

known to us all, heard me express it in presence of the Executive Council, two days after we returned home. It was declared to the Convention with the utmost frankness, and has never been disguised from anybody down to this hour.

We have not space for more lengthy extracts. The Chronicle characterizes the letter as follows:—

"Both in temper, fairness and argument, it is, unworthy of that gentleman. Savage in tone disingenuous in statement, and weak in argument, this, the latest effort of the member for Hants, must utterly fail, even with his best friends, to justify his defection from the Repeal party."

Collections for French Mission.

MR. EDITOR.—As the field of my labor is extensive, and it is desirable that all persons should have opportunity to contribute toward this important Mission, after due notice given, a considerable space of time has elapsed since the period appointed for the taking up of Collections for it, before we could conveniently carry the object into effect. It affords me pleasure, however, now to forward to Bro. Donation Visits.

SANDY COVE, 17th Nov, 1868. Dear Messenger.—On the 27th of last month, more than sixty of my most affectionate Christian friends called at my humble domicile to pay me and mine a visit. After the multitude had partaken of the rich repast, provided by dear sisters, my esteemed brother and friend, Deacon Edward Denton, took the chair and delivered an impressive address. He spoke of the trials incident to a Christian Pastor, and of the duty of church members to sustain him in his arduous and responsible labors, and closed his remarks by handing his unworthy Pastor a memorandum of the donations, consisting of money, clothing and food, to the amount of one hundred and ten dollars. They were worth more, in as much as they symbolized ardent christian esteem. May God abundantly bless these dear brethren and sisters for their kindness.

Jno. C. MORSE. P. S.—The fragments gathered up lasted the minister's family tea days. J. C. M.
