For the Christian Messenger. YARMOUTH COUNTY BAPTIST SABBATH SCHOOL CONVEN-TION.

Dear Brother Selden,-

Allow me through the columns of the Christian Messenger to give a brief report of the organization of a Baptist Sabbath School Convention in this county.

Pursuant to a request made, delegates from a majority of the schools to the number of 34 assembled in the vestry of the First Baptist Church, Yarmouth, on the 18th ult., at 10 o'clock, A. M.

After a number of addresses warmly approving of the object of the meeting, the Convention was organized by appointing the following officers : President, Bro. Jas. -B. Kinney; Vice President, -Secretary, D. A. Vaughan; Treasurer, C. W. Sanders, and an Executive Board. In the evening a public meeting, in the interests of Sabbath Schools was held. Pleasing and appropriate addresses were given by several clergymen and others The proceedings during the day and evening, were deeply interesting and very harmonious; the only metter of regret being, that all the Baptist Sabbath Schools in the county had not participated in the proceedings, but I sincerely hope that not one will be wanting at our next meeting.

> Yours truly, D. A. VAUGHAN, Secretary.

For the Christian Messenger.

Dear Brother,-

I notice in the Christian Messenger of Oct. 20th, a communication from "Silas T. Rand " purporting to be a reply to the enquiries of "A Friend of the Micmacs," of Oct. 6th. Instead however of answering the enquiries made, he makes an attack on the operations of other missionaries, who imitating Paul the apostle to the Gentiles ministered statedly to the people in such houses as he could command. He commences by giving a partial statement of my enquiries. The question was, where is the Micmae Mission?" Where is there a meeting house for the poor Micmac to hear the gospel? Or a school room where he can be taught to read his books? Or mission premises of any kind where the people can be gathered for instruction? Where is there a christian Micmac Village, or family, or individual? Or if the last of these is too much to ask, where is the place, and when the time, at which two or three, or even one of the Micmacs, old or young, is statedly taught, by the missionary, or by any one under his direction, the way of life and salvation? If even this is too much to ask after thirty years of agitation and toil, and study, and prayer. Does the missionary contemplate the appointment of a time and place for statedly and persistently teaching the gospel to the Micmacs ?" Not one of these simple questions does Mr. Rand attempt to answer ; but after giving the first three, demands a Scripture warrant for mission premises. He even lays down the canon for my answer. " Let there be no evasion." Now there is no difficulty in proving from Scripture the necessity of mission premises, eince Paul ministered, in the proseuchæ; in the synagogue, in the school of Tyrannus and in his own hired house ; and Christ Himself provided rooms for His disciples to meet and worship in. But I take Mr. Rand on his own rule " Let there be no evasion." Will he answer even one of the foregoing questions. I do not complain that he has spent thirty years (it is perhaps nearer forty), without the desired results. But the christian public which in that time has contributed probably between thirty and forty thousand dollars to his mission, have a right to demand a scriptural, christian and common-sense reply to at least some of the foregoing enquiries. Yours expectantly " A FRIEND OF THE MICHACS." Nov. 11th 1875.

NEW BRUNSWICK -The prospect for the winter in St. John does not appear encouraging. The Globe says :- "The unemployed population of St. John is constantly increasing, and there is certainly every prospect that there will be heavy demands upon the charitable. Many men who have lately been at the North Shore are now returning to St. John, as the mills are shutting down for the winter. Laborers are also returning from the Parrsbore Railway, so that altogether there is quite a large increase in the number of unemployed men. Besides the city is swarming with "tramps," who are daily to be met with in all directions.

THE PRINCE OF WALES IN EGYPT .- The Heir-Apparent left Cairo after having dined with the Khedive at the Pyramids and seen the Great Pyramid illuminateda more striking spectacle, perhaps, than even the fireworks of Athens. The first public act which the Prince has done since working at the breakwater at Brooklyn. he left England is peculiarly interesting, and it possesses some political importance. Amid circumstances of Oriental pomp he has invested Prince Tewfik, the eldest son and Heir-Apparent of the Khedive, with the Order of the Star of India ; and this distinction will no doubt seem far more mementous to the people of the East than it would have appeared to us if it had been conterred amid the bustle of London. The main thought in the Prince's speech was no empty compliment, for he took care to say that the investiture was intended to signify the thanks of the Queen for the friendly offices and good will which the Khedive has always shown towards England by helping the passage of our troops to and from India. In accordance with Mohammedan usage, which gives the crown to the eldest male of the reigning tamily, the next Khedive would have been Mustapha Fazyl Pasha, the brother of the present sovereign, if the Sultan had not consented to let the throne pass, in Western fashion, to the Khedive's eldest son. It is possible that Mustapha may have followers, although he has commuted his claims, but there seems to be no doubt that the change in order of succession will be effected peacefully. The Khedive will none the less value the stamp which the Queen has put on the claims of his son by SPAIN, - The Carlist war is apparently at its end.

The fact that Don Carlos sent a letter to the King created a large sensation at Madrid and is variously commented upon by the newspapers.

Intelligence from Carlist sources asserts that the letter of Don Carlos did not make any proposals for an arrangement, but offered to agree to a truce in the event that the Cuba difficulty cause a war between Spain and the United States. In that case Don Carlos, while reserving his rights to the throne of Spain, offered to unite his forces with those of King Altonso to detend the integrity of Spanish territory.
