TO DESTROY WEEDS IN WALKS. . A most efficient agent for the destruction of weeds, and one not expensive, can be made by boiling four pounds of arsenic and eight pounds of soda in twelve gallons of water. To every gallon of this boiling mixture three gallons of cold water should be added, and the liquid carefully sprinkled over the walks while it is yet warm. It is desirable to do this in fine weather, and . when the walks are dry, so that the weeds and weed seeds may have the full benefit of the application. Care must be taken not to let any of the liquid fall on the leaves or reach the roots of any plants it is not desired to kill. In twenty-five hours after the poison is put on the walks every weed will be killed; and if it be once thoroughly done, it will keep the walks clean through the whole season.

HOW TO CLEAN MARBLE.

It may be of some value to housekeepers who have marble top furniture, to know that the common solution of gum arabic is an excellent absorbent, and will remove dirt, etc., from marble. Brush the dust off the piece to be cleaned, then apply with a brush a good coat of gum arabic, about the consistency of thick office mucilage, expose it to the sun or dry wind, or both. In a short time it will crack and peel off. If all the gum should not peel off wash it with clean water and a clean cloth. Of course if the first application does not have the desired effect, it should be applied again. 2. Make a paste of soft'soap and whiting. Wash the marble first with it, and then leave a coat of the paste upon it for three or four days. Afterward wash off with warm (not hot) water and soap .---Scientific American.

WEEDING POTATOES.

It is a common practice, in some of the patato-growing districts, to turn a flock of sheep into the potato field for the purpose of eating down the weeds. The sheep will not touch the potato vine.

This pasturing with sheep is very advantageous when the crop is a late planted one, so that the hoeing cannot be completed until the haying or harvesting is finished. Early planted crops, the cultivation of which is completed in the early part of the summer, frequently become grassy and weedy before the time of digging, when the size of the tops precludes cultivation. In this stage the sheep are economical weeders. It is hardly necessary to mention that the feed thus given to the sheep makes a double profit.

EARLY GRASS-CUTTING.

" I have commenced," says a Vermont farmer, " for the last few years, from the 10th to the 25th of June, and finish by the middle of July, if I can; when formerly I commenced after the 4th of July, and finished in August. I can keep more stock from one acre of early-cut hay than I can from an acre of late-cut, and keep it better, and I think it does not injure the ground as much; and then I have a crop of rowen or good fall feed. I feed my sheep nothing but good early-cut hay, and they usually look better in the spring than when they come to the barn in the fall, and eat their hay all up clean. When I fed late-cut hay I could not make them eat it clean, and they came out in the spring poor."

PRUNING RASPBERRIES AND BLACK-BERIRES.

It is better to prune raspberries and blackberries early in the season, but better late than not at all. Even after the plants are in bloom or the fruit is half-grown, it will aid much in increasing the size, and quite often prevent a failure to ripen, particularly in time of severe drought. Almost every one who grows these fruits fails to prune sufficiently for the good of the plants and fruit. Shorten the main canes one-fourth or a third, and the lateral shoots at least one-half. Lesson the number of fruit and increase the size by doing so, is the practical maxim of practical horticulturists.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

Probably never before in the whole history of medicine, has anything won so widely and so deeply upon the confidence of mankind, as this excellent remedy for pulmonary complaints. Through a long series of years, and among most of the races of men it has risen higher and higher in their estimation, as it has become better known. Its uniform character and power to cure the various affections of the lungs and throat, have made it known as a reliable protector against them. While adapted to milder forms of disease and to young children, it isat the same time the most effectual remedy that can be given for incipient consumption, and the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs. As a provision against sudden attacks of Croup, it should be kept on hand in every family, and indeed as all are sometimes subject to colds and coughs, all should be provided with this antidote for them.

Although settled Consumption is thought incurable, still great numbers of cases where the disease seemed settled, have been completely cured, and the patient restored to sound health by the Cherry Pectoral. So complete is its mastery over the disorders of the Lungs and Throat, that the most obstinate of them yield to it. When nothing else could reach them, under the Cherry Pectoral they subside and disappear.

Singers and Public Speakers find great protection from it.

Asthma is always relieved and often wholly cured by it.

Bronchitis is generally cured by taking the Cherry Pectoral in small and frequent doses.

For a Cough and Cold, no better remedy can be had. Take small doses three times a day and put the feet in warm water at night, until the disease is broken up.

For Influenza, when it affects the throat or lungs, take the same course.

For Whooping Cough, give small doses three or four times a day.

For Croup, give large and frequent doses until the disease is overcome.

If we were only half as lenient to the living as we are to the dead, how much happiness might we render them, and how much vain and bitter remorse might we be spared when the grave, the " all atoning grave," has closed over them ?

These are good words of John Ruskin: -" It is only by labour that thought can be made healthy, and only by thought that labour can be made happy.

No family should be without the Cherry Peetoral on hand to protect them, in case of attack, from the above complaints. Its timely use often spares the patient a great amount of suffering and risk, which he would incur by waiting until he could get other aid. Parents, keep it in your houses for the exigencies that arise. Lives dear to you may be saved by it.

So generally are its virtues known, that we need not publish certificates of them here, or do more than assure the public that the best qualities it ever possessed are strictly maintained.
