SAD AFFAIR.—The Charlottown "North Star" says: "A shocking calamity happened at Vernon River a few weeks since, to the family of a colored man named Sheppard. The man and a son were out after fence rails or wood, and the boy was despatched home with the horse and a load -the father remaining behind to cut more. A long time having elapsed, and the boy not making his appearance, Sheppard went to look for him, and found that the horse had fallen a short distance from the house. He passed on, and not finding the boy, returned, when to his horror, he saw the boy's feet projecting from under the horse, and quite dead, a part of the traveller having entered his back. The father's reason fled, and he returned home on his hands and knees, and in his frenzy threw a young child out of doors into a snow drift, He killed the horse either by shooting or with an axe; and we believe attempted bodily harm to his neighbors who caused him to be placed in Georgetown Jail." He has since been placed in the Insane Asylum.
