P. E. ISLAND.—Within the past few weeks seventeen barns have been burned, principally in the section of country lying between Charlottetown and Summerside. In most cases these barns contained all, or nearly all, the season's crop of hay and grain, as well as farming implements, which renders the loss to the unfortunate owners doubly distressing in view of the early setting in of winter. While many of these fires were doubtless accidental—or, strictly speaking, due to the absurd practice many farmers indulge in of storing hot ashes in wooden receptacles in out-houses or corners of their barns—it is well known that some were the work of incendiaries.—Argus

DIPHTHERIA has for a long time been very prevalent and very fatal. Its fatality seems to be greatly owing to neglecting what is supposed to be an ordinary cold or sore throat until it has progressed to its last stages, and then when medical aid is procured it has often been found to be too late. From the fatality attending this disease every family should keep a suitable remedy on hand and use it on the first appearance of sore throat. A preparation called DIPHTHERINE has been placed before the public. It is the discovery of an English Physician and has been regarded where it is used to be an infallible remedy for that disease. To place it within the reach of all it is put up in bottles with full directions, and sold by Druggists and Dealers in medicines at the low price of 25 cents a bottle. Sept. 4.
