not march, ships which were unseaworthy, and now a treaty they could not stand upon." Mr. Otway, formerly Under Secretary of State, blamed the Government, but thought the American Government would recede from its extreme demands ; but if it did not, England, having admitted the principle of indirect claims, must be prepared to meet the enormous demands of the United States. Gladstone and several other members defended the action of the Commissioners and the Government, and said they hoped the claims for indirect damages would be withdrawn.

The Times, on Thursday, in reviewing the debate in the House of Commons, says that it is evident the House is unanimous in repudiating admissibility of American claims for indirect losses; and thinks that Mr. Gladstone's language is not likely to induce Americans to withdraw their, demands. The Times strongly deprecates verbal discussion over the Treaty.

On Friday the Times declared that England had not revoked and never would revoke the treaty of Washington. She is still ready and resolved to stand by it.

But cannot and will not embark in an alternative especially designed to close the door on all hopes of a settlement.

The "Times" said on Saturday : "It is morally certain that the attempt to settle the Alabama claims before the Geneva board of arbitration will be a failure. We must therefore make efforts to prevent angry recrimination. If we are successful, the time is possibly near when more dexterous negotiation may settle all differences."

In the House of Commons on Thursday, Mr. Gladstone moved a vote of thanks to the Right Honorable John Evelyn Dennyson, retiring Speaker of the House : and also a Resolution, recommending his elevation to the Peerage. Mr. Disraeli seconded both motions, which were carried by acclamation.

Mr. Milbank proposed to call on Chas. Dilke to justify before the House his recent speech against the Crown; but he was ruled out of order.

Mr. Foster introduced a new Secret Ballot Bill.

Mr. Newdegate opposed it, arguing that it would lead to Universal Suffrage. The Bill passed its first reading.

On Friday the Right Honble. Henry Bouverie Brand, the Ministerial candidate, was elected Speaker of the House of Commons without opposition.

The Times complains that the American case submitted for arbitration has been translated into the continental languages, and scattered over Europe.

Mr. Caleb Gates-

The leading facts of my case are as follows :----I was troubled with a pain in my left side for several years back, and tried some preparations which tailed to do any good, I took a trip to New York about lour years ago; grew worse after me arrival there; felt a violent pain in my forehead and directly above my eyes so that I could scarcely open them for a time; then I applied to a doctor, who informed me that I had a combination of diseases, viz -liver complaint, heart disease, pains in the back and shoulders and jaundice; he said he could cure me and gave me some medicines; also a plaster to wear on my side. I thought I felt somewhat better for a while but after arriving at Halifax, grew worse than ever. I left that place and came home; my friends said that I was too far gone to last much longer. The doctor's here advised me to discontinue using the medicines I had been taking, my knee joints and other parts of my body feeling very weak; they gave me tincture of iron, but it did me but little good ; at length I gave you a brief explanation of my condition, asking if your remedies would do me any good ; the answer was try them if you wish to do so. I took several quarts of your bitters and invigorating syrup and applied some vegetable plaster, and got great relief in a short time; kept gaining in strength and health, and my appetite has been good ever since, so that I can do a good day's work and travel around as well as ever. In fact my system is so regular of late that I need no common purgatives. The cure is an astonishing one even to myself, therefore after taking a view of the deplorable condition I was in I considered it a daty which I owe to you and my fellowmen to give the above statement, in order that it may be made public for the benefit of suffering humanity.

> Yours Respectfully, JOHN BOHAKER.
