Society under the first Clause of this Rule.

(The reference is to the dellar a year members.) He then calls upon the public to come up and resuscitate the Society by the payment individually of a dollar a year.

We are then told that the Home Missionary Society " is something more than a mere voluntary Association of Christian philanthropists-it is a body corporate and all its operations fall within the legal established principles applicable to Associations so situate." But in his letter of Feb. 19th, 1873, the esteemed Treasurer of the Society seems to ignore its existence altogether. He says-" The readers of the Messenger need not be told, that at present the Central and Eastern Associations of Nova Scotia Baptists are an Incorporated

Body, carrying on Home Missionary work under a Constitution adapted to the occasion. We were not aware of this before.

We read in the Acts of the Legislature that the Nova Scotia Baptist Home Missionary Society was incorporated May 2nd, 1865, but when was this other Society incorporated? Perhaps, however, the Treasurer means that the two Associations are the Nova Scotia Baptist Heme Missionary Society. . If so, we see the force of his remark that "practically there is no Society," for the Constitution of the Associations is very different from that of the Society. But then we are confused by his subsequent remarks. We are asked for "the reasons which would justify such an upheaval, such a revolution, such a reconstruction." Now if the Society does not

" practically " exist, it surely requires no

" upheaval " or " revolution" to destroy it. If the two Associations are the Society, a " reconstruction ' is certainly needed. Ought not the Constitution of the Associations or of the Society to be changed so as to agree? How can eminent men be satisfied to work amid such confusion?

But in the Treasurer's letter of March 5th, 1873, we are told "that so far as the organization of the Society is concerned, there has nothing transpired which ought to destroy the confidence of the denomination in its Agency, or dampen the energies of its friends as regards it future success."

In his letter of March 12th, we are asked,

"what is it in the history and management, or the results of the operations of the Society-that has shaken the confidence of any former friends or supporter of the institution?' And again, we are told that an attempt to change the present methods of working is but an act of "Spoliation' and the laying on of " vandalic hands.'

The public however, seem to think with the respected Treasurer of the Nova Scotia

Baptist Home Missionary Society, that the Society " has drifted so far away from its Constitution" that it does not "practi cally " exist. Hence the general desire for a change. And therefore the desire for a change is intelligent, and based on a proplace I found a few praying couls that constituted the seed of a once prosperous little church; having associated with its history, as ministers, the names of Bill, Parkers, Murray, Mortons, and others, who it not the bone are evidently a part of the sinews of our denomination.

I entered upon my nission with little hope that my poor ministry would be appreciated or received by the people; but poor as it seemed to me to be the little church appeared comforted and a desire awakened in the minds of the young peofor the services of the sanctuary.

Truly God's ways are not our ways. At the close of the mission a subscription paper being circulated, first by the Deacon among a few of the members of the church and then by two young ladies connected the congregation, who volunteered to visit every house soliciting old and young to subscribe to aid and encourage the Board to extend the mission to half the time for a year; they succeeded in raising the sum of one hundred and ten dollars which was received by the Board and supplemented by a sum sufficient to enable me to return to them half the time, at a small salary. Since July 23rd 1872, I have been labouring with them under great infirmity of body, I could count it all joy if I could see more fruits of my labour in sinners being converted to God. Still I desire to be thankful for what I have seen, one young person was brought to confess the Saviour and others we believe are enquiring tie way.

I received a note not long since announce ing that Brother Albert Oaks and lady had consented to open their house on the 14th inst., for a denation visit. At the time appointed the house was well filled, many of whom were young ; cople ; they gave me another testimony of their regard by placing in the hands of the Deacen, a purse with other things amounting to $20.00; this was presented in due form, after which several good speeches were delivered suit able for the occasion. Prayer being offer ed the company dispersed apparently much pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

May God bless the donors, in reviving his church, and in converting the souls of the dear young people.

Yours, &c., BENJAMIN MILLER, Licentiate.

We copy the following paragraphs from the San Francisco Evangel.

We had much pleasure in meeting with Rev. A. R. R. Crawley and hearing from him about his misson field among the Burmans. The mission cause has got to that point where Burmese have ceased to scoff, out of respect to what they perceive Christianity to be. The prospect for the future is very cheering. There is hope of such a glorious work as has been going on among the Teloogoos for the past two or three years. The Burmese number some 5.000,000 population, and are a very intelligent, quick-witted people. Then Bro C. brought reports from many whom we had fellowship with, a few years ago, in the " school for prophets" at Newton.

Again Rev. J. Francis is finding his Chinese Mission rooms too small for the number who attend.

At Brooklyn Rev. J. Francis and Rev. A. R. R. Crawley preached in the morning and Rev. W. Hildreth in the evening. The Sunday school here increases in numbers siasm into the singing exercises.

B., and to provide for payment of such Harbor Masters out of fees to be collected by them, and any surplus of which shall be applied to the improvement of said harbors respec-

The Hon. John Young and Mr. Anglin opposed the Bill, and Mr. Church of Lunenburg, made his first speech on this bill, and in lavor of it.

Hon. James McDonald, of Pictou, also favored the hill, regretting that it did not extend to the whole Dominion, instead of some Provinces.

Mr. Killam approved of the bill, but hoped the power would be left to the local authorities.

On Friday night Mr. Tilley laid the estimates for the financial year 1873-4 before the House. The following are some of the items of estimated expenditure; Interest on public debt $5 955,000; charges of management $571,312; civil government $698.636.66, administration of justice $348,86666; police $468,491.75; legislation $729,076; Geological survey and observations : 193 418 95; Immigration and quarantine $327,210; marine hospital $60 500; pensions $16 016; public works and buildings $9,974,240, chargable to capital; public works and buildings, to income $2.097,500; ocean and river steam service $242,141.64; penitentiaries $357, 525.88; militia $1,000,000; Light house and coast service $494,649.50; fisheries $51,875; steamboat inspection $10,850; Indians $80,113; Indians $73,236; Cus toms $602,237; Inland revenue $218,300: public works $2,069,845; Post office $1, 316,000.
