THE HOUSEHOLD.

A SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CINDERS IN THE EYES .- Persons travelling by railway are subject to continued annoyance from the flying cinders, On getting into the eyes they are not only painful for the moment, but are often the cause of long suffering, that ends in a total loss of sight, A very simple and effective cure is within the reach of every one, and would prevent much suffering and expense, were it generally known. It is simply one or two grains of flaxseed. This may be placed in the eye without injury or pain to that delicate organ, and shortly they begin to swell and dissolve a glutinous substance that covers the ball of the eye, enveloping any foreign substance that may be in it The irritation of cutting of the membrane is thus prevented and the annoyance may soon be washed out.

TO REMOVE IRON RUST, ETC .- Get salts of lemon at any druggist's, moisten the linen, apply the salt, and lay to some point on the line between Washthe linen in the sun; the rust will almost immediately disappear. Oxalic acid used with care will do. If a stain | Washington Territory. Then let Engremains, use Javelle water which is composed of sal soda and lime, and sold by druggists; rinse in clear water. Ink | where the Youcan river runs into Alasstains are removed in the same way; if a brown stain remains, use Javelle water. Javelle water is the only thing | then let Russia or the company, comsure to remove mildew.

STEWED CABBAGE.—Shred a small cabbage as for cold slaw; boil it in thoroughly and cover with sweet milk. Cook until tender, season to taste, with butter, pepper and salt, and just before serving add the yolk of a beaten egg mixed with a little sweet cream. The dish is very good without this latter addition, and a favorite with many who dislike plain boiled cabbage. -Prairie Farmer.

DRY YEAST .- Boil two potatoes and a handful of hops (in a bag) in three pints of water; when the potatoes are done take them out, mash fine, add a pint of flour and pour over all the boiling hop water; beat together, add a tablespoonful of salt, one of ginger, and half a cup of sugar; when lukewarm add a cup of good yeast, and let the whole stand till thoroughly light, stirring it down once or twice; then mix in flour or corn meal till the yeast can be rolled into cakes, which should be dried in the shade in a current of air; they should be turned frequently and pressed down till thoroughly dry. Then put in a paper bag, tie tightly and keep in a warm place. For use, dissolve one or two cakes in a cup of hot water, stir in flour till a thin batter is made, and when this is light, use it to make the sponge for bread.

To MAKE MUFFINS .- I do not think the muffins were ever nicer than they were this morning. Last evening cook took one pint of sweet milk, and stirred in a piece of butter as large as a hen's egg (which she had warmed until nearly Allen's Lung Balsam will prevent it, if melted); she then added four wellbeaten eggs, enough sifted flour to make a pretty thick batter, and half a cupful of good strong yeast, and set it in a warm place over night. This morning she heated and greased the muffinrings, and put them on a hot greased griddle, and then filled the rings more than half-full of the batter, When one side is cooked, she slips a knife under, and with a quick movement, turns mustin, ring, and all. Why is it that so many people bake muffins in the oven? They never taste the same or look the same. It takes a little care to bake them on top of the stove, for the with your name finely printed, sent for fire must not be too hot, on the one hand, so as to scorch them, nor, on the other hand, mnst they be raw in the middle. I generally make sure, by pulling one partly open with my fingers. After once making them, no one need fail, and no breakfast or tea cake could possibly be nicer .- Cor. Country Gentleman.

> Споw-сноw. — One peck of green tomatoes chopped fine; sprinkle one cup of salt over them, and let stand over night; in the morning drain in a chopped fine, one cup of white sugar, cover with vinegar, and boil twenty minutes. Chop fine, six large onions, two bunches, the white part, of celery, with three or four red peppers. Add to the other ingredients, when cool, with a cup of mixed mustard, whatever spice you like, and a pint of grated horse-radish. Put into a stone tightly down.

SCIENCE.

A RAILROAD ROUND THE WORLD. -Persons who look on renewed speculative enterprises as a sign of prosperity will be pleased to read the following outline of a railroad scheme advanced by a Missouri correspondent of the Louisville Corrier-Journal.

There is a great railroad, which, if it can be built, will eclipse all other great enterprises in that line, and will be the grandest railroal in the world connecting the old and new worlds, and thus avoiding all the dangers of the Atlantic Ocean. My road will connect the American continent with Asia and Europe. Just think of it! A railroad from Washington city to St. Petersburg, with only forty miles of water between these great cities of the new and old

My plan is for the United States, Great Britain and Russia, or the capitalists of these great countries, to construct this road, Let the road be built ington and the British possessions, say, where the Columba river runs into land or English capitalists build the road through New Georgia to the point ka; and then through Alaska to Cape Prince of Wales on Behring Strait; posed of the great capitalist of the old and new world, construct the road from East Cape or Behring Strait to St. Petersburg, Passengers and freight can be carried from Cape Prince of Hymn and Tune Book Wales, America, to East Cape, Asia, directly opposite and only forty miles apart, in splendid steamers, built and put there for the purpose, and owned by this great company. Would not this be grand? Just imagine a trip from America to Asia and Europe, seated in splendid cars, with the land under you and visible all the way, except forty miles about as far as from Dover to Calais.

If this great road could be built the danger of the stormy Atlantic would be avoided, and hundreds and thousands of noble men, women, and children would be almost annually saved, as well as millions of treasure.

SUGGESTIONS FOR FAT PEOPLE. It is Brillat-Savarin, we believe, who, in his immortal book on gastronomy. avers that no one is entirely satisfied with his weight; every one wants to be somewhat fatter or somewhat leaner; or if he or she really is just about as he would be in this respect, he imagines a tendency one way or the other, which he feels must be on his guard to cor-

There is enough truth in this to make it an object for that enterprising class of individuals who make their money out of the weakness of their fellows to advertise pretty constantly various secret fat producing and fat decreasing nostrums. The extraordinary sale of Banting's famous pamphlet, which reached sixty or seventy thousand copies, attest the same. And almost every year there is some new remedy offered to the regular profession, either to make fat or disperse it.

Recently Dr. Tarnier has called attention (in the Ann. de lo Soc.de Med. de Gand., No. iv. 1877) to the success of milk diet in these cases, He commences by allowing three fourths the usual food and one liter of milk the first day; one half the usual food and two liters of milk the second day; one fourth the food and thee liters of milk the third day; and thereafter four liters of milk daily and nothing else.

Often, however, it is better to allow a small proportion of the usual food each day, to prevent the patient becoming tired of the milk. Should diarrhea set in, the milk should be suspended for awhile, and then resumed. The treatment may be continued until the fat is reduced. Dr. Tarnier claims that this treatment is always successful, and entails no danger whatever .- Medical and Surgical Reporter.

A CALIFORNIAN WHEAT FARM .-The largest farmer in the State is Dr. Glenn, of Colusi County. He farms 20,000 acres. He sold his last years wheat crop for more than $600,000.

"Grasshopper Christians" is the latest name coined across the Atlantic for those who are ever active and prominent, and all but ubiquitous, in "revivals," but in ordinary times seen to be dead asleep. We have more than we care for of these emotional hop-skip-and jar, cover with cold vinegar, and tie jump professors this side the water, and are sorry to see the race is extending. | East Point, P. Our past experience and success has taught us that CATARRH IS NOT INCUR-ABLE, whether it be ACUTE, CHRONIC or ULCERATIVE. Also, a disease that is WHOLLY INCURABLE by one remedy, IS EASILY AND PERFECTLY CURABLE BY ANOTHER.

OLD DR. HUXLEY'S

Golden Cure for Catarrh has been the favorite and prized remedy of an eminent physician in his private practice. During the past two years, where the "Golden Cure" has been advertised and brought to the notice of the Catarrh invalid, over Four Thousand cases have been permanently cured by its use.
