Seeing this, John Adams, baguage man, got out on front of the engine, and knowing that he could not grasp the child with great presence of mind and steadness of nerve pushed her out of harm's way on one side of the track. We need only add, therefore, that there is nothing in regard to which it is more true that "the best are the cheapest" than in regard to musical instruments. A thoroughly good instrument lasts a lifetime, while an inferior one soon gels out of order and is worthless.

Mison and Hamilin have their new factories in full operation, and are turning out a greater amount of work than any maker of this class of instruments in the country, and probably in the world. Yet they are scarcely able to snpply the demand. This fact alone is good evidence of the excellence of their work.—N. Y. Paper.
