Ex-Secretary Evarts tells a delight ful story, at his own expense, about a small donkey which he sent up to his country-seat for the use of his children. One of his little daughters, going out with her nurse to admire the animal in its paddock, was sorely depressed when very little and in its sunniest corner should be the donkey lifted up his voice and he invalid's chair, the grandmother's brayed dolefully. 'Poor thing! Poor thing I' exclaimed the sympathetic child, In rooms into which the sun Lever | but suddenly brightened up, she turned hines, recourse must be had to to her nurse and said: Oh, I am so arious devices to make up, so far glad. Papa will be here on Saturday,

> For a little lady of two and a half years this will do: She had picked up a cane in the corner of the room, and was playing with it-a plain stick bent at the end. Papa asked: "What are you doing with the cane?" " It isn't a cane." "What is it, then?" It's an umbrella without any clothes on it."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Ir is a most agreeable dressing, which s at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, ight, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep lack, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brashy, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the umors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.
