On the 28th of March, 1871, it was Agreed and voted that they would meet the Baptist Church at Horton, on Wednesday the eleventh day of April next to discuss and conferr together in order (if possible) to remove barrs and difficulties out of the way that may or dows hinder our walking together in love and fellowship of the gospel.

No record is made from this date till Monday the 6th of March, 1786, when the following minute appears :

3rd. We determine and resolve by the assistance of God to renew our Covenant with the Lord and each other and to walk in all the rules of the Gospel blameless. And believing it to be for the Glory of God and for the good of his cause to set apart such gifts as we may judge most profitable to be improved among us. (Not obstructing the weakest when influenced by the Spirit of God.) We unanimously voted that Brother Payzant should be ordained as a Pastor and teacher over us.

4th. It was unanimously voted that Brother Harris should be ordained as a Deacon.

5th. It was voted that Brother Payzant April next, at the Baptist Meeting house in Horton if it may be had, otherwise in the most convenient place.

6th. It was voted that a letter should be sent to the reverend T. H. Chipman of Anapolis desiring him to attend with Delegates from there to assist in Ordination. Then the Meeting adjourned to Saturday the eighth of April next then to meet at the School house near the Whalebone at one of the clock, P. M.

We must reserve the remainder for another week.

Some of our United States contem poraries are much concerned that they are obliged to submit to polygamy among their legislators, as well as in one of their States. The N. Y. Methodist says :-

It is enough to make us all blush for shame, to be compelled to confess that the House of Representatives has, all this session, tolerated the presence of a polygamist delegate. Elder Cannon, were he living in any one of the States, would be arrested and tried for bigamy; in Washington he helps to make laws for the whole people. He was bold enough to say, last week that polygamy could only be put down by reason. This is, in some sort, a defiance of the coercive power of our courts. Just as logically might we allow should be ordained on Monday the 10th of a burglar, with the stolen property in his possession, to demand that we should convince him of his errore, instead of locking him up in State prison."

ROBBERS .

Extract of letter from Rev. R. Sanford to Dr. Cramp :--

RANGOON, June 19th, '74. " Mrs. S. and I have been very well and comfortable since coming to Rangoon; but we do not feel so pleasantly now, as we might under other circum. stances. On Monday night, 15th inst., our house was entered by a gang of thieves or house robbers, who succeeded in getting every pice of my money. They took Sto Rupees; and about 10 Rupees worth of small arti-I had retired about 11, weary cles. from the day's work. The night was very dark and rainy; such a night as might be chosen for committing robberies-when it rains hard it makes a sort of roar, which renders minor sounds quite indistinct. The windows and doors were bolted as usual. During the night, probably toward morning, a hole was cut through the bathroom floor sufficiently large to allow a man to crawl through. The door of the bath-room was then unfastened from the inside. This door leads out by means of a platform and steps. You may notice too that the floor of our house is about 7 feet from the ground. The cutting seems to have been done by means of a sharp gimlet or bit and chisel. It was done without noise evidently. From the bath-room they came without obstruction through a small dressingroom into our sleeping room. They found my keys in a drawer where had put them, supposing they would not be easily detected. They must have watched me through some crack or open place as I was retiring. My trunk was thoroughly searched and the money taken-although it stood within a few inches of the foot of my bed. They also searched a small trunk belonging to Mrs. S. which was not more space to give in full these "Church than two feet from her pillow. Whether they used anything to stupify us we cannot tell, but it seems very "neighbourhood the whole would be full strange that we should not have been of interest, the principal incidents will aroused. It may have been providenhowever interest all who are at all tial that we did not awake, for the robbers no doubt were well armed. Notof Kings County. At a meeting held withstanding the loss, we are thankful on the 19th of August, 1780, it was to Him who sees in secret that our lot is no worse. Rev. D. S. Brayton our next neighbor came in to see us, and immediately on his return sent me a roll of fifty Rupees. It was very kind of him.

For some time the papers have been largely occupied with accounts of the closing of another year's work of schools and colleges. These institutions are, for the most part, conducted so quietly that, were it not for the publicity given to the anniversary exercises, multitudes would never suspect their existence. The work is none the less valuable, because it is done in this unobtrusive way. One is surprised at the number of colleges reported, yet they all seem to have reasons for their existence, which are satisfactory in the judgment of wise and good men. But we are too much inclined to think that the world is made, and what is necessary for the present is all that will ever be needed. The strong colleges and universities of the present have grown from small beginnings, and many of them were as fit mark for depreciating criticisms, as some of the small colleges that are now struggling into a better condition. Experience will yet show the wisdom of sustaining these, as it has proved the wisdom of aiding the small institutions in the past.

The last year has been favorable to many Baptist colleges and universities. Brown and Madison, and many academies under Baptist patronage in New England and the Middle States, have received large additions to their funds. And still the work of endowment is moving on. To some the amount of money devoted to this object may appear too large; but it is as nothing. when compared with the sums spent follies.

We proceeded as follows: 1st. As the Rev. Handley Chipman was not free to assist in the ordination of Brother Payzant as we expected, we (by his desire) put it off untill the first Monday in July, then to be effected in Horton as aforesaid.

2nd. Resolved to meet the 3rd of June at the house of Deacon Cleveland in Horton, to proceed in whatever may appear before us.

On June the 3rd, a letter was sent "to the church in Falmouth and Newport, desiring them to send us some assistance in the above said Ordination." The ordination appears to have been made a season of special services for it is recorded as follows :

Saturday 1st of July being met as before resolved we spent the afternoon in Singing, Praying and Confering.

Monday 3rd of July, Brother Payzaunt was this day solemnly set apart by Ordination as a Publick Pastor and Teacher, but more particularly as a Pastor over the Church of Christ, embodied by the Rev. Henry Alline in Cornwallis and Horton : In whose Ordination the Rev. T. H. Chipman assisted and preached the Ordination Sermon

It is evident that discipline was not Engineer. neglected. Some brethren are spoken of as " walking disorderly," and having " disputes and contradictions between them," in consequence of which they were "suspended," or "set aside for the present."

A meeting dated January 30th, 1789, has the following minute :

Bro. Thaddeus Harris was set apart by Ordination to the office of a Deacon.

Rev. H M. Gallaher, whose address before the American Congregational Union is reported in the Christian Messenger for August 5th, is not " pastor of one of the New York Baptist Churches," but is pastor of the Baptist Church at Elizabeth, New Jersey. He was for several years pastor of the First Baptist Church of Brooklyn, New York, during which period his popularity as a preacher was second only to that of H. W. Beecher.
