trines which the Church at the Reformation did disown and reject.

3. And, lastly, in the admission of Candidates to holy orders—in the licensing of curates—and also in the distribution of patronage, to protect us and our families from teaching—which though it may not subject the individual offender to judicial condemnation—is, when taken in its plain and obvious meaning, subversive to those truths to which our Protestant Church, as keeper and witness of Holy Writ, has ever borne its faithful testimony.

Mr. T. R. Andrews, in the course of a long address, said the memorial was signed by 14 noblemen, 17 baronets, 17 knights, 5 honorables, 11 members Parliament, 15 mayors, 268 justices of the peace, 323 Churchwardens, besides a number of the laity, making a total of 60,200 signatures. The Archbishop of Canterbury stated that the subject of the memorial, and of the present important meeting, had already received the careful consideration of the Archbishop of York and of himself, and that they had come to the conclusion that it would be best for them, to draw up a written reply.

U. S. ITEMS.

Boston is still moving on in the erection of Church Edifices. The Watchman & Reflector give a full description of a new House of Worship now being built for the Shawmut Avenue Baptist Church :

The lot of land at the corner of Columbus Avenue, Chester Park and Wellington Street, cost $70,000. The plan adopted is similar to that of Mr. Heworth's church, the auditorium being amphitheatrical in form. The building will front on three streets—150 feet on Columbus Avenue and 113 feet on West Chester Park and Wellington Street. It is to be of brick, with light colored sandstone trimmings, with a tower at each corner of the Columbus Avenue front. The basement will be above ground, running beneath the entire church, finished 14 feet in the clear, divided as follows : One large vestry, 64 by 75 feet; one smaller vestry, 36 by 37 ; one parlor, 37 by 48 ; two class rooms, 24 by 27 ; one infant class room, 32 by 32; pastor's study, toilet room, and kitchen all connected.

The auditorium will be a novelty in New England church architecture. As previously stated, it is to be in the form of a semi-circle, with the floor inclined five feet in forty-eight, the pews in perfect circles with eighteen radiating aisles, thus concentrating the sight to one point. The ceiling is to be of iron, forty feet from the floor divided into deep panels. The woodwork in the basement and in the construction of the pews in the auditorium is to be of hard wood. The building will be heated by seven furnaces, and the main audience room lighted by four chandeliers, containing one hundred burners each. The ceiling will be richly moulded with wooden ribs and ornamental centre pieces placed over each chandelier. The seating capacity will be 2,200 the pews being of different sizes, accommodating from three to seven persons each. The choir gallery and organ are to be behind the pulpit, the gallery slightly elevated above the pulpit platform. The organ, which is intended to be a very superior instrument, will have a frontage of thirty-two feet, and a height of twenty-seven feet. The baptistery will be between the choir gallery and the pulpit, marble lined, and of a very elegant pattern, so constructed as to remain always open, an ornamental screen hiding it and the dressing rooms from the auditorium. The total cost of the building, exclusive of the land, will be $100,000.

Rev. Dr. J. Wheaton Smith, of Philadelphia has gone to Sweden.

Rev. C. F. Myers of Reading has received a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Sutton.

WASHINGTON BAPTISTS.—In 1860, the number of Baptist churches in Washington was 5 (with sittings for 3,340 persons), the cost of which was estimated at $46,000. The population was then 75,080. In 1870, the Baptists had 16 church edifices (with sittings for 8,775), costing $273,000. The total population was then 131,700. It will be readily seen that the number of church edifices has more than tripled—the number of sittings nearly so—while the population of the city has not doubled.

There is a body of Christians in Maine calling themselves "Repository Baptists," a schism from the Free-will Baptists, thus making "two bites of a cherry." Their distinctive principle is opposition to an educated ministry.
