A writer in the Provincial Wesleyan of the 12th inst., styling himself "Observer," offers an objection to one of the quotations made in our pages by Rev. D. O. Parker. He affirms, that John Wesley's note on Romans vi. 4, " 'We are buried with him,'

"Observer" commences his communication by stating that "the Christian Messenger of the 28th ult., has just made its appearance" The letter is without date, or we should conclude that the writer lived in some foreign country. We should not have noticed "Observer's" letter at all but for the strange jumble he has made of persons. "Hon. D. O. Parker." The error we supor, we presume, he would have prevented it appearing in print.

Mr. "Observer" will please accept our thanks for the information that the ancient Jewish baptisms were by immersion.

The note from Rev. Dr. Cramp, in another column, received since the above was written, will satisfy minds open to conviction, as to what was referred to by John Wesley.

HAYDEN'S CREATION.—The performance of this oratorio by the Halifax Philharmonic Society on Wednesday last, has received the highest encomiums of the press. About 150 performers were in the choir, under the direction of Mr. A. Doane. Never before has there been an opportunity in this city of hearing this sublime piece of sacred music as a whole. It is matter of regret that the Temperance Hall was so engaged that the performance could not be repeated-a number of the instrumental performers belonged to the 30th Regiment and are just leaving for England. Our city requires another and larger Hall for such public purposes. If one were erected further south it would be convenient to that end of the city.

BEARS.—A correspondent at Barney's River writes us as follows :- "One day last week writes us as follows:—"One day last week while two young men by the name of McDonald were floating saw logs in Barney's River, a short distance above Mr. Dowar's mills, they observed a large bear and three cubs close to the River, After some difficulty they succeeded in catching the young bears alive, but the old one escaped. One of the cubs was left tied on the spot till after sunset and was incessant in his appeals. The old bear however, did not deem it prudent to come to his relief.
