He pulled out a parcel wrapped up in a piece of silk, and gradually unrolled fold after fold, and brought out a tract. It was "The True Refuge," a tract that has been of very great value in India, and one that was printed by the aid of the Tract Society. This tract I knew well: it was written by the sainted Pearce. I said: "What do you know about it?" I examined him carefully, and I found that he knew every part of the tract, that he could repeat all the principal truths that it contained. said, "What do you do?" He said, "I have got in this districts a large number | Christian literature. (Applause.) of disciples, and I stay a week in one village, and a fortnight in another small town. I travel from place to place, and this is my text-book. I everywhere read this tract." It contained a comparison between Hindooism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity. I said, "Do the people believe?" He said. "There are numbers in all this district that not only listen to, but receive and believe in them." I said, "How is it that you do not profess Christianity?" He said, " If I did, it would make me an outcast. I am doing now a great work, and I am preparing the people for the time when ere long all shall profess Christianity. If now I separated myself, I should be made an outcast. I could not read my tract again whereever I went. I should not be able to get the people to feed me, but now they believe what I say. I am doing a great deal towards spreading the truth." mutiny was over and the city had been retaken, one of the Sikh regiments found a number of tracts that had been distributed by our missionary in a house they plundered. They took them with them up to the Punjaub; and there they began to read them, and there was a movement at once in tayour of Chris. tianity and that regiment at this presit. (Applause.) You cannot tell the value of tracts. One little tract can go where the missionary never has been. We have heard about Central Asia; we have sent lots of books into Afghanistan, and sometimes we have got men to take them who were on the way to Bokhara, into Central Asia, into places that were closed against the missionary but are not closed against the tracts commendation since the letter had been provided by this society. Here is another instance. Not more than six weeks ago one of our colporteurs was travelling about with the Tract Society's goods, and he came to a river-one of receiving him upon that letter, since it the small rivers between Bengal and the had been made null and void by his North-west Provinces-and there he act.

THE JULY CENTURY will contain four letters by Emerson, dating from the years immediately following his departure from college. It is said they throw much light on his early views, and on his admiration of Walter Scott's novels.

GENERAL CHARLES P. STONE, "Stone Pasha," of the Egyptian army, who is at present visiting New York, has written for the July CENTURY a paper describing the events which came under his notice in Washington on the Marshall, 50 cts.; Charles Warne, 1; eve of the Civil War. The capital was at that time left without troops, either militia or regular, the former having been abandoned, and the latter designedly sent away to distant points through the influence of Southern sympathizers. General Stone tells also much that is new regarding the precautions taken to insure the satety of Mr. Lincoln in his memorable journey to the White House | Mrs. Levi Goggins, 1; James Gower, 1; in March, 1861.

News of the World.

A terrible calamity involving the death of one hundred and eighty eight children occurred in the town of Sunderland, in the County of Durham on Saturday evening. From details thus far received it appears an entertainment had been given in Victoria Hall by a conjurer, which was attended almost altogether bychildren, several hundreds being in attendance. The accident occurred at the close of the performance. The body of the ball being entirely cleared of its occupants, some 1,200 little ones came rushing down stairs from the gallery. At the top of the first flight of stairs there was a door which opened only about twenty inches, permitting but one child to pass through at a time. At this point, while a mass of children were pushing forward, one fell and was unable to rise owing to the others crowding on. The result was, a great number were pushed down, trampled on and suffocated. No effort could stop the mad rush of the affrighted children. They came on pell-mell, and soon 178 of them were knocked down and suffocated by the others trampling upon them. The greater number of the bodies which were badly mangled from trampling laid seven or eight deep. Many of the victims, and others who were not killed, had their clothing torn from their bodies and together with the bleeding bodies of the unfortunates, showed the terrible nature of the struggle. The ages of the one hundred and eighty eight children known to have been killed ranged from four to fourteen years. The work of getting out the bodies of the victims was begun immediately. They were laid in the hall and the parents of those killed were admitted for the purpose of identifying the bodies of their children. Heartrending scenes transpired while this was in progress.

A tenement house in Inverness, Mich., was burned on Thursday and The British ship Hospodar, at Queenstown from San Francisco, lost and sustained other damage. On Thursday.night the British House of Commons passed the bill providing Invigorating Syrup for grants of money to Lord Alcester (Admiral Seymore) and Lord Wolsey for services rendered during the late Egyptian war.

A missionary named Schroeder has been murdered in Zululand. The treaty of Commerce between England and Italy has been signed.

The second trial of the "Star Route" swindlers in connection with the Post Life of Man Bitters, No. 2 and Office Department has resulted in another acquittal. This is evidently a miscarriage of justice.

The card of W. R. Mulholland, late of Truro, appears in Dakota papers, as an Architect. The weather this week has been very warm in New York, many cases of sun stroke are reported and lightning has done much damage. The National debt was decreased by nearly $5,000,000 in May. At the present rate of payment the entire debt will be paid off in less than ten years.

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AVER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores. "Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles with the result that the sores are healed and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me.
Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."

to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AVER'S SARSAPA-RILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.
