CHRISTIAN MESSENGER, JULY 7, 1869

Peailts.

leit a surviving husband, a numerous family, and many relatives and friends to mourn her loss. She was first united in marriage to the Rev John Cogswell, of fragrant r emory. Her first husband leit in her care a family of four children, whose character and position shew that the prayers and counsels of a widowed mother were not in vain. For the last s ven years of her life she was the companion of one who occupied the position of a deacon in the Fifth Baptist Charch of Cornwallis. She thus became the head of another family of six children, the youngest of whom was her own by birth; but they were all alike hers by affection and solicitude. In every position in life sister Woodbirth; but they were all alike hers by affection and solicitude. In every position in life sister Wood-worth took an abiding interest in the church of God. She invariably filled her place at the Lord's table, and in the Conference a cering. The adies' benevo-leat circle enjoyed her hearty co-operation. The poor found in her a constant friend. She knew how to symp itoize with the pastor of the church in all his trials. In her deeds of piety she did not sound a trumpet before her, but she verified the words to Let not thy jeft band know what thy tight hand. " Let not thy left hand know what thy Hand | Chaleur; Prince LeBoo, Curry, do. doeth. Her modesty and discretion threw around her christian life an indescribable charm. On her dying bed suc regretied that she had not done more for her Lord, but she passed through the dark valley exciting in the "sweet promises" of Him who said "Feir not, for I am with thee." Those who knew her best regret her most. But our loss is her gain. Her death was improved by Rev. D. Freeman by a discourse on Num xxin, 10. "Let me die the death of the righteous and let my last end be like his."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,
