THE CELESTIAL FLORA.—You can buy complete sets of all the flowers of the Alpine district at the hotel near the foot of the Rosenlau glacier, very neatly pressed and enclosed in cases.

TO TRAIN A HORSE TO STAND.—Take your horse on the barn floor and and throw a strap over his back and fasten it to his right fore foot; lead him along and say "whoa," at the same time pull down the strap, which throws him on three feet, and makes him stop suddenly.

GET LEATHER BITS.—One of the most cruel things done is putting hard, frozen iron bits in a horse's mouth. It is not only painful, but a dangerous act.

TO STOP BLEEDING.—It is said that bleeding from a wound may be stopped by a mixture of wheat flour and common salt, in equal parts, bound on with a cloth.

THE CROW.—Aside from the special question of profit and loss, we have a warm side towards the crow, he is so much like one of ourselves. He is lazy, and that is human; he is cunning, and that is human.

The ship canal between Portage Lake and Lake Superior is completed and will be ready for business on the reopening of navigation in the spring.

The following lines are supposed to have been written by an editor who was insane, for certainly no sane man could dream anything so improbable: I had a dream the other night; When everything was still;

People seldom improve when they set up no other models than themselves to copy after: Copy from the best.
