

upon the 'seeking' or rather manner of seeking, and in some sense it does, but in the light of the parable of the virgins it is on the 'time' of seeking that most stress is laid; for it is stated so clearly, "Ask and it shall be given you; Seek and ye shall find; Knock and it shall be opened unto you," but the asking, seeking and knocking must be in the right time, as well as the right manner.

Respectfully submitted,

Five Islands.

DEDICATION SERVICE.—In accordance with the notice given in the Messenger, the New Meeting House at Five Islands was opened for the worship of God on Sabbath, Nov. 26th. Brother McKee delivered the morning discourse from Zech. vi. 13 in which he eloquently described the nature of the spiritual house, its material and its builder. Brother Freeman showed in the afternoon how the Lord builds up his church, from Mark xvi. 15, 16, and Bro. Ingram closed the day's exercises by enforcing from Acts ix. 6, the duty of laboring for the furtherance of the interests of the church, and the salvation of sinners. There were evident tokens of the divine favor attending these services. Fruit, we trust will yet appear. In the morning at 8 past 8 the pastor baptized six happy believers at Lower Economy, these received the right hand of fellowship at the morning service.

The house is a neat and pretty structure and is a noble gift to the denomination by a very few noble minded brethren and friends. May the Lord reward them abundantly. They desire to express their thanks to those brethren in Truro who kindly furnished the house with lamps, and the friends at Great Village who generously aided in furnishing means for the warming of the building.

Bro. Ingram who has recently assumed the pastorate of the churches included between Five Islands and Port-au-Pique is encouraged in his work, and is beloved by the people of his charge. He has entered upon an inviting field of labor. Tokens of the Master's favor are already manifest, that give assurance that the Lord had sent him to this people and will yet make him a means of blessing to many.

AMHERST SHORE, Dec. 1st, 1876.—The Lord has revived his work in this place. The extra meetings held here resulted in great good. Wanderers were reclaimed and sinners converted. I had the pleasure of baptizing four young people, who are labouring earnestly and zealously for the salvation of their companions.

Pray for us that many more may believe and turn unto the Lord.
Yours very truly,
E. B. COREY.

On Thursday evening Rev. J. F. Avery, pastor of the Third Church, baptized two candidates at Granville Street.
