Deaths.

At Little Glace Bay, C. B., on the 23rd Inst., Isabella M. L., daughter of Capt. John and Sarah Phillips, aged 15 years. The deceased had the Measles in the summer of 1873, and was just recovering, when the heavy gale of Aug. 24th came on in which she took a heavy cold. From this time she gradually failed. She was brought to a knowledge of the Saviour under the labours of Rev. G. W. Thomas, at Canoe, and was baptized on April 1874, by Rev. M. A. Bigelow. Always a remarkable, thoughtful girl, upon her conversion she became more so, and during the remainder of her short life, adorned the profession she had made. Her patience through all her suffering, and faith and confidence in her Saviour was something beautiful. She had not the least fear of death. When asked if she would like to get well, said, she had no choice, it was all with her Saviour. On the morning of the day on which she died, she called the family around her bedside, and told them good bye exhorting them to meet her in heaven, and asking them to sing for her.

"Come sing to me of heaven
When I'm about to die," &c.

She remained conscious to the very last. Only about five minutes before her death, as her mother bent over her weeping, she told her to look up. And thus about three o'clock, P. M., the saint, so young, yet ripe for the kingdom, almost without a struggle fell asleep in death.

Asleep in Jesus blessed sleep,
From which none ever wake to weep;
A calm and undisturbed repose,
Unbroken by the last of foes

—Com. by H. N. P.

But wither in the rising day;
Thus was it lovely infants down,
Thus swiftly fled her life away.

"Thou art gone to the grave; and, its mansion forsaking,
Perchance thy weak spirit in doubt lingered long;

But the sunshine of Paradise beamed on thy waking,
And the sound which thou heard'st was the seraphim's song."

His funeral sermon was preached at the house of his parents by the Rev. N. V. D'ito to a large gathering of relatives and friends.
