RUSSIA.—A telegram on Saturday from St. Petersburg, gives full particulars of the Royal wedding, celebrated there on the previous day between the Duke of Edinburgh and the Grand Duchess Maria. The chapel was brilliantly illuminated with candles, and the aisles and the side doors were crowded with ladies and gentlemen.

The procession entered the chapel in the following order: First the Grand Equerries then the Emperor Alexander and the Empress Maria, followed by the Grand Duke Alexander, the heir apparent, and Princess Adalgard, His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and the Princess of Wales, Prince Arthur and the German Princess Imperial. Then came the bridegroom, the rest of the Imperial family with the bride, followed by an immense train of Court officials.

The bride wore a long crimson velvet mantle trimmed with ermine, and a magnificent diamond coronet. Her train was borne by four pages.

Prince Alfred, the Bridegroom, wore the Russian Naval uniform.

The Russian Princesses wore blue velvet and gold.

In every available position crowds of interested and animated spectators watched the gorgeous spectacle.

The Duke and the Duchess advanced to a part of the floor covered with crimson velvet, while gold crowns are held over their heads by attendants, which performance is continued during all the marriage ceremony. The prescribed rites of the Greek Church are minutely followed, and now the wedded pair follow the High Priest three times around the altar, holding the end of the Priest's robe in their joined hands. With the disengaged right hands they carry lighted candles, thus concluding the peculiar symbolic marriage rites of the Greek Church.

The procession next went to the Hall of Alexander, where the Dean of Westminster performed the English marriage ceremony. Many English gentlemen were present, wearing scarlet, officers of high rank, ladies, nobles, diplomats, and the chief men of the Empire, headed by Prince Gortshakoff, now 76 years old. After the ceremonies there were splendid festivities.

PAUL and CHRIS T: A PORTRAITURE AND AN ARGUMENT.

BY J. M. CRAMP, D. D.

This small volume is rich in vigorous thought and in devout feeling. In ten short chapters he sketches the early life and the labours of the great Apostles, his views of Christ, of faith, of regeneration, and holiness, his letters and theology. The whole is at once a history and an argument, full of instructive lessons, and decisive as evidence of the truths of Christianity. Dr. Cramp has made himself familiar with modern Biblical criticism, and gives in the text or in notes the result of recent scholarship. The volume will find no small acceptance with teachers, ministers, and intelligent readers generally. We give it a cordial welcome.—Freeman.

MESSES. CALER GATES & Co., Dear Sirs—I am going to give you this testimonial of my appreciation of your most invaluable medicines, and the wonderful satisfaction that I have experienced from their use. I was troubled with liver complaint for a number of years, and by times was not able to work. In March 1872, was taken very sick, was thought by my friends to be going with consumption. I was very weak with a bad cough, pain in my lungs and left shoulder, was unable to turn in bed; tried everything that was recommended, but found no relief; and having a catalogue of your medicines in my house, sent and got two bottles of your Bitters and Syrup, and used them; and am happy to say that I am hearty and well, through the use of the same. They also have cured me of dyspepsia, by which times trouble me much. I have also used your Eye Relief, and believe it to be the best preparation for weak eyes in use. No family should be without your medicines; for by their use they will escape a vast amount of suffering. You are at liberty to make this public if you wish, for the benefit of suffering humanity. Believe me, yours, truly,

DAVID FREEMAN.

REV. MR. CARPENTER'S LECTURE.

I am now prepared to supply copies of the admirable lecture on "THE GREAT COMMISSION," delivered by Rev. C. H. CARPENTER, of the Burman Mission, at the Convention at Windsor, in August last.

It is published by the American Baptist Missionary Union, in the form of two tracts of 23 pages each, entitled respectively,

"The Great Commission and its Fulfillment by the Preacher,"

AND

"The Great Commission and its Fulfillment by the Church."

The price of each is FIVE CENTS, TEN for both. Everyone interested in Foreign Missions ought to have these pamphlets, and read them. They ought to be widely circulated in our Churches. Brethren send along your orders.
