He who is so guided, so willingly donia crying unto him 'Come over and needed light, enslaved and suffering. Reading. Gottespondence. Sunday help us.' And away he goes with they needed deliverance-living in led, so ready to obey, and to work is darkness and dying in despair, they sure of success. He bears with him most blessed results. For the Christian Messenger. needed hope and salvation. And the the elements of prosperity. God is For the Christian Messenger. In connection with the truth reveal Canticles iv. 16. Macedonian is the symbol of humanity. Ethical Culture and Spiritual Life with him in all he does. He is the ed here, we can learn three things : In this confession of need the Christian 1. In the divine supervision under originator of all plans, the mainspring Awake ! oh wind so fierce and strong, There is a co-operation of man with which the apostle moved, the Christian | hears the sad acknowledgement of the of all efforts. The Holy Spirit goes Thou north wind of adversity ; God in all processes of our salvation from learns that God guides him. before and marks the way, calls him Your wildest gales but bear along, world's helplessness and want. And that Evil which is the death of the soul The trials that shall perfect me. into it, helps him walk upon it, brings 2. In the cry of the Macedonian this want he sees everywhere, in his and these process are continuous. The Yes, faith shall strengthen, courage grow, the Christian learns that the world own family, the community, the land ; him on through all labors and difficul-Christian's warfare, the noblest warfare Beneath those trials rightly borne ties to the desired end. needs him and calls for help. among the ignorant, the oppressed, the of all, goes on until the soul may have The roseate hues of hope shall glow, obtained that Kantian freedom of the 3. In the blessed results of the immoral and the vicious, specially he How true was this of Paul. His More bright than flushings of the morn. will wherein it voluntarily and naturally sees it in the multiform and nameless path to the sea ordered, God's hand apostle's labors, the Christian learns, Thou too, oh sweet south wind, and mild, chooses ever only the good. True Chrisevils that riot in the superstition and beckoning him across it, how quickly that success attends him. O'er my heart garden gently move; tianity is a life dominated by the love and with what assurance of success he These three inspiring truths, so brutality of the heathen nations. Noth-That there may be, nor rude, nor wild, the Fulness of Light. and practice of righteousness. The But pleasant fruits for Him I love. ing is clearer to his eye than that hupu-hes from the Asiatic shore! He admirably illustrated by the case in work to be done by us is to be done as Love, joy, and peace, and gentleness, manity is degraded, enfeebled and hand, will occupy our attention. lingers not, turns not aside, but on though it were from ourselves alone, yet Shall flourish 'neath the genial rays 1. God guides the Christian. Philippi the chief city he hastens, imhelpless in sin. with a supreme reliance on God. The Of the mild Sun of Righteousness, The fact of divine guidance is fun-And in the call of the Macedonian, patient to make known ' the unsearchtwo halves of the perfect sphere are God And meekness, temperance, crown my the Christian hears the pathetic cry of able riches of Christ.' Quickly he is working in us and men working with damental to the scheme of redemption, days. a suffering and despairing world. And God in the onward march towards the at work. He finds the praying place and is demonstrated by all God's dealrealization of our destiny. That boundings with His people. In the earliest help and relief he can bring. His and makes it a preaching place. The Christian Missions. less destiny which is ours through Christ times His servants walked by His lead. ability is marked, his gifts peculiar. hand was there before him, had brought and which it has not entered into the A SEBMON PREACHED IN THE NORTH The frequent promise that it should be | Said Peter to the cripple, 'Such as I him to the spot, and spoke through his heart of man to concieve of. I say HALIFAX, ON CHURCH, BAPTIST so was verified by patriarch, prophet, have give I thee.' By the power of lips. And the first speech for Christ SABBATH MORNING, FEB. 14TH. through Christ, because through his Christ he was able to afford not tem king and people. in Europe was effective. One soul universal and tireless Love he has ever 1884. In the Christian dispensation the porary and partial relief, but complete imparted and is ever imparting spiritual justice of the Universal Father were was converted, and around Lydia and BY THE REV. J. W. MANNING. same fact obtains, if possible, greater and permanent restoration. So, by the in her house was speedily gathered a life to our very ungrateful wor.d. This work has been going on from the beginn-(Published by request.) prominence and distinctness. Christ grace of the Master, the Christian can company of believers in Jesus. And ing and through a thousand instrumencarry to the needy world the help it so it is always. Willing work under promised the Holy Spirit to be an " Come over into Macedonia, and help talities, all infinitely wise. For the abiding presence, to instruct, guide, requires. He has instruction for its divine guidance insures success. To us." Acts xvi. 9. Christ is God manifested to man. comfort and defend. And from that ignorance, light for its darkness, cure Four hundred years before 'the be where and to do what God desires,

CHRISTIAN MESSENGER.

vision ' of our text, a warrior arose in Macedonia, who is known to history and to tame as Alexander the Great. His ambition was to unite all nations into one vast empire with common laws day to this He has been such a univer- for its disease, hope for its despair, lite must bring prosperity. sal divine presence, not only superin- for its death. And his help is sufficient tending the lives of individual Chrisand satisfactory. He is the dispenser tians, but moving in the forefront of of an infinite bounty. The storehouses the world's civilization and gradually of an unlimited supply are open to him, and languages-all flowing from one fashioning it to the Christian model. and from them he bears to suffering throne. In the work which he had And the early Christians verified in humanity, good of every name and themselves the promise of the departing good alone. And none but the Chris-Saviour. Yielding their wills to the tian can do it. To all others has the divine will, God worked in them 'to world turned for help, and turned in Coming into vain. The history of humanity is will and to do.' glorious gospel of God's Son was first harmony with the divine plans, they story of its wretchedness on the one were conducted by the hand of God hand and of its struggles for relief on along the lines of His choosing. the other. Every effort has been put How nobly is this illustrated in the forth, but no relief has come. At last present instance. It is plain that Paul to the Christian the world holds forth intended to evangelize the provinces of imploring hands and raises the beseech the side of Alexander such legions gath- Asia Minor. He tried to go to one ing cry, . Come to our help, you alone ered, as swept every thing before them place, then another and was thwarted can save. And when we think of the multitudes thus appealing-and regard their danhad not come for planting the seeds ger-the very thought is heart rending We either boast of the missionary however made, was enough. Not but spirit of the church, or else we are so that he might have pushed on into selfish and indifferent to any thing save Asia, not that he was violently conour own ease and comfort, that we trolled ; but his will, responsive to the forget that 1,000,000,000 of our divine will, yielded instantly and cheerrace have not yet heard that there is a fully to the divine wish. The vision of Christ, and of every three persons or the surface of the globe two have never the Macedonian cleared up the mystery seen a Bible. Of the more than 31,pointed out the field of future toil and 000,000 of souls that will pass into conquest. The Lord was calling him to preach the gospel across the sea. eternity this year, it is safe to assert that more than 20,000 000 of them will die Such guidance is the blessed privilege in utter ignorance of that gospel which of the Christian to-day. The pro Jesus Christ commanded His disciples mise of the Master is unrestricted. Fulness of the Spirit and guidance by more than 1800 years ago to ' teach all nations.' Appalling fact-to you and His wisdom are peculiar to no class or me the call comes. It is no trifle. It is age. They are the common inheritance not a thing that we can put away from of Christians in all ages. Not that it has ever been perfectly realized; us and treat as optional to heed or no as we happen to feel about it. The because no will, save one, was ever Christian must heed the call. The help always perfectly in accord with the he must render. His own good, man's divine will. Not that it is realized so salvation, and God's glory all depend uniformly or to such an extent at the upon it. And herein lies his duty. present time as in the early days of here he shows his loyalty. To refuse Christianity. But it might be. The is to put himself out of divine guidance difference is not due to God, but to -outside of God's gracious plans for man. There is no reason on the his own growth, and the world's profit The circumstances in connection divine side why Christians may not be through him. To the question, 'Am may no doubt he instructive. If you lead to-day as well as in the days of the I my brother's keeper ?' the Christian apostles. And the necessary conditions must ever unhesitatingly answer, * are not hard to comprehend. A simple his keeper-I desire and aim to am keep him in all interests, material, social, steadtast faith in God's personal and moral and spiritual to the extent of my in adjacent countries. I might speak of loving watch and care, a will ready to power.' And in a travailing world he yield and obey, to be and to do what beholds not only needy brethren, but ever He desires, absorbed, so tar suffering Saviour. Working for it, he works tor Him. In its poverty and cheerful obedience to every known destitution he sees Christ hungry, thirswish of God, a conscientious cultivation of the spiritual life whereby it becomes ty, naked, and bastens to his relief. In the homeless and restless sons of men quick to catch intimations of the divine Spirit, and grows sensitive to the he beholds Christ a stranger, and hurries to take Him in. In the multiheavenly impulses, these things insure tudes of the discouraged, heart-broken, guidance by the Spirit of God. As done! Brethren lift up your eyes and distressed, he sees Christ sick, and runs iron placed near a magnet becomes see. magnetic, so a soul in conscious fello «to visit Him. In the millions enslaved ship with Christ becomes Christ-like. in heathenism, superstition and false An indwelling spirit makes us Chrisreligion, he sees Christ in prison and hastens with sympathy, comfort and tians. But the second thought is, II. The world needs the Christian release. No man can rightly bear the Christian name who refuses by prayer, and calls him. by gifts, by words, by labor of the very generally ignorant of our peculiar As God's servant the Christian works hand to bring the blessing of for the world. All God's guidance of him is for the world's weal. Fearful gospel to the needy and suffering at is its want. 'In itself there is neither home and abroad. Light, comfort, hope nor help, and out of its weakness hope, salvation, he has to give. To this it our pastors are careful to give simply high service the world calls him. To and want comes the cry for rescue and this unspeakable honor God appoints Said the Macedonian to Paul, 'Come | him. And now finally, III. Success attends the Christian.

. 5.

- 17 3

2

See what has been done by the people of God. You have seen what there was to be done.

The bible has been translated into Faithfulness to the Light of God in the light you have. This Light in the conmore than 250 languages, nearly 7000 missionaries and over 40,000 assistant laborers in the field, in India, China, Japan, Syria, Africa, Mexico and the South Sea Islands, besides all that is done in Europe, schools, colleges and churches, planted at 10,000 points nearly 1,000,000 members in mission churches, and more than a score of grand missionary societies annually expending from $15,000,000 to $20,-000,000, in the home and foreign field. Troly we can say 'What has God wrought ?' Take the progress of our own denomination in these Provinces. Thirty years ago there were about 16,000 church members. To-day there are about 38,000. The churches have more than doubled during that time And this has been effected by the use of such means as you and I have employed and in the way we have employed them, but had the enthusiasm energy and zeal of Paul been ours what might have been the result? Take another instance in Foreign work. Within two weeks the death of Dr. J G. Oncken, of Germany has been announced in his 84th year. The study of the New Testament, convinced him that he ought to be a Baptist, and he with six other believers were baptized in the Elbe at Altona near Hamburg 50 years ago, the 22ad April, 1834. Prof. Sears then studying at one of the Ger man universities administered the ordinance. . The baptism took place at night because it could not be done safely by daylight. The persecution encountered would seem incredible when the country is considered, Protestant Germany-the home of Luther -whose 400th anniversary has been so justly celebrated if these facts were not known. But the work has gone on until now the German mission numbers not in its genuine and Divine signifi. in doubt as to these supreme facts. But 146 churches with about 30,000 memcalce, wherein it works along the lines bers, not to speak of the large number of the Conscience and stead ly uplifts of churches which have been gathered and sanctifies the soul without doing violence to its God-born instincts and the progress of Baptist New Testament intentions. In the case of this young man, the God principles-in Lutheran Sweden-also in his conscience prevailed. The voice among the heathen of Burma, and thoroughly known to be Divine was Southern India, or on our mission fields; but time forbids. The success which has attended the efforts of God's people is an index of what shall be. Oh ! if the Spiritual Life. It does not appear that this is conferred by the Divine Love require you to sacrifice your honest and so long as the human will consciously God-given convictions. It does ask you chooses darkness rather than Light. to be exceedingly faithful to all the conscience is most worthy and leads science is a rare and spiritual force. into the spiritual life. We are not at worthy of conservation. pointing its once, altogether and unconditionally finger ever toward that life which is hid saved by any one supreme act of God, with Christ in God. If you should say Tue Spirit may yet be grieved, may yet you do not know what I mean by this even be quenched. Every branch in Christ that beareth not fuit is taken away. The Christ tells certain Jews who believed on him that if they continue in his word they shall be his disciples indeed, and they shall know the Truth and described, other souls come in quite the Truth shall make them free. There is a cooperation of man with God in all the continuous processes of our salvation from that Evil which is Death. If it mean anything Christianity means character. This is the thought of the Rev Pailips Brooks of Boston, one of Joseph Cook, permit me here to quote the great lights in Evangelical Theology. I heard him emphasize this thought four Lecture : "Let me make this clear by years ago in Boston Music Hall. Char acter can not always be estimated by his college days, man but by God. Men are not always He doubled nearly every religious capable of judging righteous judgement. proposition that had been brought to In the all seeing eye of Jurice which is the eye of God, the environment, the struggle, the Godward aspiration, are the list of the t achers who had not determining rather than the actual attainment. That ought to be an axiomatic consideration. I know a man-and I have been for a long time intimately conversant with his course and character-who regrets ex eedingly that at an early period of his life he received erroneou, instruction from certain well-meaning but uninformed ministers of the Word. He was assured that this principal of E hical life working within him from his earliest remembrance was not of God, did not pertain to the kingdom of the Christ. Now the fact was that this Ethical life asserting itself in him was a coal of fire off the altar of the Most High God. He was assured that these yearnings of his moral sense after actual righteousness in heart and life were vanity, that they must be ignored and the Word received unconditionally in their stead. The docurine of justification by faith was pressed upon his attention-faith in Christ in its formal and external sense, critical bour of his early life, that he was harmony between the Christ in the conscience and the Christ in the Word. The one supplements the other. In and through all the Spirit of God works along the lines of law. It is written in the prophets, "and they shall all be taught of God. Every one that hath heard from the Father, and hath learned, cometh unto me. Not that any one hath seen the Father." All men who have in the spirit of reverence and love for the Truth learned from God in nature and in the conscience, naturally come to the Christ, when they understand in some degree his nature and his wisdom. For they gladly see in Him And slthough many a man has been taught of God measurably and clearly,

MARCH 12 1884.

to wil

The

Calvin

ianisu

tianit

omati

lead :

light

to th

of ae

the S

Spirit

His V

• The

that f

dome

total,

He st

the i

leads

eous

ters (

upon

to u

inde

New

time

made

possi

and

Holy

decla

into

the '

of a

Divi

effec

thor

The

iner

its v

"Th

A li

0

cert

of t

the

The

per

the

libe

bec

the

for

sho

of

1

sup

Gla

live

Ane

Ch

ent

fait

ner

bel

fil

the

ele

all

pe

the sin

to

th

E ar at vi

Is

yet no man, save the Son of Man, hath seen God at any time, that is, hath entered into the full realization of His perfect holiness, His Spiritual Being. To this young man who had for long years lived in the darkness, yet not by any means altogether in the darkness. the di-coveries above referred to were a day of rejoicing. It was a day on the Heights. The love and wisdom and abundantly conjugated and displayed. He breathed the air of spiritual disenthralment and he sang songs of praise and thank-giving! Clearer light and an abiding and rational faith were vouch-Eternal Life may also be denominated safed. True Christianity, young men who may read this paper, does not undertaken and to which he gave himself with such fiery zeal he built better than he knew. By the rapid spread of the language in which the given to man, he helped to fill the world faster with the wonderful worda of life. But our attention is directed in. the passage before us to a greater than Alexander. Contrast their methods. By which dared to lift itself in opposition ; in each endeavor. In some way God by the side of Paul there are only two made it known to him that the time or three disciples who have joined him in this daring enterprise of crossing the of Christian truth. That intimation, Ægean, and capturing the nations of Europe for Him who said ' Go ye into all the world.' Paul might have rest ed on what he had done in Asia, or have been satisfied with confirming the faith of those disciples who had already through his words received the Lord Jesus Christ into their hearts as Saviour and Lord. But his heart had been filled with a burning desire to tell others what the Lord of life had done for him, and he could not keep still. The fire was in his bones, and constrained by the great love of his Saviour he must move on. Like Alexander, the aposile could not be satisfied while there was another kingdom to be won. The hero of battles won his victories by the sword and by the might of his own strong arm, but the herald of the cross knew that he should be victorious 'not by might nor by power but by the sword of the Spirit which is the word of God.' And he never flinched or faltered. His faith was strong.

with the text are not uninteresting and filled with the Spirit, and enjoy His look at the verse which immediately precedes it, you will find that the apostle 'had gone through' Phrygia and the region of Galatia and was forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the Word in Asia. The intention of the apostle and his companions evidently possible, in God's will and work, a was 'to preach the word in Asia' but they were not allowed to carry their intentions into effect. God interfered to prevent it. Paul had no doubt prayed to be directed aright; but to keep faith in exercise he was permitted, in the first instance to determine wrong. Then you read ' After they were come to Mysia they assayed to go into Bithynia, but the Spirit suffered them not.' In this you see that they were as men only feeling their way, it seemed to them, that Asia being closed Bithynia presented the most desirable field of labor and accordingly they took measures for entering that province. But again they are proved wrong. They were not to go thither. Where then was their field of labor? They seemed to be shut in on every side. But the suspense does not last relief. long. Their destination is revealed. in a vision. Paul sees a man of Mace. over and help us.' Ignorant, they Light in the conscience, then I am sure I could not impart to you my understanding of it. It deserves to be said just here that while some souls come to God in ways similar to that above other ways. We must not dare limit the operations of the Universal Spirit of God. The wind bloweth where it listeth. Lest in previous communications I may be thought to have given undue promisence to certain views of the Rev. fully and verbatim from his Second a single example. Horace Bushnell in m st an infidål. his attention A revival was sweeping turough the college and he was nearly yielded to its influence. One evening, pacing up and down his room, in the desolation of his sc prici-m, he said to himself: 'There is one thing I have always beli-ved I have never doubted that there is a distinction between right and wro g' Conscience has a direct intuition of the difference between motives. Certain motives conscience does intuitively perceive to be right, and others it intui ively perceives to be wrong H race Bushnell, by the blessing of heaven, bethought hims-lf of his duy in a protical way. He asked: 'H ve I ever yielded to this truth which I admit, that there is a difference between right and wrong? Have I ever thrown myself over the line between right and wrong, toward the side of the Right, with full purpose and will to do only the Right? There may be a God. or there may not be a God : there may be immortality or there my not be.' So attocious was his sceptic sm in this 'he kuel in his solitude on this one reef of axiomatic 'truth. He gave himself up to the promptings of con cience and y elded utterly, gladly, affectionately to all he at that time had of light. And in the blackness of the darkness above salt, howling foam of that ocean on which be was trying to find p-ace, a window of heaven was opened, and there came upon him the cl ar convictions that there is a personal God, that there is another life, and that God is ready to hear all who call up n him in sincerity aud in truth. From that hour he never doubted on these points.

reverently accepted as guide. He was not di-loyal to the Light so far as it was perceived. But unfortunately by lovalty to conscience he was led to reject the our hearts were deeply imbued with Word, because he had been taught to believe that its central doctrine clashed the Spirit of Jesus what would be with the teachings of the Christ in his

Moral Sense. For long years this young man was largely shut out from the blessed ministrations of the Christ in the Word, from the high and spiritual and the greater fulness of Light in the Word. But the unwearied love of the Spirit, ever willing the supreme good of human souls, if they will not consciously reject the Truth did not by any means forsake him. By a peculiar and in its results certainly providential combination of circum-tances he was led to examine carefully, honestly, critically, independently the New Testament Scriptures. suggestions are worthy of consideration. God he was led to see, to comprehend your own solvation with fear and tremb-

"Now how did he reach these convictions? I believe that he reached them much as we obtain the intense impression that there is beauty in the world. incomparable Truth in the Word, from by cultivating the love of it and making ourselves impressible by it.

Make yourselt personally fit to perceive beau y, and it will flame upon you from all quarters. Make yourself impressible by the Omnipresent God, and he will spe k through your instincts. You sy that man does not convert himself, and that I am now supposing that what God does is less important than what man does in the conversion The result was that through the grace of of the soul. Not at all. Work our spiritually, that there was a splendid | lung for it is God who worketh in you

A pastor of large and varied experience said to the writer recently, that the times call for more doctrinal preaching, He believed that our people were doctrines as a denomination. In fact, he said, the people want to know what the Bible teaches on all questions, and scriptural views, not theories, the people will be glad to listen and learn. These

-Baltimore Baptist.