Review of Books.

MEMORIALS OF FRANCIS RIDLEY HAVERGEAL, by her sister, James Nisbet & Co., London. For sale by MacGregor & Knight, Halifax. Price 15 cents.

This book of Memorials is a picture of one of the most lovely characters that has come before the public in modern times. Her writings, especially her hymns, have had such wide circulation that it is only necessary to mention her name, and Christian people who are accustomed to read the current religious periodicals have immediately awakened in their minds some lively impressions received by them of her bright and beautiful character from her writings. Her labors were abundant in England, Wales, Ireland, and Switzerland. Her published books have passed through edition after edition, till one, "Kept for the Master's use," has reached the 110th thousand. "My King; or Daily Thoughts for the King's children," has reached its 92nd thousand. Several other works have reached the 60th and 70th thousand.

The cheapness of this edition of her "Memorials,"—a book of 250 pages for 15 cents—most commend for it a very large sale. The copy placed on our table is of the 117th thousand. Whilst it is a biography, it is full of instruction on a vast variety of subjects. Miss H.'s letters form the largest part of the book, and perhaps show better than anything that could be written of her what Miss Havergal was and what she did.

THE SCHOLAR'S QUARTERLY; a help to Teachers and Scholars in the study of the International Lessons, Fourth Quarter, 1882. Published at the office of the "Sunday School Times," Philadelphia. Price 25 cents a year, or 7 cents for each quarterly number; 5 copies one quarter, 35 cents, or for one year, $1.25.

This marvellously cheap Quarterly contains brief notes and questions on each lesson of the Quarter, with a nice map of Jerusalem and its surroundings.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, October, 1882.

This popular Magazine is full of fresh diversified reading, prose and poetry. The article on "University Administration" describes the government of colleges in the United States, more particularly that of Harvard. It has several continued articles of much interest.

The HOME CIRCLE for October announces that at the commencement of a new volume next month there will be several improvements: A new serial, "An Endless Chain," by Mrs. Alden, (Pansy); Dr. MacArthur, of New York, has promised to contribute a series of articles on "The Christian Life in its Relations." Other writers of note will contribute articles, more or less regularly.

McGregor & Knight, have changed the form and name of their small monthly sheet to the Observer and Review. It is somewhat enlarged and put into an eight page form, instead of four. It is used principally as an advertiser of their book business.

News of the World.

Arabi Pasha was under examination at Cairo on Thursday last. He ably defended himself, denying complicity in the massacres and in the burning of Alexandria. He boldly vindicated his conduct as leader of the national party. He said when he reached Cairo after his defeat at Tel-el-Kebir and found the inhabitants unwilling to continue the struggle he immediately bowed to their will and surrendered.

That country, he said, must eventually become independent of foreign control. The cost of the war should be defrayed by Egypt. The policy of the Government was to detach Egypt from the Sultan, to look after the Suez canal and to allow the Egyptians to warn the Khedive that his future position depended upon his management of affairs.

Humbug Advertisements.

The time never has been and never will be when the people of this or any other country can buy a gold dollar for seventy five cents. Neither can you, dear reader, purchase an organ worth three or four hundred dollars for $60. This is all nonsense. Still we have no objection to other people doing their business just as they see fit. We are selling a good, honest made Piano at from $185 to $575, and a good, honest Organ (not all stops) for from $48 to $475. All our goods are made upon honor, and we send to any part of the world on test trial, and if no pleasure, no keepee, as the Chinaman would say. For the past ten years we have sent both Pianos and Organs to every part of the world, and our instruments give the most universal satisfaction. If you wish a good instrument, one that will always last you, we shall be pleased to send you our catalogue and prices; and if you purchase one of the Thomas Brothers' Silver Tone Instruments you will get what you require, and one instrument sold in a neighborhood always sells us more. Address, for prices, etc.,

JAS. H. THOMAS,
Successor to Thomas Brothers,
Catskill, N. Y., U. S. A.
