

being established throughout the country. It is expected that the Government will reject these conditions.

PARIS April 16.—The Presse states that, in the recent disturbances at Kiev, 150 persons were killed and wounded.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, April 16th.

An immense crowd of people is assembled in St. Stephen's-square. The palace of the archbishop is occupied by a strong body of soldiers. Numerous mounted patrols and gendarmes are traversing the streets. The people are very quiet. The patrols maintain a calm and watchful attitude.

EDUCATION IN ENGLAND.

THE REPORT OF THE COMMISSION ON EDUCATION.

On the 30th of June, 1858, a Commission was appointed to inquire into the state of Popular Education in England, and to report upon the measure required for its extension. The Commissioners were the Duke of Newcastle, Sir John Coleridge, two clergymen, the Professor of Modern History at Oxford, Mr. Senior, and Mr. Miall. It was not to be expected that seven Commissioners, starting with views so divergent, should be brought to an agreement; nor indeed, as appears by the Report, which has just been laid before Parliament, has entire agreement been obtained. But it is certainly remarkable that, notwithstanding all these difficulties, the whole of the Commissioners have signed the Report, and therefore the public are entitled to assume that upon the whole, its conclusions have their sanction.

The Commissioners have not confined themselves to the children of the independent poor: they have inquired into the schools for pauper children; into the factory schools; into the ragged, industrial, and reformatory schools; and into the State schools for children and adults in the Army and Navy.

In the course of their inquiry they have occupied much time in discussing the system of Government aid and inspection, which has now been established for twenty years, and which absorbs an annual sum of more than 800,000. Whilst the Commissioners admit the vast benefit which this system has conferred upon the country, they are not insensible to its defects. They point out its growing tendency to indefinite expense, its inability to assist the poor districts, and the complicated business which encumbers the central office of the Committee of Council. They object, therefore, to the extension of the present system, and propose a substitute. In addition to the sums obtained from the Committee of Council, which are henceforth to be much restricted, they propose that educational grants shall be paid out of the county and borough rates, "in consideration of the attainment of a certain degree of knowledge by the children of the school during the year preceding the payment."

The charitable endowments which might be devoted to education do not fall far short of half a million. Christ's Hospital alone has an annual income of more than 60,000. At present these splendid foundations seldom produce as much benefit as they ought to produce, and in some instances they produce positive evil. The Commissioners propose a scheme by which "the charities given for the purposes of education, and others which appear justly available for that object, may be employed in a more advantageous manner than is possible at present under the limited powers of the Charity Commissioners;" and they conclude their long Report with these emphatic words: "We desire to record our conviction that no scheme for popular education can be complete which does not provide means for adapting a large portion of these charities to its service."

In the year 1803 there was only 1 in 17 1/2 of the population at school; in 1833, 1 in 11 1/2; in 1851, there was 1 in 8.36; and in 1858, 1 in 7.7. According to those who have most considered the subject, a country is in a satisfactory condition where 1 in 6 of the population are at school, and, in fact, it appears that in the matter of education England and Wales are superior both to Holland and France. In Prussia, however, the proportion of the population at school is 1 in 6.27.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Lord Elgin arrived at Dover on Thursday the 11th inst. His Lordship was presented with an address by the corporation.

THE EXILES IN SIBERIA.—The average number of persons exiled in Siberia yearly is about 9,500, exclusive of the women and children that accompany them.—American Paper.

THE BONAPARTE CASE.—Mme. Elizabeth Patterson and M. Jerome Bonaparte Patterson have by two separate notices from their avoué, M. Legendre, signified to Prince Napoleon that they appeal against the judgement given in their cause by the Civil Tribunal of the Seine, on the 16th. February last.

THE INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION OF 1862. The guarantee fund towards the International Exhibition of 1862 has been augmented to £272,800. The foundations of the building have been laid and the works will be proceeded with uninterrupted, so that it may be put into the possession of the commissioners at the time stated in the contract. The organization committee, consisting of representatives of the Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, on the 17th ult., held their second meeting. The day before, communications demanding space to be appropriated to the exhibition of various branches of industry were received to an extent unprecedented, showing the growing interest felt in the proposed new exhibition.

THE INDIAN FAMINE RELIEF FUND.—The donations forwarded to the Mansion-house towards this fund up to the 16th ult. amounted to 2,920l odd, making the total sum raised there, down to last night, 46,093l, exclusive of the money subscribed in Liverpool, Dublin, Edinburgh, Manchester, and several other of the principal cities and towns.

A NEW "ADVERTISING MEDIUM."—On Sabbath last, after the afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Murdoch, of the Middle Kirk, having received a number of notices of public meetings, which he was requested to read, gave intimation that "he was not to stand in the pulpit and be made an advertising medium;" and intimated that in future, if he received any more notices of the kind he intended to charge the sum of 2s. 6d. for each and hand the money over to some charitable institution.—Perth Courier.

THE LIVINGSTON EXPEDITION.—Letters were received on Friday by a Glasgow gentleman from Dr. Livingstone, the last communication being dated 6th February. The expedition had safely penetrated into the interior of Africa, and intercourse had been freely had with the natives. After remaining for some time prosecuting their search they returned to the coast, and at the last date had arrived at the mouth of the Kongone, where their small steamer from England met them. All were well.—Glasgow Herald.

THE HAVELock MONUMENT IN TRAFALGAR-SQUARE.—On Wednesday, the 10th ult., the statue of General Sir Henry Havelock, which has recently been erected at the south-eastern corner of Trafalgar-square, and immediately facing Northumberland House, was "uncovered." The statue, which is in full length, is in bronze. The likeness of the deceased general is good, and the position in which he is standing is full of meaning. It is erected on a Dartmoor granite pedestal, which is at present without any inscription, but on the front it is intended to engrave the gallant general's name, the regiment to which he belonged at the time of his death, and a list of his glorious victories during his brilliant career in India. On the back it is intended to record the names of the regiments that served under his command at the relief of Lucknow, and in other engagements with which he was connected. The statue is by Mr. Behnes.

Have you a Cough?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Do not allow your cold to take its own course. Two thirds of the victims of consumption owe their afflictions to the fatal mistake of "waiting for a Cough to get well of itself." Do not fall into this error, but avail yourself at once of a remedy which thirty years' experience has demonstrated is certain to promote a speedy cure.

Have you Asthma or Phthisis.

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, which will overcome the spasmodic contraction of the wind tubes, and cause them to eject the mucous matter which belags them out, and by an easy and free expectoration, remove all difficulty of breathing.

Have you Bronchitis?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. This widespread disease, which may be generally described as an inflammation of the fine skin which lines the inside of the wind tubes or air vessels, spreading through every part of the lungs, is often mistaken for Consumption. The Expectorant subdues this inflammation, relieves the attending cough, pain, and difficulty of breathing and, if the case is not of too long standing, certainly produces a cure.

Have you Consumption?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. It cleanses the lungs from all irritating matters, while at the same time it heals and invigorates them. Of all the remedies which have been offered the public for this dread disease, none have stood the test of time or maintained so universal a popularity, as this Expectorant. Thousands who have been given up by their physicians as incurable have been restored to perfect health by its use, and their testimony must carry conviction to all who read it.

Have you Pleurisy?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. By taking two or three large doses in the early stages of the disease in quick succession, and covering up warmly in bed, this preparation acts as a sudorific or sweating medicine, and subdues the inflammation at the outset.

Have you Hooping Cough?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. There is no remedy which so effectually overcomes this disease as the Expectorant. What parent can witness the sufferings of her children from this distressing complaint without doing all in her power for their relief? What medicine so pleasant to the taste, or so certain to produce immediate benefit? Give it a trial, then, and let it prove its efficacy.

Have you Croup?

Then use JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT. Children are subject to no disease more sudden in its attacks, or, in the absence of prompt relief, none more fatal in its results, than Croup. Parents, therefore, should keep at hand a remedy sure and through. Such a remedy may be found in the Expectorant and every careful mother will keep a supply by her.

Jayne's Expectorant.

It is a standard medicine for all PULMONARY COMPLAINTS. For twenty-five years it has been before the public, and during this period it curative powers have been testified to by all classes of people in all quarters of the world. Physicians, clergymen, lawyers, merchants, and mechanics have experienced its remedial effects, and their testimony may be found at length in our Almanac. To their convincing certificates we would refer the doubting.

This EXPECTORANT and all of Jayne's Family Medicines, are sold by BROWN, BROTHERS & CO., Ordinance Square, Halifax, of whom may also be obtained, gratis, Jayne's Medical Almanac and Guide to Health containing besides a carefully arranged Calendar,—a catalogue of Diseases with the symptoms by which they may be known, and the remedies adapted to their cure.
