in Paris that there are always plenty of people found in the private establish ments, undergoing the procass of being "rooked" by the clever indivituals whose field of operations is restricted to the gatherings which are without the paie of the law. Only a few days ago a squad of police agents visited a clandestine gaming house, where more than thirty players were found around the c'oth. At the appearance of the intruders the guests at the green board were seized with a general panic, and while some jumped through the window into a small garden in the rear, others attempted to scale a wall, but, on reaching the streets, they found themselves in the midst of a band of policemen, who took them immediately into custody AUGUST.

BISMARCK IN THE REICHSTAG.

BERLIN, April 11, 1883. I had the opportunity of listening to Count B'smarck delivering a speech upon the Custom Tariff bill in the Reichstag the other day. Before even hearing a worl, you can tell by the aspect of the Chamber that it is the Chancellor who is speaking. With their bodies stretched out and their ears wide open everybody leans forward to listen The pencils of the shorthand writers fly over the paper with the rapidity of lightning, and you hold your breath involuntarily that you may hear better.

Mr. James Outhouse was a man much respected in the community, both as a citizen and a Christian. More than 40 years ago he professed religion, and united with the Baptist church, of which he continued a zealous member till his death. As the end approached his faith remained unshaken, and his joy in Christ was very great. Like Paul, in this he believed that he was going to be "with Christ," and to him this would be "far better" than anything he c:uld experience on earth. "Absent from the body, present with the Lirl," was his confident expectation. Murpherson much divine, May trials well endure." Dur-brother leaves an aged widow, a large family and family connection. It is devoutly hoped that they all may know as much of Christ, and experience as much of the joy of His great salvation as did the departed. Monomas much of M. E. They traveled as far as Phenice, or Phenicia, a strip of country lying on the northwest of Palestine, of which Tyre and Sidon were principal cities. And Oyprus. The nearest large island in the Mediterranean; the birthplace of Barnabas, and noted then for its luxury and licentiousness. And Anti- och. The capital of Syria, A large and splendid city; the queen of the east; in which were gathered representatives of every nation and language; one of the mightiest and most wicked of cities. It soon became a great missionary centre. Some of these scattered dis ciples, being Juleans, preached, as was natural, to the Jews only. But others of them were Hellenistic or Greek- speaking Jews of Cyprus and Cyrene, who had become Christians at Jeru- salem, and being less affected by the spirit of exclusivism, they spaks unto the Greecians (Greeks) at Antioch, 4. e., to the Gentiles, preaching the Lord Jesus. Thus was a general movement begun towards bringing in the Gentiles. Vs. 21Though the instrument was human, the power was divine. The hand (symbol of power) of the Lord was with them. See Luke 1. 66. LESSON THOUGHT: - Preaching and giving. TRUTHS TO BE TAUGHT: - 1. Every believer is a messenger of Jesus to spread his gospel. 2. Jesus is with them who do well. 3. Fullness of the Holy Spirit is a condition to success. 4. The name of Christian is a great honor. Every one should give accord- ing to ability. Those who hated the followers of Jesus, drove them away from their homes. It was like a fierce wind scat- tering seed. These Christians went to various places, but everywhere, like good seed, they bore fruit; that is, they preached Jesus. Our lesson is full of journeys, but every journey has to do with spreading the news of Jesus. These people were like lights carried to various dark places. They always shone bright for Jesus. They were true mis- sionaries. They were witnesses for Jesus, In verse 21 we learn three	Try and place such letters as you may thus form into, upwards of twenty such words. Others have done but little, and these have wrought so long and well that they have been left to carry, on the work alone. A few years since an American Methodist visiting the Hot Lakes for his health found the natives in that dis- trict almost neglected ; his heart was stirred within him ; he sought for help in vain from the traditional sources, and he fell back gladly on the opportunity of assistance from the Baptists. The first outlay being met by Mr. C. He Spurgeon, Mr. Fairbrother was des- patched to the field, and the last mail reports his public consecration to the work with the hearty approbat on of the Wesleyans, who are unable to take it up.
