S NERVE ANODOYNE LINIMENT Has stood the test!!!

It has been found by experience to be the best INTERNAL and EXTERNAL remedy ever presented to the public. It has no superior for Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Whooping Cough, SORE THROAT, and all diseases of the Lungs. For Cramp and Pain in the Stomach, Bowels or Side. Diarrhoea and Dysentery. As an external application it is decidedly superior to any other Liniment or Pain Killer. For Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all Rheumatic complaints, for Cuts, Wounds, Sprains and Bruises, Burns and Scalds, Chapped Hands and Chilblains. In all the above complaints it seldom fails to cure.

At all seasons of the year this Liniment is found useful, especially in the autumn, winter and spring, and many colds and coughs, which might prove fatal, are cured by a timely use of this Anodyne Liniment. It should be kept in every family, and thus avoid the dangerous delays occasioned by sending out for medicine or a Physician. And while thus efficacious it is perfectly safe if administered according to directions, for children or adults, either internally or externally.

Hundreds of leading citizens throughout the country have testified to its wonderful virtues, and every one who use it once calls for more.
