He thought the Inspectors should be well qualified men, and be required to devote their whole time to the work so as to diminish the number of Inspectors, and increase their efficiency and value.

After the unanimous thanks of the audience, Mr. Rand by another unanimous vote was requested to take the platform again, and speak on the Scottish Schools and Teachers. Mr. Rand resumed, and after describing the position of the Teachers and the method of teaching, drew some comparisons and contrasts between the Schools of Nova Scotia and those of Scotland, not always in favor of the latter. An excellent essay by Mr. J. S. Hutton, principal of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum was read by Mr. Parsons, subject " School Discipline ".

The fifth Session was held on Thursday morning. It was moved that the officers be elected. This was carried, and it was done forthwith, as follows :---

THE CHARGE OF SHOOTING. - This case was concluded on Thursday last by the Stipendiary Magistrate giving his judgment "that the testimony of the girl is of the most suspicious character, and her conduct the same evening, subsequent to the occurrence on the road and Common, shows clearly to my mind that she had no fear of violence at the hands of Sweet. Indeed it is evident senger for a day, and that we consequently throughout that her first object in threatening Sweet with the charge was to force preparing for No. 1. of the present volume, him to marry her, and failing in that to punish him. From her statement he undoubtedly deserves punishment; his conduct the city will therefore please place the has been very reprehensible, but the wrong kindest construction on the fact that we were course has been laken. "AN OLD SUBJECT" was the title of a lecture delivered by Hev. D. A. Steele, on Wednesday last before the Amherst literary club. Much curiosity was awakened in the dissection of the subject-Man.

The Amherst Gazette, says the lecturer dwelt upon the assertion that what our country wants is men. in the highest sense of that term, not shufflers or time-servers. He denounced the idea of young men rushing for protessions and seeming to prefer being briefless hiwyers or third-rate doctors rather than being able to turn out a good piece of mechanical work; and regretted that there is not sufficient spirit to k ep more of them at home with a determination to promote their own country's g eaness rather than that of others.

Dear Sir-The wisest of men has said that in ' a multitude of counsellors there is safety." Having been benefitted by your medicines, I wish to say it to others who may be suffering from lung diseases. Early in 1869 my health began to give way, until such a 1.ck of vital tone was experienced that I concluded it was time to try to avert the impending danger or doom; and arranged last au aum for a rest and a visit to my native Province; but on returning found myself no better; I became discouraged, feari g if no help could be obtained that I should have to abandon my work in the ministry. Happily for me; as the sequal proved you were directed this way last winter; and, upon eximidation you said my lungs were in a tubercular condition, and advised me to take medicine; to which I consolted, with many misgivings,

The proprietor, although averse to the practice o. puffing any medicine, feels it his duty to give publicity to the following certificates. -Hundreds could be added, but such names as Dr. How, Professor of Chemistry at King's College ; Capt. Hardy, R. A.; Mr. Solomon, Lunenburg; a d Dudley de Chair, Esq, Halifax, will be sufficient to establish its reputation as a reliable and valuable medicine.

He adverted to the ruinous effects of undue competition, which too frequently is fostered in schools and colleges, and maintained that the offering of such inducements to advancement have prenicious tendencies and are degrading to manhood. He enjoined temperance, industry, purpose, force, etc., as elements of success. But we cannot give even an outline of the many points touched on. The lecture was a fine literary effort, popularly interesting, and one the propagation of whose sentiments must have a decidedly beneficial effect.

The Sixth Session on Thursday afternoon was opened by the following motion from Mr. George, seconded by Mr. McNaughton:

Whereas,-The subject of school discipline, especially as regards corporeal punan increasing amount of attention;

And Whereas,-This subject is of the utmost importance to the members of this association, and is one on which they should be prepared to give an opinion entitled to some weight.

And Whereas,-It is the belief of this Association that the power vested in trustees of retaining the services of teachers for such a length of time as they (the trustees) deem fit, and the existing laws of the land afford a sufficient guarantee against any infliction of excessive punishment on the part of the teacher;

Therefore Resolved, -That it is the opinion of this Association that a discretionary power as to the kind and degree of punish ment to be inflicted on pupils should be left in the hands of the teacher;

Further Resolved, -That in this manner the interests of I ducation will be better subserved than by limiting the power of the teacher by further legal enactments; or by rules laid down by Boards of Commissioners or Trusteer.

After lengthened discussion the resolution was unanimously adopted.
