

THE CHRISTIAN MESSENGER.

For the Christian Messenger.

IN MEMORIAM.

MRS. WILLIAM MORRISON

Died at Londonderry, June 10th, 1872, Martha, widow of the late William Morrison, aged 70 years. Mrs. M. was baptized, about 30 years ago, by the Rev. J. E. Gogswell, and was one of those of whom the Baptist Church at Portapieque, was constituted. She was a loving, and warmhearted member of that church, till the close of her life. "Fervent in spirit, serving the Lord," was the language of her heart, the rule of her life. Her last illness was lingering. This gave her an opportunity to show the grace, and power of God to sustain his people, in affliction. Her faith was strong, her confidence implicit, her patience unwearyed. For many days she stood on the very brink of the river, willing to wait, but having the desire to depart. On the night of the 10th, inst., she stepped across the dark stream, leaving behind, the sweet assurance, that to her, death was, indeed, "the gate of endless joy;" not only absence from the body, but freedom from sin, being present with Christ, and having blessed fellowship, with "the spirits of the just made perfect." Her death impressed those around her, more than ever, with the truth, that to the Christian, death is but the door to life—life in reality, life in earnest, life sublime, life everlasting.—Com.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

ENGLAND.—Confidence appears at length to be pretty well established in the peaceful settlement of the difficulties with regard to the question of indirect claims now before the Geneva Conference. The discussion of this matter appears to have been largely effected by members of the conference themselves. On Thursday last Earl Granville made a lengthy explanation before the House of Lords concerning the arbitration negotiations. He announced that the injunction of secrecy had been removed from the doings of the arbitration tribunal, and that on Friday an official declaration of the Board's intentions would be given to the public.

He considered the ratification of the withdrawal of indirect claims as certain; and repelled with considerable warmth the assertion of Lord Cairns that bad matters not gone thus smoothly for England at the tribunal the Administration would have been in danger.

His statements were regarded by the majority of the Lords as highly satisfactory. In the House of Commons also, Mr. Gladstone made an explanation, and expressly stated that the controversy with regard to indirect claims was ended. He believed the Treaty of Washington was effective against a revival of claims.

This result is commented on by the English press and the credit given to various parties concerned. The Times says all Englishmen and Americans ought to be grateful to the Arbitrators, who have proved themselves true benefactors to both countries, and adds that the man who rescued America from discredit is Chas. Francis Adams.

The News claims that the result is a great triumph of the firmness and patience of the British Ministry.

Society has now an example for employment of peaceful tribunals, not to complete but to supersede the work of the sword.

Minister Schenck deserves credit for his course during the negotiations between the two Governments.

A telegram from Geneva on Friday last says: The board of arbitration met to-day when its final decision was put on record, rejecting claims for indirect damages, and likewise the demand of Great Britain for a protracted adjournment of tribunal. The next meeting will take place on the 15th July, by which time Lord Tenterden will be able to have the argument on part of Great Britain put in printed form. Count Sclopis, President of the Board, congratulated the arbitrators on the wisdom and perseverance displayed in their deliberations.

An international copyright treaty between Great Britain and the German Empire has been drafted at Berlin.

At the session of the House of Lords on Monday night, the Ballot Bill as amended passed its third reading.

A heavy storm accompanied by loud thunder and remarkably vivid lightning was experienced in London and various other portions of England, the afternoon of Monday the 24th. A Cotton Mill at Bolton, near Manchester, was struck by lightning, and some of the operatives stunned. The "Lord Nelson" tavern at Dover was also struck; taking fire, it was burned and many of the inmates injured.

The same storm was very severe in the Midland Counties, particularly in Stafford, where it unroofed the London Railway Station, and in that portion lying between Rattford and Wolverhampton the crops were destroyed.

FRANCE.—A Paris despatch on Saturday states that a Cabinet crisis is expected shortly, the members of the Right in the Assembly having resolved actively to oppose the Government. McMahon is proposed as the successor of Thiers, in case the letter, resigns. The unsettled state of affairs causes some apprehensions in monetary circles.

The Garde Republicaine Band now visiting Boston has been authorized by President Thiers to visit Chicago.

It was reported that Count Von Armin and Thiers would on Friday sign the treaty providing for anticipation of the time for liberation of French territory from occupation by German troops. The result of the negotiations were to be communicated to the Assembly on Monday by the President, who would demand authority to conclude a loan necessary to make payments provided for in the treaty.
