From Glasgow the Evangelists went to Perth, Dundce, Aberdeen, Inverness and other towns in Scotland and in every place their labors were attended with similar results. Such a general spiritual movement, and such marked manifestations of God's saving power in the conversion of souls of Jesus had not been witnessed in Scotland for the last century and probably not at any one period of its history. From Scotland Messrs. Moody and Sankey passed over to

BELFAST,

Ireland; and no sooner did they commence their evangelistic services in that city of industry, wealth and intelligence, than the great awakening Spirit took possession of the people. No place of worship, however large, could accommodate the crowds that flocked to see and to listen. We arrived in Belfast from Dablin on the 17th of September, and continued there for some ten days. Five or six meetings were held daily by the Evangelists, aided of course by the ministers and lay christians of the city, and every meeting filled with people, who seemed intensely in earnest in relation to cternal things. The open air services on Sabbath afternoon were attended by congregations numbering from 20,000 to 40,-000 people, and in every case the most perfect decorum prevailed, and the preaching and singing of the two Evangelists could be heard distinctly by nearly all presont.

A public meeting held in the Botanic Gardens gave the people from the surrounding country an opportunity of hearing the Evangelists before they left Belfast, and they gladly came in from all directions. From 25,000 to 30,000 were in attendance. The day proved favorable and the services were a perfect success. There is an entire absence of the physical phenomena, so manifest in the great movement that took place in 1859, and the work therefore is much more satisfactory.

In the presence of such a crowd of witnesses may we not take up the language of Israel's King, and with hearts full of joy and praise exclaim, " This is the Lord's doing, and marvellous in our eyes !" Through Whitfield and Wesley, England, by the divine blessing, gave to America the spirit of religious revival that for the past century has been acting there as leaven hidden in the meal, and will continue to do so until that mighty continent shall be won to Jesus. Now America, through these two remarkable men, Moody and Sankey, has sent back across the great waters the same spirit of revival with compound interest. May the blessed Spirit go go forth with resistless energy until England, Ireland, and Scotland shall be redeemed and given to Christ as his own inheritance forever. I. E. BILL.

YARMOUTH. - Dear Editor. - The work of grace among us still continues. Every week brings fresh accessions to our churches ; and the spirit of earnest inquiry minim fested by those who have not yet made any profession of faith in Christ, indicates a lurther ingathering, during coming wesker of " precious sheaves."

At the Temple we have been greatly bles ed and strengthened. We have had baptisms every Lord's Day of the past four weeks. Since coming among this beloved people one year ago, it has been my privilege to extend the hand of welcome and fellowship to thirty nine of the followers of Jesus, twenty-nine of whom I was permit ted to baptize, the remainder having been received by letter. Bro. Earle's visit was made a blessing to all the churches in this place. That visit will long be remembered with gratitude by the ministers and congregations in Yarmouth. Brethren Day and Gallaher are much encouraged by seeing the work progressing steadily in their churches. All praise to Him whose precious promises have been so richly fulfilled in the comfort and prosperity of believers and in the salvation of sinners. Very truly yours, W. H. WARREN.

The Evangelists held meetings in Londonderry tor four or five days, with special manifestations of divine favor, and then passed over to

DUBLIN.

Here, the Crystal Palace or Exhibition Building, had been fitted up to seat 5,000 people; but 10,000 flocked to the first meeting, and the prospects at last accounts, were highly encouraging. Thou God of infinite love, pour upon Dublin the mighty refreshings of thy grace. Now for the

of this marvellous movement. These, so far as we can judge, from careful enquiry and observation as we have passed through the different towns and cities, afford the most satisfactory evidence of the work. Shall we classify ?

1. We see ministers and churches belonging to the different evangelical denominations brought up from the frigidity of sectarian predjudice and isolation, to a higher plane of christian fellowship and co-operation in the great work of saving souls. This is seen in the noon-day meetings for prayer, established in all towns and cities where this revival power has been felt. We have attended a number of these meetings in Newcastle, as also in Belfast. There christian love triumphs over the spirit of sectarian bigotry, and all engage with one accord, in pouring forth earnest supplications for the progress of the Lord's work. It is interesting to listen to the requests for prayer read at the opening of the noon-day services. These specify the case of a father, a mother, a husband, a wife, a brother, a sister, a friend, a master, a sick man; an infidel, a drunkard, a school, a class, a meeting, a church, town, a village, or city, as the case may be. These are taken up with an earnest. ness and faith, and spread before the mercy sead in a style which proves that there suppliants have full confidence in the power of prayer.

ST MARY'S, GUYSBURO COUNTY .- Rev. H. Eagles writes on the 23rd ult: "Our meetings at St. Mary's and Iodian Harbor are encouraging and our Sabbath Schools increasing in interest. We had one added to the Church at St. Mary's by baptism a few Sabbaths ago. Pray for us."

stand for East Toronto, but it is believed he would lend strength to the party which will not desert his old constituency. The looks forward to annexation to the United proposed Canadian Reciprocity Treaty with the former will speedily recognize the prethe United States.

Sampson Lloyd said, under the proposed Treity manufacturers in England were placed at great disadvantage, compared with those of the United States. The Treaty was unfair in principle and exceed. ingly injurious in practical effect. He wished to submit as a general principle that in any case where a British colony independently negotiated a Treaty with a foreign country, England should not be placed in a worse position than the foreign country. Lord Derby replied that the Government agreed to this principle.

Mr. Barren, representing Leeds, said he did not desire to have a protective clause. He only wished Canada not to grant the United States anything more than England. Mr. Behrens, representing Bradford, stated that there was a party in Canada so powerful that it might take action prejudicial to England, if the Treaty was not clearly worded to prevent it. He asked for the insertion of a clause providing that the United States shall never have the right to claim any remission of duties not accorded to British commerce.

Lord Derby then replied at length. He said : " I do not know that we ever received a deputation in whose views we so entirely concur. Your case is in substance neceded to absolutely and entirely. We agree with you on the main point, that in Cure of the Parish, has declared his inten- | every negotiation of this kind it is the duty of the Government to see that English trade and commerce are not placed at a disadvantage as compared with foreign the House of Lords on the question whether countries. * * * As to the danger of creating bad feeling between England and Canada, were any provisions favorable to. British trade inserted in the Treaty, I am firmly convinced that no such danger exists.

There is another side to the question. While protecting British trade, we are bound to look at the peculiar position of Eight Mile Brook. Canada in her relations to the United States. We are bound to place no unnecessary obstables in the ways of free commercial relations between those countries. If for any supposed interests of our own we objected to the treaty establishing such freedom, it is perfectly clear that discontent among loyal Canadians would result. Those attached to the Imperial Government Sir John Macdonald has been invited to who, I believe, universally preponderate, GERMANY. - Berlin correspondence of Times reports that the Prussian Government have decided to give its consent to the conversion of Prussian Bank into a German National Bank. If it is approved by the other States of the Empire, it is not improbable that the Judicated Bill will be withdrawn from the Reichstag to give time for negotiation.

In the German Reichstag on Tuesday last, Herr Lasteer demanded ultimate publicity to judicial proceedings as the best guarantee of the rights of the people.

Souty AMERICA.-The rebellion in the Argentine Republic is ended. The gunboat Paruna surrendered. General Mitre has fled to the desert, abandoning all the baggage of his army.

The South American States will be in. the Conference. It is also hoped the United States will be represented at the Conference.

2. We see in the churches thus revived. a spirit of zeal and self-sacrifice in the work of guiding sinners to the Savicur, never seen in a dead of lukewarm church.

3. We see in all these plans an immense expansion of the evangelising agencies of the church. Halls for special services open, Bible classes and Sabbath schools greatly multiplied, mothers' meetings. meetings for the working classes, midnight meetings for fallen women, breakfast provided by the young men in Glasgow for the uncombed and unwashed, and after they are fed to the full there is placed before these perishing ones the rich feast of redeeming love.

4. Hundreds of men and women who, before this revival came, were living in the depths of depravity, have been brought to the Saviour for cleansing, and are now walking in the king's highway of holiness.
