

THE CZAR OF ALL THE RUSSIAS seems at last to be coming to his senses. It will be remembered that his father had matured plans for reform which would have given Russia some degree of self-government and appeased the popular party—but his assassination prevented his carrying out his scheme. His son contrary to general expectation suddenly dismissed Gen. Melikoff who was evidently the leader of liberalism in Russia, and surrounded his throne with men who opposed all measures tending towards responsible government. Now, however, he has surprised the world by once more taking up the scheme for reforming the administration, and as a guarantee that the reform will be thorough and speedy, he has placed Melikoff again at the head of the commission. It is to be hoped that wisdom has not come to him too late. The postponement of the Czar's coronation for a year is understood to have been in order that the reforms which it is hoped will bring peace and happiness to that troubled country, may be effected in the interim. All good people will be pleased if the new move has been inaugurated in time to let down the burdens gently without breaking things, but history does not warrant us in entertaining much hope.

THE DISTRESS OF THE HEBREW RACE is still increasing, and bids fair to open the Eastern question anew. Persecuted and driven from Russia, some of these unhappy people sought an asylum in their old home in the Holy Land. There they are receiving even worse treatment. The inhumanity of the Sultan to the Jewish refugees is said to be daily increasing, and it may yet furnish grounds for the last count in the long dark indictment against the great Mahomedan Power. Some of these Russian Jews are seeking for peaceful homes in America. Large numbers of them are reported to have arrived in New York, while some have joined the hosts of emigrants who are moving into our own North West.

TELEGRAPHIC COMBINATIONS, like railway syndicates are the order of the day. One of the latest of these developments has been a combination of all the Atlantic cable companies, under one system of management. In this arrangement we observe that the Great Western Union Telegraph Company have managed to get a controlling influence, so that it now virtually controls both the land and ocean systems of telegraphy on this continent. One of the first results of this monopoly has been to raise the price of ocean messages to just double the former rate. This will not tend to make the combination popular.

GARIBALDI.

General Giuseppe Garibaldi, patriot and liberator, died at his home at Caprera on Monday the 5th inst. No name in the history of modern Italy, shines with a purer or more brilliant light. He was a hero of a noble type. Earnest and sincere, honest and unselfish, he was one of the greatest leaders of modern times. His career has no parallel in history, he did more perhaps than any other man to raise a prostrate nation to an honorable position among the peoples of the world. He loved Italy his native land, above all earthly objects, but his sympathy and friendly help was always enlisted in the struggle for freedom in all parts of the world. The record of the simple facts of his life reads like a romance or an epic. His father was a sailor and he followed the sea until his 28th year, after which he devoted his life to the service of his down-trodden country. He was several times severely wounded in engagements, which nearly terminated his life—twice he was taken prisoner and had the death sentence passed upon him, but he escaped into exile, once he was severely tortured for refusing to disclose his compatriots. During one of his periods of exile in South America, he espoused the cause of the Argentine Republic, and performed such valuable services in defending that country against the Brazilians as to receive the popular title of "The hero of Montevideo." Returning to Italy, he joined his fortunes with the King of Sardinia, and for him succeeded in freeing Italy from Bourbon rule, and finally in uniting the several Kingdoms into one free and united country, with Victor Emanuel, as sovereign. He was an implacable enemy of the Papacy and contributed much in depriving the Roman Pontiff of his temporal power. Upon the formation of the Republic, he offered his services to France in 1870, and gained the only advantage on their side of the whole of that sanguinary war. Under all circumstances he believed that the right was always, and everywhere expedient, and acting simply and uncompromisingly upon this principle his acts were sublime. His name will live in history as one who with singleness of aim, devoted his life to the liberation of his country, and he lived to see that for which he fought and suffered accomplished. Several cities have laid claim to his honored remains, which for the present are temporarily entombed at Caprera, but Rome will probably be his final sepulchre. He is said to have originated the popular phrase, "the Bible—is the cannon that must liberate Italy." The truth is having sway in that priest-ridden country, and there can, and will, only be true freedom coming, when the truth shall make them free.

EPISCOPAL.—John P. Mott, Esq., of Dartmouth, has recently sent the Lord Bishop of the Diocese a cheque for a $1,000 towards the Endowment Fund of King's College, Windsor. The same gentleman has generously contributed $20 to the Building Fund of the North Common Mission Building. At a special meeting of the parishioners of Christ Church, Dartmouth recently held, the decision of the Easter meeting to build a Rectory on the north-east corner of the church ground was confirmed by a large majority. The proposed building will cost about $3,000.

The Guardian in calling upon Churchmen to "awake" brings to bear upon them questions such as the following:—

"Are you prepared to see yourselves outstripped in the race by those who were born in your cradle, whom your arms have fondled, who have drawn the milk which sustains their infant life from the breast of your own Spiritual Mother? Are you ready to stand by and see them, as they grow to maturity, snatch your own children from your very embrace, and by their zeal and restless activity pass you by in the contest for the Master's honour! Will you calmly look on while you are resolutely thrust aside and told to stand out of the way, to make room for more burning love and more ardent longing for souls?"

The withdrawal of $2,000 a year by the S.P.G., will bring an additional tax on the resources of the Church in this province.

A correspondent in the same paper argues that none but a Bishop is authorized to administer the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. We quite agree with this view, but then we believe that every pastor of a church is a bishop.

THE Presbyterian Witness in an article on "Neglect of Infant baptism" says "it is too true we fear that in many churches in the United States parents who profess to believe in infant baptism, neglect to live up to their belief," and gives his readers some exhortations on the matter. "Train up your children for the Lord, else your vows and their baptism, are a solemn mockery. Far, far better is the Baptist who conscientiously refrains from the baptism of his children, yet trains them in the way of righteousness and leads them to the Saviour."

We find in one of the telegrams of Monday last, from Ottawa, the following:—

The leading Baptists of Toronto are about establishing a Baptist Publication Society. Hon. Wm. McMaster has pledged $30,000 to the project.

REV. J. L. M. YOUNG, from Illinois has been on a visit to Halifax the past week. He preached an able sermon in Granville Street Church on Sunday morning last. He also preached in the North Church in the evening, and on the previous Lord's Day.

DR. WILLARD, of Providence, R.I., formerly teacher in Horton Academy, preached in Dartmouth on Sunday evening last.

I was given up by the Doctors but am nearly cured by Gates' Medicine.

SPRINGHILL MINES, Aug. 3rd, 1881. MESSRS. C. GATES' SON & Co.— Your preparations given to the public as a cure for Asthma and Consumption may be considered reliable in my experience. My neighbors can also say the same of me. They had no hope whatever, and advised my wife to spend no more money on me, thinking it was no use, as I had been given up by the doctors; but I thought I would try your medicines; and consider that it is by their use only that I am living and maintaining my family by my own work. The doctors advised me not to take it, because they said when the cough stopped I would not live 24 hours; but I am alive, thanks to GATES' MEDICINES, and am doing better than I have been for a great many years. KENNETH MCGILVARY.

The above statement was sworn to as correct in every particular, by the above named Kenneth McGilvary, before me, at Spring Hill, this 4th day of Aug., 1881. R. D. DRUMMOND, J. P.
