WORSHIP .- The Weseleyan of last week says:- Happily there is no clamor for change in forms of worship, or for the use of any elaborate ritual. Our fathers and brethren across the ocean are struggling with this difficulty. The long established use of a liturgy in nearly all the London Methodist churches is still leading some of the children of Methodists into the Episcopal communion and repelling others, who find a home with the Congregationalists. The census returns laid before our readers give the verdict of Canadians upon this subject. Among leading Protestant bodies the Church which fails most to keep pace with the growth of population, is that which is completely committed to the use of liturgical forms in worship Some of our American brethren have of late pointed out the tendency of their Sundayschool publications to foster a disposition towards the use of ritual in worship. We trust that our friends in charge of our Canadian Sunday-school publications will not move in a similar direction.

The Baptist Foreign Missionary Union, the great Foreign Missionary organization of our American Baptist brethren with head quarters at Boston has just closed its financial year-with the following results:

Contributions for the year from the churches....... $159,987.57 Legacies ...... 54,462.35 Women's Societies, &c..... 90,132.27

Total.....$302,584.19

The expenditures were, appropria. tions for missionary purposes in all parts of the world $291,130.50, debt standing April 1, 1881, $11,850.08total $302,584.58. This leaves a deficit of $396.39, much nearer a clean balance sheet than the Union has experienced for many years. The receipts last year were the largest in the history of the enterprise.

DISTINCTIVE PRINCIPLES OF BAPTISTS, by J. M. Pendleton, Baptist Publication Society, Philadelphia, pp. 239.

Dr. Pendleton has done good service to the cause of truth as understood by Baptists. He is an authority on all matters of Baptist Church order. In this new work dedicated "to the Baptist Brotherhood," he has again enunciated the great principles on which we stand in a definite and distinct position from all other religious organizations. Much of the hostility of other christians to our principles and practices doubtless arises from the fact that we are misunderstood by them: They regard us as exclusive and censorious, and that sort standards.

This volume of " Distinctive Princibook of Bible teaching, and the most comprehensive statement of what we believe that has yet appeared. Pedobaptists and Christians generally, may learn that from this book what we hold, and why we observe and practise as we do in reference to the initiatory ordinance and fellowship of the church. Infant Baptism is so interwoven, by the majority of those who practise it, with regeneration that, it is difficult for its adherents to see that Scriptural Baptism is simply a submission to Christ's

In answer to the question, Whether this life is worth living? it has been replied that it all depends upon the liver. This may be meant to apply either to the person who lives or to the organ, so called, for if the latter be in a diseased condition, life is but one of misery and comparative uselessness Any remedies for the prevention or cure of disorders of this important organ of the human system are anxiously sought for by the afflicted and highly valued by people generally whether sick or well. Dr. Holbrook is the author of quite a number of popular medical works, and offers in this book valuable suggestions and directions to help " the liver."

HAMMONDS PLAINS .- Rev. E. M Saunders has been asisting Rev. M P. King in holding some protracted meetings here. There are indications of revival, and one young man has applied for baptism.

PORT HAWKESBURY, -Our brother, W. H. Robinson, writes May 1st: We are happy to report that the Lord has been pleased to bless this part of his vineyard, and has gladdened the hearts of his people by saving souls. We began to hold some special services in the latter part of March; soon an interest in the meetings was manifested by some, and since that time a quiet work of grace has been going on in our midst. At the Conference meeting on Saturday evening six willing converts expressed their desire to unite with the church, and they are now waiting to follow their Lord in the ordinance of baptism. Others are interested, and, we trust, will embrace the truth.

Rev. J. D. Skinner has accepted the pastorate of the Arcadia and South Yarmouth Baptist Churches. His ad dress is Arcadia, Yarmouth Co., N. S.

O'LEARY, P. E. I.-Rev. E. N. Archibald writes, April 15th, 1882 :-Dear Bro. - Up to this date I have baptized 15 at Cape Wolf, most of them young men. More than 15 more have given evidence of regeneration. The church at O'Leary has experienced a very precious revival and some have been turned from sin to God.

PORT LORNE, - Rev. E. H. Sweet informs us, April 26th, that on Tuesday, April 25th, three were baptized. One was a deaf mute. Two others have been received for baptism. Twentytwo have been added to the Baptist Church at Hampton. The work is still going on. and a ballous of season largers

Sir John A. MacDonald gave notice that he would move resolutions ap proving of pensions to County Court Judges.

On Saturday, Sir John A. MacDonald introduced the bill entitled "An Act | 7.30. to Readjust the Representation in the House of Commons and for other purposes," and in doing so explained that this was rendered necessary by the increase of population, which would entitle Ontario to four additional members. He also explained how the constituencies would be arranged for the additional members. He then read a statement showing the population of the various constituencies in Ontario, The Chapel was filled with a very as shewn by the last Census, and as they would be under the readjustment.

Mr. Blake said this measure ought to have been brought down at an earlier period of the session, so as to give an opportunity to have its details mastered not only by the members of Parliament, but by the people for whom they legislated.
