

meal were so nice, I hadn't the heart to say a word. I suppose it was the best they had, and you know, Sir, they can only give out what's sent to them."

Favoritism among the officials too is summarily dealt with. A case or two of this is given:

A pretty figure or a becoming dress are sure passports to the sympathy of some attendants. One bright-eyed girl intimated as much to a companion, Saturday afternoon; when raising the cover of a small basket, showing the corner of a package of coffee, she said: "That's what a stunning young clerk threw in with the tea." Mr. Sweet had a busy time supervising the attendants; but his sharp eye detected many imposters, and some violations of orders on the part of the clerks. "Do you see that lady neatly dressed in black," said Mr. S. to our reporter: "She has no ticket, but that clerk is giving her a liberal allowance of groceries. This is the third day she has been here, but I have just found out who she is."

Calling one of the messengers, Mr. Sweet had the goods taken from the counter and deposited in his office at the base of the vase-shaped band gallery, and the clerk was also summoned to explain.

"Do you know that woman," said Mr. S.

"Yes."

"Has she a ticket?"

"She had one yesterday, but left it home to day."

"You know she never had a ticket, and that she was not burned out. Your orders are to give out no goods except on a ticket, and if it had been one of those old folk (pointing to three poorly clad women seated on the edge of the rink,) who applied, you would not have broken the rules. You need not return to the counter."

So the lady in black lost her sugar, coffee, &c., and the young man his situation.

Mr. Sweet says things are getting into better working order every day, and he hopes in a short time to effect still further improvements in the manner of serving out the meats and groceries. Any complaint against an attendant is courteously listened to, and if well founded, the offender is either warned or discharged.

A large number of poor shanties are being erected for the temporary accommodation of the homeless, and in numerous cases these are made the places of business. Every available kind of covering is made use of sugar hogs-heads and puncheons have been used by many for sleeping places, and that by quite respectable people. Those living in tents were put to great inconvenience by the rain, as the tents had been erected too hurriedly to give them proper drainage and they were flooded. The work of pulling down the walls continues. A number of accidents have occurred in connection with this work, some of them serious.

The News says:—

"Many people believe that money for rebuilding the city is to be got, under governmental auspices, at a very low rate of interest, as low as 2 1/2 per cent. being named. But the belief is founded on the wish, as the money for rebuilding a town, like money for any other purpose, is to be got only at the market price. Builders cannot hope to get money on mortgage at less than six per cent., or five at the lowest, and should make up their minds to that at once. There will be no difficulty in the way of every man rebuilding who has property to pledge as security for the requisite funds, and such a man needs no one to stand between him and the capitalist. Those who have lost their all by the fire, and have nothing left but a heap of burned bricks on a city lot, cannot hope to rebuild. No governmental or other practicable aid will enable them to do so. Nor do they want to rebuild. They need, in cash, the value of their lots, and will require to devote their energies to building up a business instead of a house or store. The city must be rebuilt by men with money to invest in real estate, not by men who have barely enough capital and credit for business purposes." The latter must be content with being the tenants of the former.—Because a man owned his house or warehouse before the fire is no reason he should, if the fire has crippled him financially, live in a rented house, and do business in a rented store in future, just as men whose entire fortunes are in their business have to do at all times.

"There is we believe, no difficulty about rebuilding St. John. There is a vast business to be done, the men are here to do it, and capitalists will not be slow in providing warehouses, shops and residences for them."

At a recent meeting of the Citizens of St. John, several committees previously appointed submitted reports. The committee on widening streets recommended several changes, one of which was that Pagan Place be extended from Germain Street to Canterbury &c. Could not the committee find a better name than Pagan Place when they purpose to extend it? There appears some difficulty in deciding that no wooden buildings be erected in the burnt district.

On another page will be seen on account of proceedings of the General Baptists in England. It may perhaps help some of our readers if we explain that the terms "General" and "Particular" are applied respectively to the two great bodies of Baptists in the mother country, and are used to distinguish between them as to the views they hold respectively concerning redemption. The former regarding Christ's death as being for all in the more "General" or Arminian sense, whilst the Particular Baptists hold that Christ's work had particular reference to all who become believers. The great majority of Baptist churches are Calvinistic or Particular Baptists. The terms do not at all refer to the question of Communion, indeed the Particular Baptists are generally in practise open communionists, whilst the General Baptists almost invariably practise restricted communion.

A note from Professor Tufts last week informed as he was on his way back to Wolfville to resume his labors in the College and Academy and has doubtless arrived before now. We are glad of this as we know of no place he could occupy which presents so wide a field of usefulness.

If the Yarmouth Observer has anything to say to the Christian Messenger he knows where to find us. He looks more like nickel than the genuine article. It is only quite young birds that are caught by chaff.

The Annual Session of the Grand Lodges of Good Templars was held at Annapolis last week. Attempts were made to bring the two parties together who have been divided on the matter of admitting colored people to the Lodges, but not yet with complete success.

WHAT THEY SAY OF IT! A FEW FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—There are a few preparations of medicines which have withstood the impartial judgment of the people for any great length of time. One of these is Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Read the following and be convinced.—Thos. Robinson, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writes, "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."—J. H. Earl, Hotel Keeper, West shefford, P. Q., writes, "I have been troubled with liver complaint for several years, and have tried different medicines with little or no benefit, until I tried Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil which gave me immediate relief, and I have used it since with the best effect. No one should be without it. I have tried it on my horses in cases of cuts, wounds, &c., and think it equally as good for horses as for man."—A. Maybee, Merchant, Workworth, writes I have sold some hundreds of bottles of Electric Oil, and it is pronounced by the public, 'one of the best medicines they have ever used; it has done wonders in healing and relieving pain, sore throats, &c., and is worthy of the greatest confidence.'—Joseph Rusin, Township Percy, writes, "I was persuaded to try Thomas' Electric Oil for a lame knee which troubled me for three or four years, and I never found anything like it for curing lameness. It is a great public benefit."

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. THOMAS is on the wrapper, and the name of Northrop and Lyman are blown in the bottle, and TAKE NO OTHER. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price, 25 cts. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.

CATARRH. CA NOT be cured by Snuffs, Washes, or Local Applications. Thousands of cases of forty years standing, have been entirely cured by CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY. Pain in Shoulder, Back and Lungs, and Droppings in Urine Disappear. ST. ANNE'S, P. Q., Sept. 12, 1876.

Five Years' Sickness Cured by Four Bottles of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. Pain in Shoulder, Back and Lungs, and Droppings in Urine Disappear. ST. ANNE'S, P. Q., Sept. 12, 1876.

MR. T. J. B. HARDING.—"Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY, I wish to inform you what it has done for me. I am 39 years old, had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors, and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit, but continued rather to grow worse, until last fall, when I had become so bad as to be unable to do an hour's work at a time. Had severe soreness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right lung as though there was a weight bearing it down, with continual droppings in the throat and down upon the lungs. Such was my condition when I commenced to take your Catarrh Remedy, one bottle of which cured my pains and gave me an improved appetite, and after taking four bottles I was restored to health, so as to be able to endure hard and continued labor, such as chopping and clearing land, at which I have been engaged the past season. My res. very truly, I attribute solely, with God's blessing, to the use of your Catarrh Remedy. Yours truly, D. B. F. Price $1 per bottle. HENRY SNIDER.
