

tance of Christian professors exercising kind feelings and charitable sentiments toward one another. Let us avoid ungenerous strictures and unseemly bickerings, and with Christiansincerity earnestly seek for the truth. "Philos" is done.

These are remarkable times in which we live. Events are transpiring which appear to be the culmination of what has been in course of preparation for ages past. The fall of the Napoleonic dynasty in France is what could not have been anticipated even a few months or weeks ago. A revolution in the government of France has been effected without bloodshed amongst the people. A large proportion of the French nation have long sought for this. Thousands have endured more or less of suffering, and not a few even death itself in their devotion to what they have regarded as Liberty.

It is very doubtful whether the Constituent Assembly when elected will be able to govern the country as effectually in a time of peace as the present Provisional Government who have assumed the reins of power are now doing.

After what has taken place in that unfortunate country, we need not be surprised at anything that may take place in the way of political change.

The Witness of last week gives some statements which if correct would indicate that the recent changes have been a remarkable interposition of Providence. It is as follows:

GREAT PERIL ESCAPED.—In many districts of France the Roman Catholics commenced to threaten, worry and persecute the Protestant minority, as if they were sympathizers with the Prussians. In the eyes of the Jesuits this was a religious war from the beginning; and the Empress was a tool in their hands. In La Vendee and in many other districts of France where Protestants are but weak there was serious alarm of a general massacre.—The Empress so far from repressing the persecution, encouraged it. The matter was brought up in the Corps Legislatif, and the ministry promised to protect the minority but failed to do so.—Just in time to check the rising tide of fanatical cruelty, the Government was overthrown and the Empress compelled to escape from France with her life. The Emperor would not have countenanced the molestation of Protestants, but he was far away from the source of authority. The Empress was the dispenser of power and patronage; her influence was supreme, and she was the servile creature of the Ultramontanists. The Republican Government contains at least one Protestant, Pelletan; and not one Ultramontanist. The persecution of Protestants and the power of the Jesuits have determined together. The Jesuit hate Prussian Protestantism only a little more than they hate German "Catholics" of the national type,—such men for example, as Dr. Dollinger. The Ultramontanists in Bavaria have been utterly discomfited.

It is difficult to say exactly where Pope Plus is at the present time. He who but a weeks ago was pronounced infallible by a number of fallible church dignitaries is now either a fugitive from those who were recently his own subjects, or else he is enjoying the clemency of the King of Italy whom he lately anathematized.

The latest despatch informs us he had taken refuge in the castle of St. Angelo, awaiting the current of events. Other popes as well as himself have had to flee from the Vatican, but France or Austria or some other Roman Catholic power have rescued them. It is not likely that this will be the case again, and his possession of temporal power may be regarded at an end. Where His Infallible Holiness will be to-morrow it is not easy to guess. He may exercise his spiritual functions as well under English as Italian rule. His curses are now as harmless on one soil as on another.

CONSUMPTION,

And the diseases of the anterior and posterior nares, throat, bronchia, lung, heart, liver, kidneys, and uterus, and twenty years spent in investigating, experimenting and proving, with the medicinal and therapeutic properties of the roots, barks, plants and shrubs, indigenous to Massachusetts, Maine, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia,—he has discovered new remedies, and new modes of treatment, for Consumption, not previously known to Medical Science; and with the large number of cases treated, relieved and cured during the past ten years, in Maine, Massachusetts, and in different sections of Nova Scotia, has proved, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that Consumption, very often in its advanced stages, with its medicines and mode of treatment, can be cured. SHELBURNE, April 26, 1870.

DR. JOSEPH D. DAVIS.

Dear Sir: It gives me great pleasure to bear testimony to the wonderful and complete cure your medicines and treatment have effected for me, after having suffered the most severe pain, and been unable to work for over two years, besides losing my eyesight. I am now quite restored to health, able to attend to my business and my eyesight is greatly improved. I attribute this entirely to your medicine, as I had previously consulted many physicians and taken their remedies without any benefit. As you may remember when I first employed you I was at death's door, in the last stage of Consumption, was enormously swelled with dropsy, hardly slept for a fortnight, was extremely weak and no one anticipated my recovery. Should any one doubt this statement I can refer to the Rev. George W. Clark and the Rev. T. Watson Smith, who often visited me during my illness, and you are at liberty to make what use you please of this certificate.

Yours very truly, CHRISTIAN R. BROWN.
