The letter from Mr. DesBrisay referred to in our last is on our fifth page. The following has come to hand since:

Mr. Editor :

I have read the letter of Rev. I J. Skinner, in your last number. In referring in my History to early Baptisms in this County, I stated that the party assembled "at the house of the Parents after the ceremony, Mr. Editor,and passed the rest of the day "right merrily." There is in this statement no legitimate ground for the inference that the ceremony was performed " in the midst cluded in the phrase "right merrily." will tell him that, so far as I can learn from many who have been present on such occasions, there was the same kind of innocent enjoyment which we may suppose occurred at the marriage "in Cana of Galilee," and of which the Saviour himself did not disapprove. Every body at all acquainted with the customs of modern times, is aware that in many families of the most pious and worthy people, it is customary in our own day, for the party assembled on Baptismal occasions, to meet at the house of the parents, and without doing violence to any principle of the Christian religion, to partake of the same innocent enjoyment. As to "unconscious babes," "incapable of faith," and the like phrases, I forbear comment, knowing that religious controversy generally ends only by leaving each disputant in full possession of his previous belief.

If a Provincial University is the best thing for the country, it surely ought to be possible to shew, by fair argument that such is the case. It ought not to be necessary to misrepresent other colleges, or to sneer at the man who happens to hold a different opinion from that entertained by Prof. McD. and the Governors of Dalhousie. Every well informed man in Nova Scotia knows that there are no denominational tests or restraints applied in any of our Colleges. Students are required to attend some place of worship on the sabbath, but they are left free to worship with whatever body of christians they choose. In the class-room, all enjoy the same opportunity of earning reputation or reward quite irrespective of their religious views. Young men could not enjoy more entire liberty of conscience in the proposed Provincial University than is now enjoyed at those colleges stigmatized as sectarian. Why then so stigmatize them? Why insinuate that Dalhousie is the only place in which religious freedom is allowed ? Prof. McDonald would have done more service to the cause he undertook to advocate, if he had been a little more respectful toward those who differ from him. He should have remembered that their differing from him is no certain proof of their ignorance, and that their holding firmly by their opinions is not of necessity an indication of stubbornness. He should have dealt more largely in logic and less in sarcasm. Above all he should have remembered that assumption is not argument, and that the most positive assertions do not supported by such elegant and dignified illustrations as that of the Irishman and

NON-SECTARIAN COTLEGES.

The Address which has been disseminated through the country by the Governors of Dalhousie College, advocates the abandonment of the Sectarian Colleges now in existence, and the union of all in one non-sectarian college. There must be some misapprehension on the part of the writer in respect to some, at least, of the existing institutions. The following is an extract from the Charter of Acadia College :--

" And be it further enacted, That no Religious Tests or Subscriptions shall be required of the Professors, Fellows, Scholars, Graduates, Students or Officers of the said College ; but that all the privileges and advantages thereof shall be open and free to all, and every person and per- his horse. sons whomscever, without regard to Religious persuasion ; and that it shall and may be lawful for the Trustees and Governors of the said College to select as Professor and other Teachers or Officers, competent persons of any Religious Persuasion whatever, provided such person or persons shall be of moral and religious characor."

It is difficult to see how any institution can have a more liberal basis, so far as religious preferences are concerned. The Charter seems to meet completely the demands made in the Address for a non-sectarian College. And it will be found that, in fact, the College is maintained in harmony with this theory. The following is the glowing description given in the Address of a non-sectarian University in Scotland :

rect the errors by which we are constantly pupils of our Sabbath School. of our churches and congregations, with the principles which are the true foundation of the privileges and blessings we so bountifully enjoy.

Our brethren in St. John, N. B., feeling the same necessity, some time since organized a Baptist Tract Society for obtaining such literature as it was felt their churches and the people generally require on the principles we hold; but nothing of this kind has been done in this province. Under these circumstances, therefore we hail the letter of the Rev. W. C. Child on another page respecting the American Baptist Publication Society. and shall be glad to hear of any organized effort to bring the works of that society more within the reach of our brethren. Formerly we found it quite difficult to obtain the Society's publications from Philadelphia; they had no Depository in Boston until recently. Mr. C. has commenced an agency for the Northern States and British Provinces. We shall be glad to hear from any of our brethren on the provoking divine judgments. matter of an organization for co-operating with this Society in colportage or otherwise.

We were also glad to receive, a few days since, from Mr. J. Parsons, the Superintendent of the Halifax North Baptist Sunday School, the following communications respecting " The Baptist Teacher," and can cordially endorse his commendation of that periodical of the A. B. P. Society.

Mr. Editor:

Permit me through the columns of the Messenger to bring to the notice of Sabbath School workers, the claims of " The Baptist Teacher." This is the title of a monthly periodical, pubalways produce conviction, even though lished by the American Baptist Publication Society, and furnished in clubs of ten or up wards at the small price of filty cents each per annum. Where single copies are mailed to one address the price is 75 cents a year. Beginning with January 1st 1870, the paper will consist of twelve pages monthly, about the size and style of printing of the "Young Reaper." The Editors are, Rev. A. E. Dickinson and Rev. George A. Peltz, two of the foremost Sabbath School workers in America, who say, "we shall aim, in a vigorous yet sprightly way, to aid Superintendents, Librarians, Secretaries and Teachers in all departments of Christian education, as
