THE CHRISTIAN MESSENGER.

yonth's Department.

BIBLE LESSONS.

SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 28TH, 1862.

Road-JOHN xi. 38-57: The Raising of Lazarus DEUT. xix.: The Cities of Refuge. Recite-xi, 21-27.

.....

308

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 5TH, 1862.

Read-JOHN xii. 1-19: The Anointing. DEUT. 20 The People encouraged to battle. Recite-JOHN xi. 55-57.

SEARCH THE SCRIPTURES."

Write down what you suppose to be the answers to the following questions.

181. What was the first act of Satan in thi world?

182. What are still Satan's most successful stratagems.

Answers to questions given last week :---

Acts vii, 53. Galatians iii, 19, and Hebrews 179. n, 2. 180. To have our names written in heaven, Luke, x, 20.

Amusement for the thoughtful.

ANSWER TO SCRIPTURE PUZZLE NO. 11.

Your use is equal to your fame, And yet you have a common name. Though boasting that you have a head And that you rested in a bed, Yet you 're nothing but A NAIL, But, guided by the hand of Jael, You may one deed of valor boast. You thus saved Israel's mighty host, You "broke the wheel" and "spoiled the cistern, By taking the life of Jabin's captain. See Judges iv. 18-22.

X. Y. Z.

SCRIPTURE PUZZLE No. 12.

The cause at Rockford.-A Sketch.

BY MARIANNE FARNINGHAM.

CHAPTER 3.

During the week which followed that neverto-be forgotten Sunday, previously described Mr. Whithers did not leave us, but stayed in our midst. We never tired of gathering around him, and hearing his words. God honoured himthat young servant of his-at ove most of his brethren. The master spoke through him, and his messages were indeed welcome to the weary, sin-sick soul.

We had prayer-meetings every night in the week, and poured out our supplications before the throne of grace. Our aged deacons-some. of them standing on the very verge of the grave -seemed to grow young again in their love and zeal. Their prayers were no mere repetition of solemn words-they were born of the great spiritual need which we all felt then. Young and strange voices joined in them.

John Goff was not absent from one of our meetings. He came regularly; and often hewho had never before even prayed in secret- | der to reach a departing steamer. He is a few besought the Lord for himself, and for us, in words minutes too late ! The plank is drawn ; and as that were not easily forgotten. Nor was his a he watches the stately vessel plough her way solitary case. Many came among us who had through the blue waters she seems to be ploughnever entered any place of worship, save the old ing through his very heart. . " How provoking !" parish church, to whom our spontaneous prayers he exclaims to the half-smiling, half-pitying bywere new things-who yet, in the new feelings standers. He goes home sulky, he retires in sulks awakened in their hearts, felt that they needed to bed, and wakes up to read in the morning pasomething more special than the Prayer-book, per that "a few hours after leaving port, that highly attractive to the colored population. beautiful as most of the forms of prayer there steamer took fire, and when last seen, was floatare. So we had almost a sacred week. And ing on the water, a burning wreck!" He fanwhen the next Sabbath came, and again the cies himself clinging in despair to a sinking bilyoung minister stood up in the name of the Lord let of wood, and his very blood runs cold when we had a foretaste of the employments and en- he thinks how near he came to being on board joyments of that bright and holy land-

"Where the assembly ne'er breaks up, And Sabbaths have no end."

After that day there was no need to stay fo three months, to find the opinion of the members with reference to Mr. Whithers. It seemed that the Lord had chosen for us, so we gave him an many of my best lessons through life have been giving it more boldness of effect and resemblance invitation to become our pastor. Our praver for direction had been answered; God heard us, and his smile was upon us all the time.

After his ordination, we held a tea-meeting to welcome him. Ministers came from many of the towns around, and entered very heartily into the spirit of the day, giving their younger brother the right hand of Christian sympathy and love. Each minister brought with him some of his own congregation; and so, with such an increase of Christian friends, it was a grand and high day for Rockford. After tea, as the custom is, there was much speechifying. First the ministers spoke, and neighbor's field. The fall in grain that curs very good advice they gave us of the way in which we should treat our dear young pastor, how we should hold up his hands with our prayers, and help him with our love. They told us that it was no light work he had to do, that it required strength of all kinds to accomplish it-physical, mental, and above all, spiri ual-and that it behoved us to lighten every burden for him as much as possible. And we took their words discovery that the ice fields of Siberia containinto our heart, and that evening resolved to look ed immense numbers of fossils of elephants and after and help Mr. Whithers. One of our dea- mastodons. Where they came from, or how cons said so. He told the friends that a long they got there, is a problem which perhaps may winter had passed over the cause at Rockford, but never be solved ; their existence, however, was now the winter was over and gone, and the time no chimera, and as ivory is one of the most of the singing of birds had come. He said, " In valuable commodities of trade in all nations, the name of the church I welcome you, dear sir, some utilitarian Englishmen conceived the idea into our midst. God bless you, and make you a of turning these vestiges of a former epoch to a blessing, as he has already done, and many seals profitable account. Accordingly, about the be given to your ministry. In many things we year 1835, Thompson, Bonner & Co., a rich do all offend. We, as a church, have not been London firm, fitted out an expedition to seek what we wish we had, have not done as we for ivory in the Siberian ice. Novel and inshould have done. There have been many mis- credible as it seemed, the expedition was crowndoings and short-comings, but now that such ed with complete success. The ships returned blessings have been granted us, we do pray that to England richly laden with the choicest ivory ; we may be faithful to the end."

dug up again? Alas! for Christian communities-even among them "there is none righteoas, no, not one."

Soon after the tea-meeting there was a baptismal service. John Goff and several others were immersed, on "a profession of their faith in the Lord Jesus." Our little chapel was crowded to overflowing. Every available space was occupied, and with breachless attention the assembly listened to what the New Testament says about the oft-vexed question of baptism. There were many convictions then. Those who had complacently believed in infant sprinkling or any other form of the Church-who had been "christened" themselves, and, in return, had their children christened-were aroused from their passive acquiescence to think for them-

Blessings of disappointment.

A man hurries breathless to the wharf, in or-that death-freighted vessel. And yet the very next time the man is thrown out by Providence in some favorite plan, he is slow to apply the made by the society, a size has been chosen lesson of the past, and thank his Heavenly Father for a disappointment.

aught me by the same stern old schoolmaster, to stone than that of ordinary brickwork. This Disappointment. And one lesson I learned was size is twelve inches long, and three courses rise that this world was not made only for me. If it one foot in height-a size equally convenient for had been, the sun would have shone just when the workmen in the manufacture and in the use my hay needed it, and the rain would have fall- of the bricks. Nine bricks of this kind and size en only when my garden needed to be watered. will do as much walling as sixteen of the com-But God goes on, and orders things as it pleaseth mon sort, while the weight of the former but him best, without consulting us. And when our little exceeds that of the latter. When passing schemes were thwarted, the stern schoolmaster through the machine, or in the process of drying, said ; " The world was not made for you alone. Don't be selfish. Your loss, perhaps, is another's gain. The rain that spoils your new mown hay, makes the blade of corn to grow faster in your down your profits, will help the poor widow in vonder cottage to buy bread cheaper for her orphan babes. So don't be selfish.'

[September 24, 1862.

Agriculture, &c.

† GATHERING SPONGES.

The sponge business is largely pursued at the Bahama Islands. The exports of this article now amount annually to about $200,000. It is almost entirely the growth of the last twenty years. During that period the article has nearly quadrupled in value, and has been applied to a great variety of new purposes, especiin France.

The sponge is compressed in powerful presses and sacked like cotton. It is assorted and graded, samples being fastened to each package to show the quality.

It is fished or raked or grappled up from the clean, sandy bottom at the depth of twenty, forty and even sixty feet, and often far out from the shore. The water is so transparent that the growing sponge is visible on the bottom.

The sponge, when first taken from the water, is black, and at once becomes offensive to the smell.

The first process is to bury it in the sand, where it remains for two or three weeks, when the gelatinous animal matter seems to be absorbed and destroyed, or eaten by the insects that swarm in the sand.

The boatmen who obtain it are paid in shares by the owners of the boats. This, therefore, becomes a precarious and semi-gambling pursuit,

TUBULAR BRICKS.

The society for improving the condition of the laboring classes in London, highly commend the use of tubular bricks for purposes of construction. According to an official statement which, with the omission of the headers, reduces, by about one-third, the number of joints, and I do not pretend to be a very apt learner, but greatly improves the appearance of the work, the l in th land prev same in so enco marl were clea mun ing held

Se

Ins

W

the r ing:

Тот

Ge

brief

tution

accor

fiftee

chest

reaso

and t

visite

as we

the

were

stand of th

year

time

Lov Mid Up Mid Up Shu Gay

Fal Ha Wo Ch Ca Ca Ke

ani pro

the

eau of an ad H

up of

Once I had life, I breathed, I ate, Contented with my low estate ; And just as many people do, Cared little who were false or true. Had little love and little hate, Did oft oppose, but ne'er debate. If noise be fame, fame I may claim Although of very humble name. Patience and firmness too were mine, And when these qualities combine, They sure must make a noble creature, However ugly be each feature. I scarce could be compelled to stray From what I deemed the proper way, But to persuasive arts I'd bend, Willing to be a stable friend. From slander when will men refrain ! They said, I had but little brain. Unlike our neighbours o'er the water I never did delight in slaughter. I never wept but sometimes cried, Peaceful I lived, and peaceful died. But when my voice was lost in death, When I had yielded up my breath, (Or rather was deprived of life And gashed by the dissecting knife Or it may be that birds of prey By peacemeal tore my flesh away), Forth as a warrior bold I stood And bathed myself in human blood, Ham well might rise and curse my day, For I by hundreds swept away, His warlike sone. They groan, they die, And lift to Ashtoreth their cry, And though they were for vengeance slain, It gave me neither joy nor pain. Then silently I sunk from sight To dwell in dark oblivion's might, Now children read your bible o'er And tell me what's the name I bore. SIOL.

Yarmouth.

Enjoying Religion.

"I don't see how you can enjoy religion in your business," said one to the cashier of a bank, whose business was very extensive.

"I enjoy religion in counting and taking care of money," was the reply.

The brother to whom the reply was addressed founded fellow, Beecher. So mary of the fancy is secreted by the irritation serves for its nourishfaith was young and strong. He knew that trithought it was a profane one, but it was not. people from all parts visit his establishment, that ment. The tumors which are produced are callals were before him, that the path would have The cashier spoke the truth. He did enjoy reit makes the road profitable. If he would shut ed warbles, womals or womils. The skin and hide many thorns butligion in the bank, and while his thoughts were up, the thing could be done." are permanently injured by being subjected to occupied with money. It was his duty to be a "Cheerily on passed the homeward-bound." It is possible that he did not know Mr. Beecher this process .- Ohio Valley Farmer. banker. It was his duty to be diligent in His life had new vigour, his heart had received but we guess that in future Mr. Beecher will rebusiness. It was his duty to have his thoughts its very greatest good. member kim very distinctly .- N. Y. Examiner. AN OX OR Cow that is accustomed to throw. occupied for many hours in the day with money. Altogether, our tea-meeting was a great sucing fences, may be prevented doing so by taking He found enjoyment in the performance of duty, cess. Things seemed altogether bright, and a large wire and bending it in the shape of a joyous sunshine irradiated us all. Gospel ministers should not be too hasty and bow; then bend the points in the shape of a fish-There is a proverb which says, "There is a eager to wipe off any aspersion that is cast on book; tie two strings to the wire, place the WRITE your name by kindness, love, and skeleton in every tamily." What had become them falsely for Christ's sake. Dirt on the char- books in the nostrils lightly, and tie one string mercy, on the hearts of the people you come in of the one which had been in the cause at Rock- acter, it unjustly thrown, like dirt on the clothes, to the point of each horn. This will prevent contact with year by year, and you will never ford " It was hidden now entirely out of sight. should be let alone for a while until it dries, and the most unruly ox or cow from throwing fen-Buried? Yes, for the time ; would it even be and then it will rub off easily enough. be forgotten.

And our hearts, if not our lips, added a hearty " Amen."

Mr. Whithers rose then, and tears were in his eyes as he addressed us. He said so much kindness quite overcame him. He could only say, " It is God's doings. Bless the Lord, O my soul." And he con inued, " Dear friends, I do not donbt you, but I fear myself. I pray that in my weakness I may be helped, in my ignorance instructed, in my youth and inexperience guided aright. I pray that I may be kept humble, never for a moment forgetting that it is God that worketh in me, and that he will give from Sabbath to Sabbath a message from himself to you."

and satisfaction. "My dear friends," he began, "I am as a new-born child amongst you. You know that when first Mr. Whithers preached here I was a stranger to God. His first sermon was blessed to my soul. It was the means of bringing me peace, and through all eternity I shall bess God that I entered your chapel And now, dear friends, I give myself to you, to be taught, and helped, and guided. You know am ignorant, but thank God that he is teaching me, and I should like to belong to you, and to give my whole future li'e to you and to our Saviour." Much more he said which cannot be re-orded here. He seemed full of joy, and his Geological Wonder.

About thirty years ago, somebody made the and even to the present time, although the world knows little about it, the ivory market is mainly supplied from the ice fields of Siberia.

WAY OF DRAFTING FOR THE U. S. ARMY. -In detailing the men, each name on the rolls is written upon a folded ballot and placed in a box, in the same manner as the names of jurymen. A Commissioner appointed for the purpose is first blindfolded, and then draws from the box till the requisite number is obtained. Each man whose name is thus drawn is immediately notified to appear at the rendezvous. Every when used as an article of diet it is almost sovman in the State who does not thus appear is subject to a fine of $75, but this does not release John Goff asked permission to say a few him from his obligation to serve his country .-words, which was accorded with much pleasure He must go himself, or furnish a satisfactory substitute. The draft, when resorted to, conducted by the municipal officers.

> Henry Ward Beecher has been pitching into the street railroad corporations pretty hard lately for running the cars and working the men and horses on Sunday. The other day he was, inquiring of a Brooklyn conductor, in his own peculiar way, whether the Sunday riding could not be broken up. The conductor, it is said, did not know who was conversing with him, yet replied, " I think it might be, but for that con-any number may be readily splayed at the ends for gables, or marked for closures, and broken off as required in use, or they may be perforated for the purpose of ventilation.

A SUBTERRANEAN RAILWAY IN LONDON.

A subterranean railway is now in an advanced state of construction, running about four and a half miles under the city of London. It commences at Victoria Street in the midst of what was formerly a disreputable thoroughtare, but is now a common centre for the Great Northern, the London, Chatham and Dover, and the Metropolitan lines. From that point it passes eastwardly, having a large number of intermediate stations. On the occasion of a recent trip made through a portion of its length, the air was found to be perfectly sweet, and free from all unpleasantness or dampness. The locomotives used condense their own smoke, so that neither gas nor vapor is perceptible. The surface of the rails is made of steel. The line is made for two guages, and it is a double track throughout. The carriages will be roomy, well ventilated, and lighted with portable gas. It is expected that the road will be opened about the middle of June.-Scientific American.

THE TOMATO AS FOOD.

Dr. Bennett, a professor of some celebrity considers tomate an invaluable article of diet, and ascribes to it very important properties:

" First, that the toma o is one of the most powerful aperients of the liver and other organs; where calomel is indicated, it is probably one of the most effective and lest harn ful remedial agents know to the profession. Second, that a chemical extract will be obtained from it that will supersede the use of calomel in the cure of disease. Third, that he has successfully treated diarrhœa with this article alone. Fourth, that ereign for dyspepsia and indigestion. Fifth, that it should be constantly used for daily food; either cocked, raw, or in any form of catsup, it is the most healthy article now in use."

Ox-Bor.

This is a cuticular insect, the egg being deposited externally in the skin of cattle, and the larvæ inhabiting a tumor or abscess formed around them. These tumors are usually found in the back or loins, and are often larger than a pigeon's egg. When the fly is depositing its egg the cattle are in the extremest agitation and dismay, and sometimes become quite furious, running off, beliowing, at full speed. The larve in its cyst gradually enlarges, while the pus that