Notwithstanding the very severe storm and the most unpleasant weather the ceremonies of the inauguration were a most brilliant spectacle. All Washing ton was astir early and crowds hurried through snow and slush from every direction, all intent on reaching Pennsylyania Avenue, to witness the procession, or to the capitol to be presnt at the ceremonies there. During the entire night, trains laden with military and civilians arrived, and continued through. out the morning to pour into the streets. Thirty stands with seats had been erected on all public squares fronting on Pennsylvania Avenue, and numerous other stands in front of stores, etc. These stands are capable of seating 25,000 people, and every seat has been sold. It is estimated that 50,000 strangers are here. The grand proces sion which moved along Pennsylvania Avenue, escorting the President and President elect, with other prominent officials, to the Capitol, where General Garfield took the oath of office, was viewed by more than one hundred thou sand people. The decorations along the route were imposing and the enthusiasm unbounded.

President Garfield proceeded to the portico at the east front and delivered his inaugural address. The President spoke earnestly of his faith in the country's future prosperity, indicated his purpose that the colored people who had been brought into citizenship finitely constituted. should have their full rights as citizens, and insisted that universal education was the great lever to bring all people up to a proper standard.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair

The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
