Sau Ah-Brah, a Karen Lecturer.
THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY, NEWTON CENTRE, MASS., May 24th, 1879.

Dear Brother,
Will you please make the following announcement through the Messenger? Sau Ah-Brah a converted Karen who came to this country about ten years ago, with the late Rev. A. R. R. Crawley for the purpose of obtaining an education, is planning to spend the summer in lecturing among the Churches in N. S.

Bro. Ah-Brah is an earnest Christian worker, and has become quite popular as a lecturer, both in this country and in the Upper Provinces of the Dominion. He is a graduate of Brown University, and is to graduate at this Institution in course of a few weeks. He will lecture on the Manners and Customs of his people, What the gospel is doing for them, etc., etc. He plans to attend the Association at Yarmouth, where he will spend a few days, after which he will visit the following Churches, viz.: Lockeport, Liverpool, Milton, Bridgewater, Chester, Halifax, Truro, Amherst, from thence crossing over to Windsor, he will visit all the churches from there to Digby, lecturing on week day evenings, and preaching on Sabbaths when desirable.

If any of the above named churches do not desire a visit they will please drop a card to the writer at New Albany, Annapolis Co. to that effect, and if any churches not named should desire a visit they can do the same, and the information will be forwarded to brother Ah-Brah. His object of course in going to the Province is to stimulate the churches in the great, and blessed work of Foreign Missions. But like most Theological students he is in need of means—and hence the admission fee to the lectures will likely be about ten cents. Bro. Ah-Brah is a worthy young man, and we hope that he will meet with a reception which shall be worthy of the Nova Scotia Churches, and of the good work in which he is engaged.

We hope that brother Ah-Brah's visit to the province may be a pleasant one to him, and productive of much good to the churches, and the cause of Missions.

Very truly yours,
E. J. GRANT.

LAWRENCETOWN, May 30, 1879.

Mr. Editor,—

Herewith I send you a list of new subscriptions for the Building Fund of Acadia College, taken since my last report. Those obtained in the Annapolis Valley are on ground previously worked by an indefatigable and successful agent—bro. Isaiah Wallace, and to be duly appreciated must be regarded as merely the grapes gleaned after a well gathered harvest. It must be remembered also that the early summer is the most unfavorable time for working this field.

YARMOUTH, May 19th, 1879.—Dear Editor,—The eighth semi-annual session of the Yarmouth County Sunday School Convention met at Chegoggin on the 6th day of May, 1879.

Three sessions were held as usual, morning, afternoon and evening. The morning session with the usual business, devotional exercises. Afternoon—Model Class taught by Rev. A. Cohoon—Subject, "The suffering Saviour." Isaiah 53. 1-12. The Convention then discussed the following subjects:

1st. Possible dangers in Sunday School tendencies; opened by Rev. A. Cohoon.

2nd. What motives can be used to induce church members to feel the necessity of supplying the want felt for teachers. By Rev. H. N. Parry.

3rd. Preparation of heart an important part of the S. School teacher's work. By Rev. J. B. McQuillan.

A Paper on the same subject by Deacon P. D. Kinney.

4th. How shall the Churches be aroused to deeper interest in Sunday School work. By Rev. G. E. Day, M. D.

13 schools reported by letter. 21 schools in the County. No. of Teachers 122. Scholars in attendance 1090. Average for half year, 614. No. Church members in school 410. The Session was not as largely attended as usual, owing probably to its being held later than usual. The exercises were very interesting and profitable, all felt the work demanded renewed consecration of heart and life to the service of the Master.

"J. C. B's." Oliver.

Dear Sir,—

The immortal Burns says, "Johnny Peep saw three sheep," but he sees more now, for J. C. B's reply has just come to his notice. And although, it is not a definition of the "church" it may be of its author, however I shall proceed with my "Roland."

You say, "I should most certainly notice the little fellow were it not, that I am otherwise engaged." But you have noticed me! You have devoted five paragraphs to me! You evaded my questions, and spent your powder on the "little fellow!" Are the scales falling from your mental vision? And you hope my "want of a knowledge of polite life will be pardoned." Let me tell you that "the want of knowledge" is generally a pardonable sin, and I will therefore hope for mercy. But how will you escape, if you have "a knowledge," yet violate all the rules of common courtesy? Would there be anything gained by discovering that pomposity or bigness is not politeness? You intimate that I "asked questions while others were talking." Did you dream that "J. M. C." was talking to you? You vainly attempted to stir up a talk with him but when you were done he left you in a "brilliant flash of silence!" I will not say that he treated you with contempt yet you say, "when others were talking!" You show your good sense in saying, "Many a little prattler has become a philosopher." But did you ever hear of a large gusher becoming a little prattler? If not his chances are as good as mine!

And in closing—when I am "a philosopher" I will tell you many things, but in the meantime I advise you to try always to give a respectful answer to a fair and honest question. By all means don't be too ready to catch "a Tartar," for he will most surely catch you. And then you will cry out "I have caught a Tartar!" And your friends will answer, "Bring him here!" And you will yell "I cannot!" When they will reply "Why not?" And your only explanation will be "He has caught me!" And the readers of the Messenger will say, "That's what's the matter!" And I will remain "your little brother"

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

HALIFAX, NORTH BAPTIST CHURCH.—On Sunday evening last, Rev. J. W. Manning baptized two believers, on profession of faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Meetings of much interest are still being held in the Vestry on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

NEW GLASGOW.—Dear Brother.—The numerous friends of our cause in New Glasgow, N.S., will be pleased to hear that the interest is growing in the hearts of the people there. I have just closed my labors for the winter half of the year and returned home. Bro. McGregor from Newton, Mass., is expected to labor there during the summer vacation to good acceptance. During the last half year five have been added to the church, one by letter. Two by experience and two by baptism. Some have asked why I do not remove there and take that field. My answer is simply this, the circumstances of my family, especially domestic affliction, will not permit their removal.

Hoping that the Lord will direct some suitable man permanently to feed His flock in that field, and that the friends will still continue to pray for the little churches there,

I am yours in the hope of glory,
D. FREEMAN.

Canning, N. S. May 29, 1879.

P. S. A pleasing interest is springing up at the Mines as well as New Glasgow and a small meeting house is needed there. Costing say $800.

ST. ANDREWS, COLCHESTER CO.—Dear Editor,—The blessing of the Lord still attends us. Yesterday was a day of rejoicing at St. Andrews. Fourteen happy converts were led down into the flowing waters and buried with Christ in baptism by Bro. Meadows. Witnesses of various denominations gathered from far and near, lined both banks of the little stream in which the ordinance was performed, maintaining the most commendable order and quietness throughout. As the school-house would not seat half of the people who had congregated, the sermon following was delivered in the open air, after which fifteen in all were received into fellowship of the Lower Stewiack Baptist Church. Others have very recently found peace in believing and are expected to follow soon. Many more are under deep concern of mind. God grant the captive liberty, and salvation to all the people. Amen.

Fraternally yours,

R. H. BISHOP.

June 2nd, 1879.

AMHERST SHORE.—Rev. G. F. Miles wrote us on the 20th ult: "Four more baptized last Lord's day and connected with Beulah Church at Warren."

[We much regret that the above item contained in our brother's letter was by accident overlooked till after we went to press last week.—Ed. C. M.]

PARRSBORO'.—I had the privilege of baptizing one happy believer in the Lord at Diligent River on Lord's day, 18th inst. Hope soon to see others take the same step.

J. F. KEMPTON.

LAWRENCETOWN, ANNAPOLIS CO.—Dear Bro.—God is still blessing us with conversions, and additions to this church. We have administered the ordinance of baptism on three Sabbaths of this month, and three more candidates are now received for the ordinance. Greater is He that is with us than all that are against us!

As ever &c.,
J. C. BLEAKNEY.

They had an interview with Sir Charles Tupper immediately on their arrival, who stated that he had always been in favor of the Dartmouth terminus, and regretted that it had not been located there. He promised to bring the matter before his colleagues, and have their fullest consideration.
