BOILED BULLOCK'S HEAD .- This is a good dish for a large family. Place the head in salt water for six hours to cleanse it; then wash and remove the palates, and place them again in salt and water; put the head in a sauce-pan, with sufficient water to cover, boil for five hours, adding two carrots, two turnips and two onions, cut small; when done remove the head from the soup, and remove the bone from the meat; serve soup and meat in tureen; the palates, when white, boiled until tender, then pressed until cold, make a delicious relish for lunch or supper.

STRAWBERBIES IN POTS .- Doctor Smith said that when dining with a friend in New Orleans, he was regaled with some splendid strawberries, and on inquiry found that he raised them in a very small back yard in pots placed on shelves. The pots were put in the cellar in winter, and thus the same plants were kept for several years. He made these remarks for the benefit of those who had not a garden .- N. Y. Farmer's Club,

Though no intallible virtues are claimed for this medicine it is but just to say that it possesses the following excellencies :--1. On many cases of cough it exerts an almost specific remedial influence, and the cases are very few which it quite fails to bene-fit. Long standing cases and those of aged persons arc almost always greatly relieved. 2. Its action is speedy and pleasant; its taste is not disagreeable; and its dose is smail. The last point is sure to be appreciated by the invalid.

3. It has received medical sanction, and has been frequently prescribed by some of our leading physicians.

Add to the above that, when the smallness of its dose is considered, it is even cheaper than the common 25 cent Cough Drops and Syrups, of the Druggists-

This remedy has held its way and attained. its present reputation by its own merit, with little aid from advertizing. It has an estab-lished sale, and those who know it will always use it when they need such aid. But while our climate remains what it is the army of sufferers from throat and lung complaints will always be a large one, and continually reinforced by new recruits. That all such may be acquainted with this reliable medicine is the aim of this advertisement.
