CHERRAN

The reports that some of the Halifax and other newspapers published of From Bap. Ch. Shelburne,...... $ 4.00 drunkenness in the House of Commons at Ottawa on the late all-night session, it appears, were to a large extent untrue. The St. John Freeman had an article a few days since, evidently written by the speaker of the House of Commons himself, in which he say :

"The scene in the House of Commons on Friday night and Saturday was sufficiently painful and humiliating, but some of the newspapers have described, it as in one respect at least much worse than it really was. Ontario papers speak of what occurred in such a way as to create the impression that there was much drunkenness on that occasion, and that extensive indulgence in the use of stimulants was one of the chief causes of the tumult and uproar of that remarkable night. Nothing could be more at variance with the facts than this belief.

Probably there is not in the world another representative body of the same size, and drawn from so many different races and classes, who if they were kept together all night in a state of extraordinary excitement, would indulge so little as those two hundred gentlemen did in the use of Alcoholic liquors.

It is bad enough to have to report such things when they do occur, but for one to invent such scandals indicates the existence of a low standard of

During that time he attended several meetings and spoke on religion, thus helping on his fraud. Their business flourished and their cash became plenty. On Saturday, April 20th, both parties were lodged in jail for drunkenness. On Monday, April 22nd, they were tried before the Stipendiary Magistrate and paid for costs and fines each $4.50—in all $9.00. They acknowledged that they had collected upwards of $150, and that they divided the spoils between them. They were ordered to leave the town immediately. But for the documents they bore they would have been committed to trial for obtaining money under false pretences. Probably they should have been thus committed. Seldom has such rascality been perpetrated amongst us. - Communicated.

NIJNE NOVGOROD FAIR. - The great market of the eastern world has been held at this junction of the Volga and Olga Rivers, in Russia, every summer for hundreds of years. Here the nations of Europe and Asia meet with their products for trade. Cossack, Chinese, Turk and Persian meet the German and the Greek with levery variety of merchandise that mankind employs, from sapphires to grindstones, tea, opium, fur, food, tools and fabrics, and last but not least, medicines. J. C. Ayer & Co.'s celebrated remedies from America were displayed in an elegant bazaar where the Doctor himself might sometimes be seen. They are known and taken on the steppes of Asia as well as the prairies of the West, and are an effectual antidote for the diseases that prevail in the yaourts of the North as well as the huts and cabins of the western continent.

ELEVEN YEARS A DRUNKARD. An unassuming narrative of the terrible and thrilling experience of THOMAS DONER, who lost both arms through drink, and has written this book with his teeth. (See cut.)

KIND FRIENDS:—Being deprived of both my arms by whisky, I take this method of earning my livelihood—by introducing to your honorable notice my past life. Although chastened and subdued in spirit by the suffering and less I have borne through intemperance, I am thankful to that good Being through whose mercy I was saved from dropping into a drunkard's grave, to fight against this promoter of crime and misery, that has robbed me of my arms, until I am called away to that heavenly land, where trouble and sorrow never come, and where, as far as these statements are concerned, I am willing to be judged at last.

This book is needly illustrated, and is worthy of

THOMAS DONER.

This book is neatly illustrated, and is worthy of the consideration of all temperance workers—IS JUST THE BOOK FOR THE TIMES.

It delineates the First Step; the Second Step; the siltiness and remorse produceed by them; the drunken reveling at houses of debauchery; Fights, stabbings, suicides of drunken comrades, and thrilling incidents in army and hospital life; the degradation and woe produced by drunkenness vividly set forth as a living picture.

he can clear $30 per month. He sold two hundred books in four days. Another agent tried itsix weeks, and then refused a school at $45 per month, board and washing included, and is now selling. A lady in Battle Creek, Michigan, sold fifty-seven books in one afternoon, and sold three hundred in a short time.

THIRTY THOUSAND copies have already been sold, and we have a new edition of Ten Thousad in the bindery, fully illustrated. They sell like hot cakes.

Prices are as follows: Single copy, 25 cents. Twelve copies, $2.00, sent post-paid. Twenty-five copies, $3.00. express charges added. We are willing to send books C. O. D., by express, but 25 to 50 cents will be saved by sending money order or registered letter. Now friends, if you send for 100 books, you will get $17 for selling them at 25 cents each. If you sell 200 in four days, you get $34.00, or $35 per day. But you will not often sell so many. Most agents will average from $2.50 to $4.00 per day, by giving their time to it. We make the above statements from practical experience, and feel assured that those who may engage in selling these books will not be deceived or disappointed.

To canvass, and then deliver, is not the most successful way to make sales. Take the Books along with you, and sell as you go. Most people rather buy, than subscribe for a book. It takes too much time to canvass, and then deliver.

Write your name, POST OFFICE, COUNTY and TATE, plainly, and remember WHERE to sand, and WHO to send to. Be sure to make no mistake.

Each 25 cents for sample copy.
